FOREWORD

The last full-scale Indian war in Illinois has come to be known as the Black Hawk War of 1832. Although it lasted less than three months, some nine thousand Illinois militiamen were called into active service, and almost one third of the Regular Army was ultimately involved. The war continues to fascinate scholars and laymen alike, both because of an ever-increasing interest in Indian history and also because of the participants who later became famous—among them Albert Sidney Johnston, Winfield Scott, Zachary Taylor, and Abraham Lincoln.

For more than twenty years the Illinois State Historical Library has contemplated publishing its unique collection of manuscripts on that war, but shortages of staff and money have forced frequent postponement of the project. Meanwhile, the manuscripts have been literally worn to shreds and in the future will be used for reference only.

The Black Hawk War Collection was given to the Historical Library at two different times by two different donors, the bulk of the papers coming from the heirs of John Russell, Illinois editor and author who had acquired the documents from Illinois Governor John Reynolds and Brevet Brigadier General Henry Atkinson. (As commander of the Right Wing of the Army's Western Department, Atkinson directed the major part of the military campaign in 1832.) The impossibility of writing to please both the Governor and the General forced Russell to abandon a proposed history of the war, but he retained the documents he had gathered. The other large donor to the collection was the widow of Brigadier General Robert Anderson, who had served as inspector and mustering officer for General Atkinson during the campaign. These papers consisted of his manuscript muster book, original muster rolls, and other related documents, generally dealing with the periods of service and payment of Illinois volunteers. These two collections were stored together for many years before they were cataloged and made available to scholars in the early 1940's by former state historian Paul M. Angle and Margaret A. Flint, then reference librarian. Under Angle's successor, Jay Monaghan, the basic collection (but not the muster rolls) was transcribed and the editorial work was started. Jay and Mildred Monaghan, Hubert G. Schmidt, and Charles M. Knapp each worked for a few months on the papers. Under Monaghan's successors, Harry E. Pratt and Clyde C. Walton, the concept of the publication was considerably enlarged and the present editor was assigned to the project. This volume, then, is the culmination of many years of work and is the first of a contemplated three-volume series brought to press under the direction of State Historian William K. Alderfer.

Up to this time there has been no accurate, complete listing of Illinois volunteers in 1832, and no published record at all for the 1831 companies. The purpose of the present volume is to account for the activities of as many as possible of the 1831 and 1832 Illinois volunteers and, through the Introduction by Dr. Anthony F. C. Wallace, chairman of the Department of Anthropology at the University of Pennsylvania, to present a survey of Indian-American relations that led to the Black Hawk War.

Volumes II and III of this series will consist of letters and documents, 1831-1833, relating to the war. The bulk of these are the orders and letters of General Henry Atkinson, General Winfield Scott, and Governor John Reynolds; but the collection also contains scores of letters of civilians, newspaper stories and editorials, and reports on Indian affairs. From these original documents emerges a panoramic view of a frontier state caught up in what was always referred to as an "Indian war."

Muster rolls of the Illinois men who served in the frontier Indian wars were published by Illinois Adjutant General Isaac H. Elliott in 1882 and reissued in 1902. Those volumes were prepared from handwritten copies of official rolls in Washington, D.C. These manuscript copies, now in the Illinois State Archives, abound in misspelled names, with the errors of the original rolls compounded by faulty transcription. Much of the information on the original rolls was not transcribed, and the rolls themselves often failed to supply such essential facts as place of enrollment and name of the organization to which the unit was attached. The principal failings of Elliott's compilation, however, are its incompleteness and lack of an index.

In 1954, after two previous transfers, the original muster rolls in Washington were placed in the National Archives. At one time the rolls were in the custody of the Treasury; and during those years Brigadier General Fred C. Ainsworth, chief of the War Department's Record and Pension Office, initiated the preparation of an index of all Illinois volunteer companies in the Winnebago War of 1827 and the Black Hawk campaigns of 1831 and 1832. That index has been made available to the editor, and copies of rolls for all companies there listed have been acquired by the Illinois State Historical Library. This volume includes rolls for all of the 1831 and 1832 companies as well as for 2 Indian companies, and 6 additional volunteer companies for which no official mustering rolls can be found, presumably because the irregularity of enrollment and short period of service prevented government recognition and payment. In all, 31 companies are known to have served in the 1831 Black Hawk campaign and 164 in 1832.

In the Anderson papers the Library has (a) 102 original muster rolls for 63 different company and staff units, (b) 4 original army returns, and (c) contemporary copies of 28 additional rolls. The copies are in a bound volume identified hereinafter as the "Anderson Muster Book." On the first page of this book is the dateline, "Ottawa—Illinois—June 10th. 1832." Since Anderson copied into the Muster Book only those rolls of which he did not retain duplicate originals, the copies were probably entered soon after the companies were mustered out, for the original rolls were sent to Washington in the summer and fall of 1832.

The Foreword to the Muster Book, which was added by Anderson in 1869, consists of a statement that he calls an "Abstract of muster rolls giving names of Colonels of Regiments, Genls of Brigades & Captains mustered into or out of the Service by R. A. [Robert Anderson] during the Black Hawk war." He then lists the names of those officers and concludes: "This book gives copies of Muster Rolls or extracts of Rolls embracing all the preceding Mem[oranda] except those relating to the Regts of Illinois Mtd Vol. which are taken from the original Muster Rolls now, March 4th, 1869, in my possession. This book embraces lists of Indian Prisoners taken by me at Rock Island where Genl. Scott placed them under my charge—and also of Black Hawks party brought by me from Prairie du chien to Jefferson Barracks R.A."

Three of the twenty-eight rolls in the Muster Book are merely lists of Indian prisoners or rolls of Indians who were in United States service, and eleven others are extracts that give only company strength and mustering information.

The Black Hawk War Collection does not contain either original rolls or muster-book copies for five companies that Anderson said he mustered—those of Captains George T. Bristow, Walter Butler, William Gillham, William Gordon, and Henry L. Webb—but all of the other originals in Anderson's possession in 1869 are now in the Historical Library.

A second collection containing Illinois muster rolls was purchased by the Library in two parts (in 1940 and in 1953) from the heirs of Frank E. Stevens, Black Hawk War historian and collector. Stevens in turn had obtained most of the rolls in his collection from the heirs of Nathaniel Buckmaster, who was inspector and mustering officer when Whiteside's Brigade was mustered out of service at Ottawa on May 27-28, 1832. The Stevens Collection contains mustering-out rolls prepared at that time as well as rolls signed by John J. Hardin, mustering officer when the brigade was mustered in Beardstown in April, and a third type of listing commonly called a "property roll," which gives the appraised value of each man's arms, accouterments, and horses. There are, altogether, one brigade return and a total of 80 original rolls for 49 company and staff organizations.

Single rolls are also found in the Library's Ricks Collection, Eddy Manuscripts, and Clark County Manuscripts.

The mustering-out rolls now in the National Archives are the most authoritative since they are the official records on which pay was based. The Illinois State Historical Library has obtained photostatic or microfilm copies from the National Archives of the mustering-out rolls for Whiteside's Brigade and for all other companies of which the Black Hawk War Collection does not contain duplicate originals.

In addition to the mustering-in rolls, mustering-out rolls, and property rolls mentioned above, two other kinds of rosters are extant: receipt rolls and bounty land check lists. Receipt rolls, made out by United States Army paymasters, show the pay and allowance due each soldier, and bear each man's signature certifying receipt of pay. (See the roll of Captain Elijah Wilcockson's 1831 company.)

Official records have not been searched for bounty land check lists, which were prepared at the time of issuing land warrants to war veterans under the acts of 1850 and 1855. The rolls of companies in Major David Bailey's Battalion of Chicago Volunteers are of this type.

This volume includes only the rolls of Illinois companies. Illinois militiamen were the preponderant majority of volunteers engaged in the Black Hawk War of 1832, but some companies from adjacent states were also involved. Eighteen companies from Wisconsin (then part of Michigan Territory) in the command of Henry Dodge were paid for service, and most of these men saw active duty in the field at some time during the war. Several companies of Indians were paid for guard duty in the area of Green Bay, Wisconsin; and a company of Wisconsin volunteers under Captain Charles Fullar had similar duty. Four Missouri companies were assigned to guard the Missouri frontier during the summer of 1832, and several hundred volunteers from present-day Michigan were also called to active duty. The latter marched to the southwestern frontier of Michigan, and approximately one hundred Michigan men under Major General John R. Williams of the territorial militia actually ranged the country around Chicago for a short time. A regiment of Indiana Militia also marched to Chicago but remained there only a day or two. A large company of Indianans under Captain Joseph Orr served for several weeks on Hickory Creek and Du Page River in present Will and Du Page counties in northeastern Illinois. At Keokuk, Iowa, then a village of fur traders and half-breeds, a company of "home guards" was on duty under Captain Jenifer Sprigg, a government surveyor. In addition to the Indian guards at Green Bay, several other companies of Potawatomi, Winnebago, and Menominee served with the United States Army in 1832.

The 1831 Indian campaign was of short duration and involved so few men that the organization of the volunteers was simple. In 1832, however, the mustering situation was quite different. The Illinois militiamen, annoyed at being called from their spring planting, found active military campaigning so distasteful that their commanders recommended their discharge after only a month's service, thus necessitating the enrollment of two additional volunteer forces. The first army of about nineteen hundred men was Whiteside's Brigade. After its discharge on May 27-28, some three hundred men from the brigade re-enlisted for an additional twenty days to serve until the third, and largest, volunteer force arrived at the rendezvous at Fort Wilbourn (opposite present La Salle). This third force, organized during the last days of June, consisted of three brigades and numbered approximately three thousand men. For the sake of convenience, the three volunteer forces are designated as the First, Second, and Third Armies. In addition to these commands, other volunteer units were assigned to frontier guard duty and were not attached to any of the three principal armies.

This volume is believed to contain a complete and comprehensive listing of Illinois' Black Hawk War soldiers. Original rolls of volunteer companies were made out at the time of enrollment in the home county, at the time of muster into and out of United States service, and, in some instances, when the property of company members was listed during official enrollment. There is no way of knowing whether property rolls were consistently prepared for all units. Original mustering-in rolls seem to have been retained by the appropriate officer of the regular militia, and duplicate original mustering-out rolls were sometimes retained by the United States Army officer who inspected the companies at the muster-out. Although occasional work lists or property rolls of company members may turn up in the estates of descendants of Black Hawk War soldiers from Illinois, it is highly unlikely that such documents will contain names of Illinois soldiers not included in this volume. There are a few units whose irregular service precluded the preservation of staff rolls or whose staff rolls have been lost; all such instances have been noted. It is unlikely that many new names would appear even on those rolls since most staff officers are also listed on company rolls. A few men were attached to the volunteer and United States forces as commissary assistants or wagoners and baggage haulers, and many of their names appear in the letters about the war, but they were not considered to have been military servicemen.

Editorial Procedures

When an original roll from one of the Library's collections is a satisfactory copy, it is the one chosen for printing. Significant variations in content and in the spelling of proper names between the roll printed here and others in the Library's possession are noted in the first descriptive footnote.

Capitalization, punctuation, and spelling of the originals have been followed with a few minor exceptions: Dashes at the end of sentences have been transcribed as periods, and dashes following terminal periods have been eliminated. Periods between the day of month and the year have been transcribed as commas. Superior letters in contractions and abbreviations have been dropped to line level, and all marks under such letters have been transcribed as periods. For the sake of appearance and ease of reading, all headings, certificates, signatures, and titles have been set in uniform type style, and periods have been dropped after the number in the first column. Rolls for Third Army companies mustered out by Lieutenant Anderson were made out on standard printed forms, but most of the others are entirely handwritten. The descriptive footnote does not differentiate between the two kinds, since the significant content of the document is handwritten in either case.

Most of the original rolls contain at least ten columns, and a larger number is not infrequent. Blank columns and those giving identical information have generally been omitted; such deletions are noted in the first footnote.

The manuscript rolls have countless filing notes and endorsements, most of which are without present value. All are omitted except those supplying information about the company's actual service or giving the name of the paymaster, the paymaster's voucher number, or other pertinent facts about the processing of the roll.

The editor wishes to thank the staffs of the Records Information Section of the General Accounting Office and the War Records Branch of the National Archives for their unfailing courtesy and assistance in searching for documents.

At every stage of preparing the manuscript, staff members of the Historical Library have been generous with their help and criticism. Particular thanks are due to William Foster, who did some of the final editing chores, and to Howard F. Rissler and Mrs. Sadie Shontz for helping see the book through the press.

[ ] Bracketed inserts are of two kinds: they supply letters or words that are obscured, in whole or part, on the original document, and they provide correct spellings or identifications deemed essential in the text.

When IHi is given as the only symbol of location, the document is from the Black Hawk War Collection. Similarly, when DNA is the only symbol of location, the roll is one of those transferred to that agency from the General Accounting Office in 1954. Rolls with record group numbers have been in the custody of the Archives for a much longer time.

The commanding officer of the unit mustered is always considered the hypothetical writer and/or signer of the roll, regardless of the number of additional signers. All mustering certificates and signatures are described separately, either in a footnote or bracketed in the text.

Company members were generally residents of the county in which they first enrolled. But if a company included men from other counties, that information is given in the notes. Unless the men have been positively identified, there are separate index entries for men with identical names who served in companies from different counties in 1831 and 1832. Unless a name is so badly misspelled as to be unrecognizable, corrections have not been noted in the text or notes. Spelling variants found on other rolls and in county and family histories are given in the index in parentheses after the principal name entry, which is the preferred spelling. Since biographical information about many of the volunteers is unavailable, choice of the preferred spelling has often been arbitrary.

PRELUDE TO DISASTER The Course of Indian-White Relations Which Led to the Black Hawk War of 1832

BY

Prologue

In the spring of 1832 a band of Sauk, Fox, and Kickapoo Indians—about one thousand men, women, and children, led by a Sauk warrior named Black Hawk—crossed the Mississippi River into the state of Illinois and proceeded up the Rock River. Their movement was defined by the Governor of Illinois as an invasion. He mobilized militia and demanded the support of the Army of the United States. Federal authorities had already ordered Black Hawk's band to descend the Rock and remove themselves west of the Mississippi, and representatives of the Sauk and Fox tribal councils had advised them similarly. After an initial skirmish between Black Hawk's band, attempting to descend the Rock, and a group of militia blocking their passage, the Indians withdrew north and westward in order more safely to recross the Mississippi above the Wisconsin. They were harassed by pursuing soldiers and finally trapped by federal forces at the mouth of the Bad Axe River, where many were killed. Those who managed to cross the Mississippi were pursued by Sioux, acting at the behest of United States officials; the Sioux killed many more. The Sauk and Fox nation surrendered most of the few survivors of the band to the federal military authorities at Rock Island, and the leaders were imprisoned. The matter was officially closed in the fall of 1832 by treaty at Rock Island in which the Sauk and Fox sold to the United States, at a lower price than earlier negotiations had contemplated, the eastern part of Iowa, bordering on the Mississippi River and containing the lead mines in the vicinity of Dubuque.

Conflicting understandings of the event existed at the time and have persisted since. To most whites on the frontier and in official places it appeared that Black Hawk's band was a war party invading the state of Illinois, bent on attacking the frontier settlements, and threatening to precipitate a general Indian war against the United States. To many whites, furthermore, the action of Black Hawk's band was an action sanctioned, if not directed, by the Sauk and Fox nation. The response, consequently, by white men of such opinion, was not merely protestation but armed resistance, first by militia and second by the Army of the United States, which mobilized large numbers of men and dispatched them, first from St. Louis and then, despite the cholera epidemic that was sweeping the continent, from the East Coast through Chicago to the scene of conflict in Illinois and Wisconsin. Federal officials, however, in the end did not hold the Sauk and Fox nation responsible for the war, even though they made use, in the treaty, of the diplomatic disadvantage under which the recent events placed the Sauk and Fox negotiators.

By Indians, the "war" was viewed very differently, and not all Indians viewed it alike. Sauk and Fox chiefs and their spokesmen regarded it as a foolish and catastrophic gesture by a chronic malcontent and his faction. The Sauk and Fox nation, through their traditional representatives, had for years been making the best of a difficult frontier relationship, maintaining peace with the advancing whites on the east while acquiring new hunting grounds of their own to the westward. Black Hawk's return to the lands on Rock River, while understandable emotionally, thus merely embarrassed the Sauk and Fox leaders in their efforts to carry out the peace-and-orderly-withdrawal policy.

Black Hawk and his band saw the "war" in a third light. Inspired by legalistic arguments, based on traditional native understandings and misunderstandings of earlier treaties, they regarded the Rock River area as Sauk and Fox property. Hence, in their own eyes, they were merely asserting their legal rights in returning to it. Furthermore, they were bemused by the apocalyptic teachings of the Winnebago Prophet, who dreamed of a renaissance of native civilization, and believed that even if the whites attempted to dispossess the combined Black Hawk and Prophet's bands on Rock River, aid from many quarters—from the British, from the rest of the Winnebago, from the Potawatomi—would make it possible for them to maintain their position.

But from everyone's standpoint, the Black Hawk War was ultimately seen as a disaster. It meant death and dishonor to most of the Black Hawk band. It meant internal dissension and loss of diplomatic bargaining position to the Sauk and Fox nation. And it brought, in addition to the relatively few deaths of soldiers or civilians which resulted from Indian military action, great anxiety, considerable economic loss, and numerous additional cholera casualties to the citizenry of the United States.

Let us now analyze the train of events which brought about the unhappy circumstance of the Black Hawk War.<sup>1</sup>

The Sauk and Fox Indians

Although they were often called the "Sauk and Fox Nation of Indians," because in dealing with other Indian tribes and with white governments they acted in concert, the Sauk and the Fox were ethnically and politically distinguishable peoples. They spoke closely related languages of the Algonquian stock, Central Algonquian group; they shared, in pre-Columbian times, typical technological features of the eastern woodland culture area, such as the birch canoe, the bow, war club, and tomahawk, and earthenware pottery; they combined hunting and corn gardening for subsistence, and lived in permanent villages. Their difference was perhaps most marked in the sphere of political organization, the Fox being radically individualistic in comparison with the relatively well-coordinated Sauk. Nineteenth-century observers, like Sauk agent Thomas Forsyth, remarked from time to time on the greater regularity with which the Sauk conducted their affairs. Forsyth, for example, reported in 1824:

Altho the affinity of language between the Sauk and Fox Indians are great, and they are in strict alliance with each other, yet there is no kind of comparison to be made between the two nations, as the Sauk Indians are a people of much arrangement, and their Chiefs are listened to with much respect by the warriors and young men, but among the Fox Indians it is very different, the Chiefs are made tools of by the warriors and are compelled in many instances to act as inferiors and to do many mean actions. . . .<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The writer wishes to acknowledge the research assistance of Mrs. Michal Kane, who collected and subjected to preliminary analysis many of the materials employed in this study. Much of the research was conducted, 1956-1958, in preparation for testimony in Dockets 83 and 158 before the Indian Claims Commission as an expert witness retained by attorneys for the Sauk and Fox: George Pletsch, of Dallstream, Schiff, Hardin, Waite and Dorschel; Lawrence C. Mills, of Mills and Mills; and Stanford C. Clinton, of Pritzker, Pritzker, and Clinton. To Mr. Pletsch in particular I am grateful for scholarly discussion and for patient assistance in tracking down source materials. And to Mrs. Ellen Whitney, editor of the Black Hawk War papers, I am indebted for invaluable editorial criticism and advice.

This Introduction was written in 1958 and does not, therefore, contain references to recent literature on the Central Algonquians; it is the writer's opinion, however, that the conclusions reached herein are still valid.—A.F.C.W., Oct. 16, 1969.

The Fox indeed have been made the subject of an ethnological study in which their irreverence for the pretender to authority is taken as the extreme Central Algonquian contrast to the European authoritarian tradition.<sup>3</sup> The organizational tendency in Sauk culture is an important theme in our analysis, for it underlies both the ability of Black Hawk to recruit a faction, and the ability of the chiefs' council, even without recourse to court, police, or army, to suppress, for a time, this faction, and when suppression was no longer possible, effectively to abandon the faction to its fate.

Sauk and Fox social organization was based partly on kinship and partly on the local bands, with both kinship and territorial units being represented in the political structure. Each tribe had about a dozen patrilineal sibs (groups who called themselves by some "totemic" name, like Trout or Sturgeon, and who maintained a belief in some remote common ancestry). There was also a moiety organization (division of the tribe into two parts); the individual received his moiety assignment not from sib membership but from the order of birth, successive children within the family being assigned alternately to one moiety and the other. Among the Fox, the Bear and Fox sibs, and among the Sauk (perhaps) the Trout and Sturgeon sibs, customarily had the privilege of providing respectively a "civil chief" and a "war chief" who were executive officers presiding over and carrying out the instructions of the tribal councils. The Fox council was composed of various notable men distinguished for wisdom, military skill, bravery, or other laudable attributes. Among the Sauk, on the other hand, the members of the council may all have been sib representatives; such a custom is suggested by the circumstance that neither Keokuk nor Black Hawk was known as a chief, despite their prominence and influence. The Sauk, and presumably also the Fox, were also organized into local bands. The Sauk bands about 1804 were about seven in number. Bands were essentially winter hunting groups, and might or might not also constitute the bulk of the population of a summer village. These bands could include individuals of any moiety or clan.<sup>4</sup> Band leaders were not necessarily "chiefs" (i.e., members of the tribal councils).<sup>5</sup> of elders) was in both tribes a policy-making, advisory, and quasi-executive body whose function was not so much to make "laws" (i.e., to set or change custom) as to interpret important situations from the standpoint of traditional customs and to recommend or set in motion the proper means of handling these situations. Its members were usually about a dozen in number, and they were organized according to a formal structure with traditional rules of procedure. Presiding over the council of the Fox was the "civil chief" mentioned above. His role was essentially that of a chairman: he convened the council meetings as necessary; he had as his deputy a councilman who "supported" him "in his arguments" as well as a sort of secretary who "[kept] track of the doings of the council"; he formally received visitors and ambassadors. This chairman had to be chosen from the Bear clan, but he also had to be acceptable to the whole council. Council decisions were made by consensus after discussion; in case of a deadlock, the ceremonial runners were called upon to make the decision.<sup>6</sup> Among the Sauk, each moiety had a "war chief" who was responsible for mobilization of the warriors in his moiety, and one such "war chief," Keokuk, also functioned as official council "speaker," which gave him great power as the negotiator with white authorities.

This council was, among the Sauk, very important in the control of hunting and the fur trade. It allotted hunting territories,<sup>7</sup> and in the spring, after the winter hunt, formally placed the tribe under a kind of martial law. The war chiefs then had authority to round up stragglers (who might be cut off by alien war parties) and to prevent anyone from returning to the village early (to forestall the possibility of a few individuals' digging up their neighbors' corn caches).<sup>8</sup> Martial law remained in force until everything in the village had been put in order. This careful control of the hunting-trading complex was necessary because the Sauk and Fox played something of a role as middlemen in the fur trade; earlier among the Huron, who also had been fur-trade middlemen, there was considerable power vested in the national council in matters of trade.<sup>9</sup> On occasion also the Sauk chiefs could appoint "soldiers" as a kind of police and could give orders to the whole population: for instance, in 1823, agent Forsyth was unable to obtain annuity receipts.

After acquainting them with the strength of their Great Father the President, by Sea and Land, his peaceable disposition towards all mankind, and his good will towards all his red children who deserved it &c. &c. that the Specie before them were their annuities for the present year, which they might take after signing the receipts then in my hand. I was answered by several Chiefs and Braves of both nations, and all refused to sign any papers or accept of their annuities, saying that not a man, woman or child of their nations would ever sign any paper, as they had little enough, Land for their own use; and the Chiefs immediately drove the whole of the Indians off . . . [Rock] Island with the exception of four warriors that the Chiefs left as Centinals to prevent any Indians from signing any papers. This Sir is no more than I expected, and it will be useless for me, ever to attempt to procure the signature of any of the Sauk or Fox Indians in future to any Instrument of writing.<sup>10</sup>

Such police control by the council, however, could only be applied to the occasional individuals who would not conform, or to unorganized groups. The council had no power to coerce an organized group or faction.

The council also was specifically responsible for the alienation of lands and for the making of treaties or agreements with other tribes and nations.<sup>11</sup> The minimal proper procedure for a sale of land to whites involved a number of steps:

- 1) the receipt by the tribal council or councils of an official invitation from white authorities to a treaty council to discuss a cession of land;
- 2) an announcement of the pending issue to the nation at large (members of which could bring strong pressure to bear on the council);
- 3) a meeting of the tribal council to discuss the advisability of this step;
- 4) whether the decision be to treat or not to treat, the sending of a formal reply, accompanied by wampum belts (which had the effect of an official seal or notarization, indicating that the matter had been handled officially and legally);
- 5) a treaty, at which both the council and a representative sample of the whole population, including warriors, women, and children, are present and at which Indian councils run concurrently (but separate from) the treaty councils, so that the Indian speakers may be formally instructed what to say, and so that all negotiations may be publicly conducted and statements attested as official by the proper exchanges of wampum;
- 6) if the treaty results in a sale, ratified by wampum, an on-the-spot apportionment of goods and money paid among the whole population.<sup>12</sup>

It is particularly important to note that in connection with land cessions, not only did the tribal council have to make a formal decision in favor of the cession, but the consensus of the warriors and the women had to be secured. Sauk and Fox women informed General Edmund P. Gaines in 1831 that the sale of 1804 was invalid because the women, who cultivated the cornfields, had neither agreed to the sale nor ever been consulted in the matter.<sup>13</sup> The need for consent by all the citizenry was the reason for the large deputation of women and children which almost invariably was in attendance at treaties of cession. In the Sauk and Fox case, furthermore, it probably was considered essential for both of the tribal councils and populations separately to give their consent to the sale of land.

Over the whole area of North America south of the Great Lakes, east of the Great Plains, and north of the Ohio (and probably outside this region too) there was a common process basic to Indian warfare. This process with minor modifications remained fairly constant throughout the period of contact, until war activities as such were ended under the pressure of white military force. This basic and underlying process was characterized by the following steps:

- 1) a member of the tribe is killed, insulted, or otherwise injured (or a tribal member dreams of such an event);
- 2) a well-known warrior declares that he is going to lead a war party, perhaps as a result of a dream, against the offending tribe, and asks for volunteers;
- 3) volunteers declare their willingness to go along with the self-appointed leader on the warpath (sometimes they are encouraged to go by the women, chiefs, and old men, while sometimes these groups try to discourage them);
- 4) a ceremony involving sacred ritual is held shortly before the party leaves;
- 5) leaving women, children, and old people behind, the war party, ranging in size from half a dozen to five or six hundred (and perhaps several other parties set out at about the same time from the same tribe) leaves the village and travels under tight discipline;

- 6) the party may stay out for only a week or two, or it may stay away for several years;
- 7) the attack is almost always made by ambush or surprise; it may involve merely cutting off stragglers and isolated small groups like hunting parties and (among whites) farmsteads, or it may involve laying siege to fortified villages and encampments;
- 8) on the party's returning with scalps and captives (if any), ceremonies of adoption (and/or torture) are held, together with celebration of the triumph or mourning of losses.

This basic war-party pattern was modified in various ways and to various degrees by the different tribes, depending on the political organization of the tribe and the extent of surplus food and goods it could afford. The basic pattern was virtually unmodified among the hunting peoples north of the St. Lawrence. In general, among the agricultural peoples (such as the Iroquois, Sauk and Fox, Miami, et al.) south of the St. Lawrence, the modifications consisted of a better supply of food and other resources, enabling larger parties to stay out longer, and of controls over the war party exerted more or less directly by representatives of the chiefs' council.

Fundamentally, the council of chiefs could influence the war party in three ways:

- 1) "Putting on the brakes." In such instances, the chiefs as a group recognized the probability or fact of a war party's preparations, openly advised the warriors not to go, described the bad results of their doing so, confiscated their "medicine," persuaded the women to speak to the warriors, and so on. These activities, which were frequently successful, did not depend upon the threat of force since there was no police force at the council's disposal apart from the warriors themselves, but upon the force of the argument and sentiment organized against the expression of hostilities. When the chiefs did take a stand against war activities' being initiated or continuing (if the other side had sent peace emissaries), they were not likely to do so without knowing that a sizable proportion of the women and warriors would back up their views—in other words, peaceable activities by the chiefs were a symptom of a widespread sentiment in favor of peace. Putting on the brakes could occur on various occasions: when the war party seemed likely to provoke retaliation on too destructive a scale; when acceptance of a war belt (invitation to join in a war) sent by another tribe threatened to involve the nation in a risky enterprise; when the aims of the war party were directed against a valued ally; or when the enemy sent ambassadors asking for peace and it was considered advisable to agree.

- 2) "Silence gives consent." On occasion, a war party might make preparations, and the council take absolutely no official notice of it. In other words, if the brakes were not put on, it was a sign to the warriors that their path was clear. Such tacit recognition might be the actual "declaration" of war. Such was likely to be the course after provocation by an enemy, or in the course of one of the chronic wars, as for instance the Sauk and Fox war with the Sioux, or the Iroquois with the Cherokee.
- 3) "Encouraging the warriors to go out." On occasion—either when the security of the tribe demanded concerted action, or when a war belt from an ally seemed worth accepting and a confederate campaign was to be effected—the council might notify the tribe, invite representatives of the warriors into council, stir up the people, advise the warriors on strategy, serve as a communications center, and so on. Although it was still up to the individual leaders to announce a war party, the council could stimulate them to do so, and to a degree coordinate the plans of various leaders. Here again, however, the council had no coercive power and could not raise an army against the will of the warriors.

The basic situation thus was of a body of warriors constantly straining at the leash, ready to take to the warpath on the slightest provocation. Where a chiefs' council was effective, its relation to the war party could take one of three forms: direct encouragement, tacit consent, direct discouragement. It might also be noted that even where economic motives were prominent (as in the Sauk war with the Sioux), the basic rationalization for war was the avenging of an injury done to a tribesman (or even more closely, a kinsman).<sup>14</sup> on the Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri prairies, had a basically agricultural economy with a pronounced emphasis on the hunt for small game, especially during the fur trade era.<sup>15</sup> These two tribes, like others of the area, lived according to a clearly defined annual calendar of activities: from fall (October) to early spring (May), there was hunting and trapping, particularly for beaver, on hunting grounds far up river from the villages, and the making of maple sugar; the spring and early summer (May to June) was spent in the village planting corn; there was a summer hunt, for buffalo and other game (June to August) on the prairies; and a return to the village for harvesting in the late summer and early fall (August to October). The hunting grounds in this area, unlike those to the north among some of the Ojibwa, were nationally owned, and a tribal council decided where the hunters should go each season. These decisions were made in the light of various considerations: current peace or war in the neighborhood of a hunting ground; the extent of white settlement in an area; the location of trading posts; and the necessity of leaving an area untouched for a season or so, now and then, in order not to kill off the breeding population of animals. The tribes in the area all had clear notions of tribal boundaries, and all recognized the principle of tribal bounds; there were regular conventions according to which friendly tribes permitted their neighbors to hunt on their lands, if formal application was made or invitation extended; two tribes might hunt in a specific area—even a disputed area—by common agreement. Areas could be won and lost by conquest; could be abandoned; could be preempted if found vacant.<sup>16</sup> Hunting grounds during the fur trade era were thus treated in some respects rather like capital property owned by a corporation: properly maintained and worked, they produced an annual product of furs for the trade which, when sold, netted the tribal owners substantial sums of money. The Sauk and Fox in the period about 1804 brought in annually, to St. Louis alone, furs worth $60,000.<sup>17</sup>

The importance of the hunt extended beyond the mere provision of food, clothing, and other consumption goods. For the hunt for furs and skins linked the Sauk and Fox with Europeans in that ancient intercontinental chain of commerce, the fur trade, and this link with Europeans brought to the Sauk and Fox, as to the members of other Indian tribes, quantities of trade goods. These goods—supplemented by what was given as “presents” at treaty councils, and what might be seized in war—gradually replaced much of the pre-Columbian material culture. By 1804, certainly, most of the Sauk and Fox regarded steel knives, traps, guns, brass kettles, needles, awls, beads, cloth, and whisky as elemental necessities of life. Thus Indian and white were in certain technological respects sharing a common “frontier culture” at the time when the United States was assuming control of the Louisiana Purchase area. It may be worth observing that, beyond the above-mentioned technological traits, there were also several others which went to make up the frontier culture shared by both white and Indian. One of these was a dependence on kinship ties as the primary social nexus; another was a heavy indulgence in hard liquor, with an attendant pattern of brawling; and there was a tendency, perhaps more marked among frontier whites than among Indians, to disregard formal laws, orders, and commands outside of kin relationships and to depend on force and loud protestation to settle arguments. Yet it is difficult to avoid the impression that, even without police, courts, or standing armies, Indian tribes were more orderly than neighboring white settlements, for there existed among the Indians a remarkable tradition of self-discipline by individuals which achieved for the tribe a degree of social coordination, even under severe stress, which whites cannot be said to have matched, for all their apparatus of law and political structure. But a crucial difference existed: the Indians of the frontier culture, orderly as they might be (except when drunk), were part of no larger organization; whereas white frontiersmen, however lawless, were part of a vast organization which could bring to bear in their behalf overwhelming economic and military force. In many ways, the Indians were more orderly; but the whites had the larger organization.

It is sometimes difficult for us to realize that a “nation” like the Sauk, or even the Sauk and Fox together, amounted to no more than a few thousand men, women, and children—the population of a country village, no more. Together the Sauk and Fox were one of the largest tribal organizations in their area, yet their joint population ranged (with allowance both for the uncertainty of early figures and for the fluctuations produced by wars and other misfortunes) between about 3,000 and about 6,500 (roughly two thirds being Sauk) during the period from 1700 to 1842.<sup>18</sup>

<sup>18</sup> The writer has compiled a table of thirty-three contemporary estimates of the Sauk and Fox population during the period 1710-1842. The estimates for 1829, 1831, and 1834 are, respectively, 6,600, 6,000, 6,900 (Porter in

Henry Schoolcraft, Archives of Aboriginal Knowledge [Philadelphia, 1860], III: 593; Reynolds in E. B. Greene and Clarence W. Alvord, eds., The Governors' Letter-Books, 1818-1834 [Illinois Historical Collections, IV,

Such a group, if it is part of no larger organization, cannot make many mistakes: an ill-placed alliance, a faulty campaign, a divisive faction, an epidemic of smallpox, a wrong guess about the movement of game, can reduce the population to the point where political survival is improbable.

The combined territory of the several thousand Sauk and Fox Indians in 1804 may be bounded with reasonable certainty, using a variety of indications: the location of villages, the distribution of hunting grounds, claims of ownership, the nature of land use, summary observations of contemporary white men, and comparable considerations of the surrounding tribes. There is no point here in attempting to delimit the area in all possible detail for any given time, or to show changes in use, occupancy, control, and claim through the period from first contact of the Sauk and Fox with whites in Michigan to removal beyond the Missouri in the 1840's. For purposes of a discussion of the Black Hawk War, we may say that the Sauk and Fox territory in 1804 lay on both sides of the Mississippi, roughly between the Wisconsin River on the north and the Missouri on the south, and extending east to the middle of present Illinois and west to the watershed between the Des Moines and the Missouri rivers. Parts of this region they shared with the Iowa, a small allied tribe, who also occupied independently some other areas along the Missouri. Major settlement areas of the Sauk and Fox, in 1804, were along the Mississippi: at the mines about Dubuque, at the mouth of Rock River (Saukenuk and Musquakenuk), at the Iowa River, at the mouth of Henderson Creek in Illinois, and about the mouth of the Des Moines River; smaller summer settlements, other than those named, lay on one side or the other of the Mississippi, north of Dubuque and south of the Des Moines, within the general territory. In and about the villages, within a radius of perhaps fifteen miles, land was used for gardening, for hunting small game, for the gathering of various wild vegetable products. In general, primarily Sauk villages tended to be in the southeast portion of the area, and the primarily Fox villages tended to be to the north and west of the Sauk. On both sides of the Mississippi, about present Dubuque, Iowa, and Galena, Illinois, Sauk and Fox mined lead for sale to white men. Winter hunting of skins and pelts for the fur trade took place at varying distances, often considerable, from the summer villages, on both the east and west sides of the Mississippi.

Springfield, 1909], 182; Cass in Schoolcraft, Archives of Aboriginal Knowledge, III: 609). The estimates for 1804 and 1805 are, respectively, 3,200 and 4,600 (estimates by Lewis and Clark in American State Papers: Indian Affairs, I: 711, and in Reuben Gold Thwaites, ed., Original Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, 1804-1806 [New York, 1904-1905], VI: 92-93; Pike in Schoolcraft, Archives of Aboriginal Knowledge, III: 562). Where estimates of number of warriors only are given, the conventional correction factor of 4 has been used to give number of souls.

The Sauk and Fox had not always lived in this region. When first heard of by white men, in the seventeenth century, they resided on the Michigan Peninsula. As a result of wars with the Iroquoian peoples to the east, they migrated before 1700 into what is now Wisconsin, the Sauk settling near the head of Green Bay, and the Fox a short distance to the south, near the Fox-Wisconsin portage. Fox efforts to control the fur trade with more westerly tribes led them, in the first half of the eighteenth century, into a chronic war with the French, which resulted in their moving, with their allies the Sauk, to the lower Wisconsin River and the Mississippi below the Wisconsin. By about 1764 there was a settlement at Rock River and at the mines near Dubuque; soon thereafter the Sauk established themselves on the Des Moines. Between 1780 and 1800 the Sauk and Fox, with the aid of the Iowa (also on the Des Moines River about 1764 at least) drove away Osage, Missouri, and Kansas hunters from the region between the Missouri and the Des Moines.

The tribes neighboring them were several: east of the Mississippi, on the south (disregarding sales of land) the Illinois, on the east the Potawatomi and Winnebago, and on the north the Sioux and the Chippewa; west of Mississippi, on the south the Osage, on the west the Iowa, the Oto and Missouri, and the Omaha, and on the north the Sioux.

It is within the region just delineated, and with the tribes named, that the events leading to the Black Hawk War occurred.

The Treaty of 1804

The grievances of Black Hawk's band, and the claims of the United States to the Rock River country, dated back to 1804, when a treaty was negotiated between certain Sauk and Fox Indians and representatives of the United States. According to the language of this treaty, as it is printed in the Statutes of the United States, the Sauk and Fox ceded to the United States a large territory, on both sides of the Mississippi, including the lands on Rock River. The treaty (as executed by the Sauk and Fox signatories in 1804) read as follows:

ARTICLES of a treaty made at St. Louis in the district of Louisiana between William Henry Harrison, governor of the Indiana territory and of the district of Louisiana, superintendant of Indian affairs for the said territory and district, and commissioner plenepotentiary of the United States for concluding any treaty or treaties which may be found necessary with any of the north western tribes of Indians of the one part, and the chiefs and head men of the united Sac and Fox tribes of the other part.

ARTICLE 1. The United States receive the united Sac and Fox tribes into their friendship and protection, and the said tribes agree to consider themselves under the protection of the United States, and of no other power whatsoever.

ART. 2. The general boundary line between the lands of the United States and of the said Indian tribes shall be as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on the Missouri river opposite to the mouth of the Gasconade river; thence in a direct course so as to strike the river Jeffreon at the distance of thirty miles from its mouth, and down the said Jeffreon to the Mississippi, thence up the Mississippi to the mouth of the Ouisconsing river and up the same to a point which shall be thirty-six miles in a direct line from the mouth of the said river, thence by a direct line to the point where the Fox river (a branch of the Illinois) leaves the small lake called Sakaegan, thence down the Fox river to the Illinois river, and down the same to the Mississippi. And the said tribes, for and in consideration of the friendship and protection of the United States which is now extended to them, of the goods (to the value of two thousand two hundred and thirty-four dollars and fifty cents) which are now delivered, and of the annuity hereinafter stipulated to be paid, do hereby cede and relinquish forever to the United States, all the lands included within the above-described boundary.

ART. 3. In consideration of the cession and relinquishment of land made in the preceding article, the United States will deliver to the said tribes at the town of St. Louis or some other convenient place on the Mississippi yearly and every year goods suited to the circumstances of the Indians of the value of one thousand dollars (six hundred of which are intended for the Sacs and four hundred for the Foxes) reckoning that value at the first cost of the goods in the city or place in the United States where they shall be procured. And if the said tribes shall hereafter at an annual delivery of the goods aforesaid, desire that a part of their annuity should be furnished in domestic animals, implements of husbandry and other utensils convenient for them, or in compensation to useful artificers who may reside with or near them, and be employed for their benefit, the same shall at the subsequent annual delivery be furnished accordingly.

ART. 4. The United States will never interrupt the said tribes in the possession of the lands which they rightfully claim, but will on the contrary protect them in the quiet enjoyment of the same against their own citizens and against all other white persons who may intrude upon them. And the said tribes do hereby engage that they will never sell their lands or any part thereof to any sovereign power, but the United States, nor to the citizens or subjects of any other sovereign power, nor to the citizens of the United States.

ART. 5. Lest the friendship which is now established between the United States and the said Indian tribes should be interrupted by the misconduct of individuals, it is hereby agreed that for injuries done by individuals no private revenge or retaliation shall take place, but, instead thereof, complaints shall be made by the party injured to the other—by the said tribes or either of them to the superintendant of Indian affairs or one of his deputies, and by the superintendant or other person appointed by the President, to the chiefs of the said tribes. And it shall be the duty of the said chiefs upon complaint being made as aforesaid to deliver up the person or persons against whom the complaint is made, to the end that he or they may be punished agreeably to the laws of the state or territory where the offence may have been committed; and in like manner if any robbery, violence or murder shall be committed on any Indian or Indians belonging to the said tribes or either of them, the person or persons so offending shall be tried, and if found guilty, punished in the like manner as if the injury had been done to a white man. And it is further agreed, that the chiefs of the said tribes shall, to the utmost of their power exert themselves to recover horses or other property which may be stolen from any citizen or citizens of the United States by any individual or individuals of their tribes, and the property so recovered shall be forthwith delivered to the superintendant or other person authorised to receive it, that it may be restored to the proper owner; and in cases where the exertions of the chiefs shall be ineffectual in recovering the property stolen as aforesaid, if sufficient proof can be obtained that such property was actually stolen by any Indian or Indians belonging to the said tribes or either of them, the United States may deduct from the annuity of the said tribes a sum equal to the value of the property which has been stolen. And the United States hereby guarantee to any Indian or Indians of the said tribes a full indemnification for any horses or other property which may be stolen from them by any of their citizens; provided that the property so stolen cannot be recovered and that sufficient proof is produced that it was actually stolen by a citizen of the United States.

ART. 6. If any citizen of the United States or other white person should form a settlement upon lands which are the property of the Sac and Fox tribes, upon complaint being made thereof to the superintendant or other person having charge of the affairs of the Indians, such intruder shall forthwith be removed.

ART. 7. As long as the lands which are now ceded to the United States remain their property, the Indians belonging to the said tribes, shall enjoy the privilege of living and hunting upon them.

ART. 8. As the laws of the United States regulating trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes, are already extended to the country inhabited by the Saukes and Foxes, and as it is provided by those laws that no person shall reside as a trader in the Indian country without a license under the hand [and] seal of the superintendant of Indian affairs, or other person appointed for the purpose by the President, the said tribes do promise and agree that they will not suffer any trader to reside amongst them without such license; and that they will from time to time give notice to the superintendant or to the agent for their tribes of all the traders that may be in their country.

ART. 9. In order to put a stop to the abuses and impositions which are practiced upon the said tribes by the private traders, the United States will at a convenient time establish a trading house or factory where the individuals of the said tribes can be supplied with goods at a more reasonable rate than they have been accustomed to procure them.

ART. 10. In order to evince the sincerity of their friendship and affection for the United States and a respectful deference for their advice by an act which will not only be acceptable to them but to the common Father of all the nations of the earth; the said tribes do hereby solemnly promise and agree that they will put an end to the bloody war which has heretofore raged between their tribes and those of the Great and Little Osages. And for the purpose of burying the tomahawk and renewing the friendly intercourse between themselves and the Osages, a meeting of their respective chiefs shall take place, at which under the direction of the above-named commissioner or the agent of Indian affairs residing at St. Louis, an adjustment of all their differences shall be made and peace established upon a firm and lasting basis.

ART. 11. As it is probable that the government of the United States will establish a military post at or near the mouth of the Ouisconsin river; and as the land on the lower side of the river may not be suitable for that purpose, the said tribes hereby agree that a fort may be built either on the upper side of the Ouisconsin or on the right bank of the Mississippi, as the one or the other may be found most convenient; and a tract of land not exceeding two miles square shall be given for that purpose. And the said tribes do further agree, that they will at all times allow to traders and other persons travelling through their country under the authority of the United States a free and safe passage for themselves and their property of every description. And that for such passage they shall at no time and on no account whatever be subject to any toll or exaction.

ART. 12. This treaty shall take effect and be obligatory on the contracting parties as soon as the same shall have been ratified by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, The said William Henry Harrison, and the chiefs and head men of the said Sac and Fox tribes have hereunto set their hands and affixed their seals. Done at Saint Louis, in the district of Louisiana, on the third day of November, one thousand eight hundred and four; and of the independence of the United States, the twenty-ninth.

In the years to come, contention flared about three issues: the validity of the treaty itself; the language in Article 2, by which the cession's boundaries were defined; and the interpretation of Article 7, which guaranteed to the Indians the use of the lands ceded as long as these lands remained the property of the United States.

There can hardly be question that, from the Sauk and Fox standpoint, the treaty was not valid as a cession of land. The circumstances preceding and surrounding the treaty were unusual and require discussion in some detail. The misunderstandings about the language and interpretation of the treaty itself seem to have developed only later, after the existence of the treaty became an accomplished fact.<sup>20</sup>

In September of 1804, relations between the Sauk and Fox and the whites in Illinois and Missouri were becoming tense. The United States had but the year before bought the French (and through them, the Spanish) rights to the huge area of "Louisiana," and the local tribal situation was in a state of flux. Each side suspected the other of plotting war. United States officials were uneasy because the Sauk were a large group, not bound by any treaty with the United States, and were refusing to give up prisoners or stolen horses.<sup>21</sup> It was rumored that the Sauk and Fox had "in a speech with wampum" (i.e., an official speech) invited the Kickapoo to war against the whites—an invitation which the Kickapoo refused. A Kickapoo reported that the Sauk had dragged an American flag in the dirt at the tails of their horses. The Sauk and Fox, on the other hand, were apprehensive because they had not received any of those marks of favor and friendship, or promises of protection, from the United States which certain other nations had received. The Osage, traditional enemies of the Sauk and Fox, seemed especially favored; the Secretary of War had instructed Indian Agent Pierre Chouteau to be "particularly attentive" to that tribe.<sup>22</sup> (The Spanish regime, by contrast, had at times favored the Sauk and Fox over the Osage.) Only the year before, furthermore, the United States had bought from the Kaskaskia the land on the south side of the Illinois River, to part of which the Sauk and Fox felt that they and the Kickapoo had a claim.<sup>23</sup> This neglect appeared to be especially ominous to the Sauk and Fox because United States officers in August turned back a war party of three hundred men who had marched from the river Wisconsin to attack the Osage: a proceeding manifestly irritating and, in addition, threatening, inasmuch as it implied that the United States was siding with the Osage in their ancient quarrel with the Sauk and Fox. Equally ominous was the trespass of the whites on the Cuivre River, where Sauk and Fox hunting parties were in the habit of wintering. These settlements not only were an infringement on Sauk and Fox hunting lands, but further hampered the Sauk and Fox in their conflict with the Osage. It is entirely likely that the Sauk and Fox saw the grim possibility that the Osage, as allies of the United States, would take over the southern Sauk and Fox hunting lands and would try to divert United States fur traders from the Sauk and Fox to themselves. In earlier years, the Spanish trade with the Osage had been interrupted by their wars with Sauk, Fox, and Iowa on the Des Moines River.<sup>24</sup> In November, 1804, Pierre Chouteau at St. Louis estimated that the annual value of the Sauk and Fox trade at St. Louis with the Spanish was $40,000 for the Sauk and $20,000 for the Fox, or a total of $60,000. The nearest competitors of the Sauk were the Grand Osage, with an annual trade worth $35,000.<sup>25</sup> Nevertheless, the Sauk and the Fox both seem to have been in favor of a conciliatory policy toward the United States, at least as far as the tribal councils were concerned, and attempted to control the ire of their young men, who tended to favor hostilities against the whites. The United States, on her part, was aware that "it was a subject of complaint with the Sacs, that they received nothing, and were connected with us by no treaty."<sup>26</sup>

Into this tense situation four Sauk hunters tossed a bombshell in 1804 by murdering some white settlers who were trespassing on Indian hunting lands on the Cuivre River. Later one of the murderers and his countrymen admitted that they had been expressing their jealousy and hatred of the Osage in thus killing whites who favored the Osage above themselves. "The Saukies own'd it was on that account principally that their young men committed the murders. They seem to think we give them the most, we fear the most—those who are the most daring and desperate." But the act seems also to have been an attempt by a rebellious party of warriors to force the hand of their conciliatory chiefs. When the hunters returned to the Sauk settlements, they "threw down the scalps before their town Chiefs, and tauntingly said 'Now you that make the land to smile, go cry with the whites.'"<sup>27</sup>

The Sauk chiefs who heard of the murders were greatly alarmed. They denounced the murder, and four of the bands living lowest down the Mississippi abandoned their settlements and retired "over the river Du Moins, apprehensive of retaliation." In this anxiety they were not unrealistic, for according to Major James Bruff at St. Louis, "It was with difficulty, and upon promises of ample justice, that the settlement on Cuiver cou'd be restrain'd from falling on an innocent Sack village & destroying the whole."<sup>28</sup> A deputation of two chiefs came down to St. Louis to announce their disapproval of the murder "and to enquire what satisfaction we demanded; but hoped we were just and would not punish the innocent for the Guilty."<sup>29</sup> These Sauk deputies found the settlements in great alarm, some settlers fleeing, a stockaded fort being built on the Cuivre River, preparations for war being made, and a general conviction among the whites that the Sauk also were preparing for war. These chiefs were given a message in "strong language" to take back to their nation, demanding that the murderers be given up under the implicit threat of war, and inviting "a large proportion of them" to a treaty council with Governor William Henry Harrison at which "measures may be taken that will produce those warriors."<sup>30</sup> Harrison had been instructed in June of 1804 to obtain cessions of land from the Sauk, on both sides of the Illinois,<sup>31</sup> but there is no evidence to show that the Sauk envoys were informed by the United States that a cession of land was contemplated as a major part of the business.

The Sauk deputation hastened back, and next month, on October 27, another small deputation arrived in St. Louis, led by one Quashquame, who was "a prominent man of a small group of people who happened to have their camps near by one another. This small band made up the party that went to camp near Shallow Water [St. Louis]."<sup>32</sup> Presumably at least one of the murderers was a member of Quashquame's band. Quashquame and the others were acting, as the party responsible for the murder, under charge from the Sauk nation as a whole to settle the matter of the murder before the Americans launched a war. They brought with them one of the murderers for trial and possible punishment by the Americans.

Harrison, who had arrived in St. Louis only two weeks earlier and had been "employed ever since in organizing the civil department," met the Sauk deputation shortly after sending away a party of Osage chiefs "loaded with valuable presents & puffed up with ideas of their great superiority to other nations—on account of the distinction paid to them by our government."<sup>33</sup> (Major Bruff, indeed, observed that the evident favoritism of the United States toward the Osage had "excited the jealousy & hatred of the other nations to such a degree that I am apprehensive of the consequences if as large presents are not made them also."<sup>34</sup>) Just as the details of the murders are not recorded, so the details of what actually happened during the negotiations do not appear in the records; there are no treaty journals available; and probably no one will ever know the full story. Harrison entered upon negotiation with the desire to buy land, as had been suggested in his general instructions from the War Department of June 27, 1804, which mentioned the desirability of a cession from the Sauk on both sides of the Illinois River.<sup>35</sup> Quashquame and his colleagues, as we have seen, had not been given authority to sell any land, but they were authorized—indeed, charged—to settle the issue of the recent murders on the Cuivre River and by so doing to remove the threat of war and invasion, thus paving the way to friendly trading and political relations with the United States. Quashquame, Pashipaho, and three other Indians (at least one of whom was a Fox) signed a treaty which effected several things; it

- 1) established the Sauk and Fox as allies of the United States, under their friendship and protection (thus putting them, officially at least, on a par with their ancient rivals, the Osage);
- 2) guaranteed the Sauk and Fox secure possession of their lands;
- 3) made an explicit agreement providing for an orderly and just settlement of complaints by individuals of one nation against those of another (thus theoretically obviating the possibility of another war scare);
- 4) provided for the regular conduct of the Indian trade;
- 5) provided for a peace treaty (duly held later) between the Sauk and Fox and the Osage;
- 6) ceded to the United States a vast territory in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Missouri (identified as Cession 50<sup>36</sup>) subject to a proviso which may have implied to the Sauk and Fox (unacquainted with the custom of private as opposed to public ownership of land) that the land actually was being reserved to them forever under United States guardianship. This proviso read: "As long as the lands which are now ceded to the United States remain their property, the Indians belonging to the said tribes, shall enjoy the privilege of living and hunting upon them."
- 7) gave to the Sauk and Fox the sum of $2,234.50 and an annuity of $1,000. In view of the subsequent "pardon" of the Indian murderer who gave himself up (although the pardon arrived after the Indian had been shot "when attempting to make his escape"), it seems likely that an unwritten part of the bargain was the freeing of the prisoner. A second possible interpretation of the motives of the Indian representatives in signing a treaty of "cession" is that they were panicked into acceding to a land cession, defined as "weregild," under threat of war and the death of the prisoner if they refused.

Thus the most reasonable interpretation of the Treaty of 1804 is that it was understood by the Indian signers to be an authorized settlement on both sides of a specific incident which was threatening to develop into a full-scale war. When the United States offered to make the settlement general, and not merely specific to the Cuivre River incident, by receiving the port of the Bureau of American Ethnology, Pt. 2, Washington, 1899).

Sauk and Fox into their alliance and protection and establishing regular modes of handling problems of trade and international grievances, the deputation doubtless eagerly accepted the opportunity. From the language of the treaty, it seems likely that the Sauk and Fox deputies either interpreted the cession clause as a purely formal gesture of extending United States protection over a substantial part of their territory or that they were panicked into accepting it at the time (even though they had no authority from their tribes to do so) under threat of war, death of the prisoner, or perhaps even personal injury. The bounds described exceeded, on the east, the territory occupied or even claimed by the Sauk and Fox. The interpretation of the cession as an empty gesture could very easily occur to Indians unfamiliar with the public land system of the United States (by which such land is alienated to private individuals) but familiar with their own allotment system (by which the tribal council retained the right of disposition of the hunting lands year after year) and earlier French and British practice of making formal claims of political sovereignty to vast territories without any intention of infringing compensable rights of use and occupancy possessed by the aboriginal inhabitants. Furthermore, the Sauk and Fox had been carrying on a very busy fur trade for a hundred years or more, a trade worth perhaps $60,000 annually, and it is extremely improbable that they would have been so naive as willingly to sell several of their villages and a major portion of their hunting territories for a fraction of the income derived annually from them. It would seem much more likely that Articles 2 and 7 actually reassured them of undisturbed tenure, and that the Sauk deputation, not authorized to sell land, did not perceive the language of the treaty as a cession.

It has sometimes been claimed that the Indians were deliberately made drunk and their signatures obtained under the influence of intoxication. This is possible but not confirmable, just as the story of the murder's having been committed by a father as a result of a white man's indecent advances to his daughter is possible but not confirmable.<sup>37</sup> These assertions were made long after the event by Quashquame at a time when he was sorely pressed to explain away the treaty as a thing for which he was not to blame.<sup>38</sup>

<sup>37</sup> Certainly in later years Indian resentment of white men's attentions to their women provoked trouble. In 1820, for instance, Sauk and Fox objections to white men's taking liberties with Indian women led to the calling out of the militia of Boonslick Settlement. See Forsyth to Clark, March 24, 1820, as quoted in Sac and Fox Exhibit 317, Docket 83, Indian Claims Commission, Washington, D.C.

The "Winnebago War" was in part aroused by Winnebago resentment of the sexual liberties taken by white miners. See Forsyth to Clark, June 10, 1828, WHi: Draper MSS, 6T85.

The Peace Policy, 1804-1828

One of the remarkable characteristics of native American political structures was their capacity to maintain policy over extended periods of time. Indeed, possibilities for theoretical analysis exist here which may excite the fancy of scientifically inclined historians and historically minded social scientists, for consideration of the problem of policy-maintenance leads to the question of the relationship between policy and culture: a policy, beginning as the implementation of a particular relationship with traditional cultural tools, may after a period of time elicit change in the tools themselves. The struggle of the Sauk chiefs' council to maintain the peace policy required them to make desperate attempts to control irresponsible individuals and dissident factions; and in this struggle, the power to dispose of annuity and other tribal payments in cash and kind from white sources became crucial. Keokuk's effort in the 1830's and 1840's to secure certain operating funds to the council in order to give it power to forestall feuds by compounding killings, to recompense those of whom sacrifice was demanded, to care for the indigent, and to acquire the tools of civilization, deserves full treatment by a student of the dynamics of culture change.

The peace policy of the council, and the council's difficulty in maintaining that policy in the face of dissent by rebellious warriors, was already formed in 1804 and, indeed, was responsible for the fact that a treaty, instead of a frontier war, occurred in that year. The council quickly learned that the treaty was regarded by the United States as a land cession. Their attitude was essentially one of accepting the treaty as a fait accompli, however irregular it might have been (since to reject it outright would embroil them in war with the United States), but at the same time of pressing the United States to remedy the treaty's injustices.

In 1805, at a formal council in St. Louis, "several" of the Sauk and Fox chiefs spoke their minds on the issue of the 1804 treaty in a message which they requested to be sent on to the President of the United States. This message expressed deep regret and discontent with the treaty and a desire for more adequate compensation. The chiefs said:

We were desirous to oblige the United States, but we had never before Sold Land, and we did not know the value of it, we trusted our beloved white men to Speak for us, and we have given away a great Country to Governor Harrison for a little thing, we do not say we were cheated, but we made a bad bargain and the Chiefs who made it are all dead, yet the bargain Stands, for we never take back what we have given, but we hope our Great Father will consider our Situation, for we are very Poor, and that he will allow us Something in addition, to what Governor Harrison has promised us.<sup>39</sup>

Hawk's account of the affair seems to be ethnologically reliable (in noting, for instance, the customary usage of compounding for murder—the "weregild" practice) but is not completely accurate in historical detail (he refers to the murder of "an American," when at least three were killed).

At the close of the war of 1812 the Sauk and Fox separately, in 1815 and 1816, made peace with the United States, and both (under pressure to end a war in which their allies had capitulated) assented to the Treaty of 1804,<sup>40</sup> in spite of earlier reports that they would refuse to do so.<sup>41</sup> In 1817 chiefs of both the Sauk and Fox accepted the annuities for that year after Forsyth explained that the receipts did not constitute a new cession of land, that the United States intended only to retain possession of what it had bought in 1804.<sup>42</sup> In 1822 the united Sauk and Fox (the signatories including both Quashquame and Keokuk) signed a treaty exempting the United States from one of its obligations under the 1804 treaty.<sup>43</sup> The Sauk and Fox furthermore had discharged certain of the other provisions of the 1804 treaty, in 1805 entering into a treaty of peace with the Osage.<sup>44</sup> And they may be argued to have acceded, at least technically, by their participation in the negotiations and treaties, to the land arrangements in 1816 and 1825 by which the United States ceded to the Ottawa, Chippewa, and Potawatomi the bulk of the lands in Illinois north of an east-west line from the southern extremity of Lake Michigan, as well as the whole of Cession 50 in Wisconsin—amounting in all to nearly half of the cession. Likewise, they recognized Winnebago rights to part of Cession 50 as defined by the 1825 settlement at Prairie du Chien.<sup>45</sup>

Thus it seems apparent that the legally constituted chiefs, acting in formal treaties and councils, did consistently refuse to reject outright or to sanction physical resistance to the carrying out of what the United States said were the terms of the Treaty of 1804, even though they just as consistently protested its irregularity, argued over its interpretation, and demanded more adequate compensation. It is questionable whether they understood the terms of the treaty, either in 1804 or later, even when assenting to it under protest, in precisely the same way that the United States did. Quashquame, for instance, later insisted that he had not intended to sell any of the lands north of the Rock River,<sup>46</sup> and the Sauk may never until 1831 have realized how badly they had been "taken." Thus, we may say that in the interests of peace the chiefs of the Sauk and Fox not only refused to sanction any physical resistance to the carrying out of the terms of the Treaty of 1804 but also honored many of its provisions, though complaining constantly that proceedings had been irregular and the compensation unreasonably low.

The middle-of-the-road policy of the chiefs was not popular with many of the warriors, however, and circumstances made the council's task of maintaining coordination increasingly difficult. Indeed, the chiefs eventually found themselves between an upper and a nether millstone. During the early part of the War of 1812, the bulk of the Sauk and Fox, at the invitation of the American government, retired from their upper villages on the Rock and Mississippi to the Missouri, about the Grand, Lamine, and Osage rivers. Failure of trading opportunities during the war led to dissatisfaction with the new location, and many of the Sauk and Fox returned to Rock River and the influence of the British. A small group remained on the Missouri, however, until several years after the war. In the early 1820's there was another movement south and west to the Grand River by a group, primarily Sauk, who henceforth are identified as the Sauk of Missouri. These people lived in close association with the Iowa, on traditionally Iowa land, and like the Iowa became vociferously pro-American. After the Black Hawk War, in order to secure advantages from separate dealings with the United States, the Missouri Sauk branded the Mississippi chiefs as anti-American.

But while the Missouri Sauk eventually tried to promote their interests by assertions that the Rock River chiefs were hostile to the United States, the chiefs' policy came under early attack by recalcitrant young warriors who condemned them as weaklings under the influence of the United States! This issue came to a head in the course of the protracted war between the Sauk and Fox and northern and western tribes, particularly the Sioux, Omaha, and Oto. After 1812, Sauk and Fox hunters had been hunting increasingly westward and northward, invading lands of neighboring tribes. The cycle of revenge raids amounted, when seen in conjunction with the extension of hunting west of the Des Moines-Missouri watershed, to a war of conquest. The pressure for new hunting grounds was aggravated by the loss of grounds to the east, as a result of the 1804 cession and the 1824 cession of lands in Missouri, and by the increasing intrusion of white miners in the lead regions of Galena and Fever River. In 1825 the United States, fearful that Sauk and Fox aggressions would kindle so general an Indian war that the fur trade as well as the white frontiers would suffer, brought about the treaty at Prairie du Chien. By this treaty, various intertribal boundaries were agreed upon and the parties pledged themselves to peace. Sauk and Fox expansion was recognized.

Now the chiefs were committed to restraining the young men from further acts of violence. Although the chiefs were by no means inclined to give up anything which they had gained, they saw no advantage in profitless bloodshed which would only embarrass their relationship with the United States.

Black Hawk and Keokuk locked horns over this issue in the spring of 1827. The incident is worth describing in detail, both because of the light it sheds on later events, and because of its ethnological interest. Keokuk, the speaker of the council and war chief of the major moiety, came to Thomas Forsyth, the agent at Rock Island, about the matter. On May 24 Forsyth reported to his superior, William Clark:

Kiocuck with other braves called on me the other day and informed me that the Black Hawk was organizing a party of Indians to go to war, that the Chiefs had given him (the Black Hawk) three horses and other property to prevent him from going to war, but without any effect. Kiocuck also said, that the Chiefs and Braves would (in a body) once more talk to the Black H. and if they did not succeed in preventing him from going to war he must take his chances. I told Kiocuck to tell the Black Hawk that if he went to war, I would demand him and party and have them sent down in Irons to St. Louis where they would pass the remainder of their days in prison, that should the Nation not give the Black Hawk up when demanded, you would come up to their village and take him & party down to St. Louis and put them in prison, that you had now Two Thousand soldiers near St. Louis at your command, ready for any emergency, and that the Treaty of Prairie des Chiens must be adhered to. Kiocuck said he would repeat all I said to the Black Hawk and appeared satisfied what I told him. Kiocuck also informed me that a war encampment of Sioux Indians was discovered on the Raccoon fork of the Demoine early in the Spring which prevented the Sauks and Foxes from making a Spring hunt in the country, they intended which has injured them in some measure. Two young Sauks accompanied by Kiocuck delivered up to me four waggon horses, that they found some short distance up Rocky River all in good order and suppose they come from Fever River. I have written the Sub-agent at Fever River about these horses and if from that quarter, the owner will shortly come for such four valuable animals.<sup>47</sup>

The Black Hawk was intransigent, however, and Forsyth on the twenty-eighth wrote to Lawrence Taliaferro, the Sioux agent, warning of the brewing trouble and noting that the Fox warrior Morgan was also anxious for war:

I am sorry to inform you that a Sauk Indian named the Black Hawk is preparing to go to war against the Sioux Indians. The Sauk Chiefs as well as myself have done every thing in our power to dissuade him from going to war, but his answer is that nothing but death will prevent him.

There is also a report in circulation that a Fox Indian named Morgan residing at Dubuques Mines is also preparing for war. I yesterday sent an express to Pimosky the principal Chief at Dubuques Mines stating to him the consequences, if he allowed any of his people to go to war, I hope Pimosky will be able to prevent Morgans going to war should their be any truth in the report. It is impossible to know, how many each party may consist of should they go to war, but may suppose each party will not exceed twenty five or thirty, as a very great majority of the youngmen are for peace, and blames the Black Hawk for wishing to disturb the peace of the Nation. I would suggest to your better judgment that they (Sioux Indians) may be advised of these war parties and be prepared to meet them, and I sincerely hope that not one of any war party from this country may ever return to their homes.<sup>48</sup>

Meanwhile the Sauk chiefs were exerting themselves by the only means available to them to call off Black Hawk. Forsyth reported to Clark again on May 30:

Sir—The Chiefs, Braves and women of the Sauk Nation of Indians residing near the mouth of Rocky River have (alternately) done every thing in their power to dissuade the Black Hawk from going to war, but all to no effect.

The Sauk Braves offered the Black Hawk seven horses with other property and also repeated to him my message but he said, it was useless, as nothing but death should prevent him from going to war— Morgan a Fox Indian residing at Dubuques Mines is also preparing for war. I have sent by express a talk to Pimosky the Chief of that village acquainting him with the consequences if he allows Morgan or any other Indian to go to war from his village— I have written Mr. Taliaferro fully on the subject of those Indians intending to go to war, so that the Sioux Indians may be prepared to receive them, and I hope be able to punish these disturbers of the peace.

A very great majority of the Sauk and Fox Indians are for peace but as Kiocuek verily says that the Black Hawk and Morgan will find some worthless young men to follow them.<sup>49</sup>

At last, on June 15, the combined persuasions of the Sauk and Fox chiefs, and the diplomacy of the Sioux (no doubt stimulated by Taliaferro), brought Black Hawk to reason:

Sir—I am happy to have in my power to acquaint you that thro the Industry of the Chiefs and Braves of the Sauk and Fox Nations of Indians, the Black Hawk a Sauk Indian and Morgan a Fox Indian have been prevented from going to war. A pipe with a conciliatory speech has been sent (and delivered) by Wabashaw a Sioux Chief to Pimosky's village at Dubuques Mines. A Similar pipe and Speech with wampums from same Sioux Chief is now in my possession, and will be delivered to the Sauk Indians tomorrow or next day.<sup>50</sup>

The situation remained tense, however, the Sauk and Fox chiefs striving desperately to maintain organization in an unstable situation. The next five years saw their efforts fail.

The Rock River Controversy, 1828-1831

Some of the public lands held by the government of the United States in the territory which it regarded as having been ceded in 1804 were not opened to private purchase until many years later. In particular, the lands in the neighborhood of Rock River were not advertised for sale until 1829. In the meantime, the Sauk and Fox resident on the east side of the Mississippi remained in their village, their local movements unhampered and their tenure undisturbed. To the south, and in the Missouri portion of the area, many of the lands were early disposed of; but until 1828—a generation after the treaty—the Rock River people were not seriously troubled. Auguries of resistance to eviction were evident, however, in the indifference of the Indians to earlier, mild suggestions that they move, in the uneasiness which surrounded the opening of the mining concession on Fever River in 1822, and the plague of squabbles between rowdy frontier whites and touchy Winnebago which culminated in the so-called “Winnebago War” (few bullets, much shouting on both sides, negotiations at gunpoint in 1827, and a later cession in 1829 of the lead-rich lands on which the miners had been trespassing).

Forsyth's first mention of removal in 1828 produced a negative reaction. On May 24 he reported to Clark:

On thursday last I had a meeting with the chiefs of the Sac & Fox Indians who reside in this vicinity, on the subject of removing next spring on their own lands. Yesterday they gave me for answer, that they had never sold the land higher up the Mississippi river than the mouth of Rocky River—that they would not move from the land where the bones of their ancestors lay, and that they would defend themselves against any power that might be sent to drive them from their present villages &c.—to this kind of language, I answered them by saying that I was not come to quarrel with any of them—that it was for their own good, if they moved on their own lands—that there would be so many white people travelling on the great road which was to be made from opposite St. Louis to Fever River, and which road would pass through the Sac & Fox villages, that misunderstandings & accidents must happen between the white people & indians—that when anything of the kind did happen, they must not complain to me &c. &c.—but that I would acquaint you with their answer, and they must not be surprised at anything that in future may happen them, as it was my opinion that you would on the receipt of my letter on this subject, communicate it to their Great Father the President. A Sac chief called the Red head, was somewhat insolent in delivering the answer to what I said to the Indians on thursday last; but when I told him not to forget what he had then said, as perhaps he would be called on at some future day to repeat the same words, he sneakingly went away without saying a word. This Red Head is the principal chief of the Sac Nation & is a vile, unprincipled fellow. I have not, as yet, had any visit from any Winnebagoes, but have been informed that the Prophet of that nation, with his relatives, have settled at Wetecotes' village a distance of 50 or 60 miles up Rock River. This Prophet is a very influential Indian & will always be within call (at his present residence) should any thing happen among the Winnebagoes of Rocky River.<sup>51</sup>

In the meantime, Ninian Edwards, governor of Illinois, was issuing threats of his own to Clark:

I have only time to ask you whether any, and what definitive arrangements have been made for removing the Indians from the ceded lands of this State, in pursuance of the directions of the Secretary of War, and what is the prospect of immediate success? The Secretary's letter gave me reason to believe that this measure would have been accomplished before this time. The General Government has been applied too long enough for its own action to have freed us from so serious a grievance. If it declines acting with effect, those Indians will be removed, and that very promptly.<sup>52</sup>

In another letter, four days later, Edwards referred to the presence of the Sauk and Fox on Rock River as "an invasion of the rights of a sovereign and independent State," and declared that if the Indians did not remove at once, either the President would use force, or he would, "on my own responsibility."<sup>53</sup> The general tension was aggravated by a clandestine visit by two Indians to Clark in St. Louis. As Forsyth learned the story,

It appears that a Sauk Indian named Whish-co-baugh and a Fox Indian named Naw-t-waig visited you sometime past, that the Fox Indian abovementioned told you that the Sauk Indians had been listening to bad Birds who live towards the Sunrising (the British in Canada) and that they (the Sauks) intended to make war against the U. States, that a Sauk Chief named the Bad Thunder and a Sauk Brave named the Ihowai were at the head of all this mischief and that War would shortly commence by the Sauk Indians attacking the Whitepeople, but that the Fox Indians had nothing to do with the Sauks in this intended war against the Whitepeople but on the Contrary, they were for peace, that he (the abovementioned Fox Indian) had proposed to sell Dubuques Mines to you, saying that he was authorised so to do by all the Fox Chiefs. On the return of those two fellows (abovementioned) at their homes near this place Whish-co-baugh told the Sauk Chiefs what the Fox Indian had said to you in St. Louis, and also repeated the same words to me yesterday in presence of all the Indians then here. Search was made yesterday morning for the Fox Indian who had told you this Story, and have reason to believe that had he been found, the other Indians would have killed him, he is gone no person knows where.

The Sauk & Fox Chiefs who were present yesterday requested of me to write you on the above Subject, and they hope you will pay no attention to these falsehoods or any others that may be carried to you in future by such idle fellows as the two abovementioned Indians who run from place to place telling falsehoods simply to get a few presents. Kiocuek very properly observed to all the Indians present Yesterday that he was satisfied that you did not believe the Story of the Fox Indian because you are to well acquainted with Indians, to suppose that the Sauk Indians intended war against the United States, but also said that if these falsehoods have been mentioned to the people in the Settlements, they not knowing the Indians may believe the report.<sup>54</sup>

A deputation of Fox Indians headed by Wapello visited Clark in St. Louis to straighten out the misunderstanding,<sup>55</sup> and councils among the Indians at Rock River resulted in an affirmation of the peace policy.

As to the Sauk and Fox Indians remaining in future at their present villages on the East Side of the Mississippi is altogether out of the Question, and I never heard that any of the Indians intended to Solicite your permission to remain in their Old Villages where they now reside, because it is now settled among themselves, that they will make new villages next Spring but they have not agreed among themselves where they will make those new Villages, but that point will be settled the ensuing Autumn.<sup>56</sup>

But a faction now existed, among the Sauk and Fox, which maintained a contrary view. This faction, led by Red Head, Bad Thunder, and Ihowai (or Ioway), was hostile both to the United States and to the councils of the Sauk and Fox. At this time Black Hawk does not seem to have been prominent in the dispute, nor was the Winnebago Prophet. The Prophet, reputedly "half Sauk half Winnebago," was the head man (although not a chief) of a small village about forty miles up the Rock River, whose residents operated a ferry used by white men traveling to the mines at Fever River. The Prophet had a great personal religious following among the Winnebago, and was influential also among the Sauk and Fox. In 1827 he had been invited by the Sauk to winter among them "low down on Rocky River," and he was making converts among them as well. "He is for peace," reported Forsyth in 1827,<sup>57</sup> and during the argument in the summer of 1828 he still appeared to Forsyth to be a peaceable man:

This Winnebago Prophet is an Indian of very great enfluence among all the Indians residing in the country bordering on Rocky River and its tributary streams, he has promised me that he will use all his enfluence to keep peace and quietness among all the Indians who reside in the Surrounding Country and should he hear any news he will immediately communicate it to me, and I on my part have made him a similar promise.<sup>58</sup>

The first sales of land in the Rock River village area were not made until October of 1829; and between then and the beginning of the Black Hawk War, in 1832, only a little more than three thousand acres were sold. Most of that, however, was in the Indian settlement area.<sup>59</sup> White squatters began arriving in large numbers in the spring of 1829, before the Indians returned from their winter hunt, "and enclosed nearly all the Sac Indians cornfields." Forsyth remarked blandly, "The Indians on their arrival were surprised at this, as also the destruction committed by the settlers, by tearing down many of their lodges." The whites, on their part, were vociferous about their rights, frequently calling on Forsyth, announcing that the Indians must go and asking him to drive them away.

Forsyth held a long meeting with the Indians on May 16, 1829, advising them to leave. In this meeting, Quashquame and Black Hawk became principal figures in the controversy, Quashquami denying that he ever sold any land above Rock River and also the Black Hawk saying that the white people were in the habit of saying one thing to the Indians & putting on paper another, and both these Indians made use of every argument they were master of to convince me that they never had sold the land above Rock River &c.

I acquainted all the Indians then present of the Treaty of 1804, where Quashquamis name is as one of the chiefs who sold the land in question (the other chiefs being dead.) I also reminded the Black Hawk of the Treaty of 1816, when the Commissioners refused to smoke with him & the other Sac chiefs who accompanied him down to St. Louis to make peace, untill they signed the Treaty. The Black Hawk denied that any mention was made to him about land, in making the Treaty of 1816, but that the commr. must have inserted in the Treaty what was not explained to him & friends. The Indians and myself had a great deal of talk at this meeting, the most of which was quite unnecessary, & at the winding up of which I told the Indians I would not listen to any complaints that might come in future from any Indians who would remain at Rock River. The Chief Keocuck enquired of me, in private, if he & some of his friends could remain at Rock River to raise the corn they had planted? Saying at same time, that most of the principal chiefs & braves had gone to reside at a place a few miles within the mouth of Ioway River, and that more than half of those now at Rock River would also go shortly to the same place. I told Keocuck that he had heard what I said to the Indians in council, and that it was out of my power to give any Indian such permission as he asked for.

It is my opinion that but few Indians will remain at Rock River this summer, but yet I am fearful that some difficulty will take place between them & the settlers during the ensuing summer.

All the Fox Indians, formerly residing in the vicinity have gone and made a new village at the Grand Mascoteen.<sup>60</sup>

The dispute during the summer became ugly. The squatters, although they were trespassing on public lands, could not be ordered off by Indian agent Forsyth; the Black Hawk faction refused to be ordered off by either Forsyth or their own chiefs. Clark recommended a treaty but no negotiations were held.<sup>61</sup> At the end of May the Black Hawk faction announced "very fiercely" that

. . . the land was theirs, that they never sold the land, that this land contained the bones of their ancestors and would not give it up, that they had defended it against all your power during the late war, and would again defend it as long as they existed, that they had formed an alliance with the Chippeways, Ottoways, Pottowatomies, Kickapoos and Menomonies, who were ready to assist them, at any time in defending their country against any force whatsoever &c. &c. A number of Chippeways, Ottoways and Pottowatomies, with some few Kickapoos were present, and assented to what the Sauk Indians had said.<sup>62</sup>

Keokuk, however, refused to be present at the talk and asserted that "the Sauks who spoke did not know what they were saying." It was plain that it was only "the Black Hawk with a few others . . . who are making all this fuss." The official position of the Sauk and Fox was clear:

The stabbing chief, Pishke nawnee and all the influential Indians have gone to their own Country, during last month to a new village and there are some going daily from Rocky river, those who have planted corn will remain and they will be few in number to the whole Sauk population. . . .

Keokuk himself was in an uncomfortable position:

. . . the Indians now at Rocky River did not like him, and his intention was to go down to the Ihowai river to reside but that the head chiefs who are now at Ihowai river directed him to remain at Rocky River to keep things in order if possible, and that he must obey the chiefs, otherwise him and those of his family now here would have been at their new village at Ihowai river long since. That he had succeeded in preventing two partizans, who have been fasting since last winter, from going to war.

Keokuck appears to be much dejected, from his chiefs compelling him to stay at Rocky river, as part of his large family is already at Ihowai river, indeed he sees the necessity that the Indians should abandon their old village at Rocky river and live on their own lands.<sup>63</sup>

Matters remained unpleasant all summer. There was no gunfighting, but Indians were beaten by white men; white men fought with each other over Indian cornfields; Indians tore down white men's fences and sheds and broke their whisky barrels. The council struggled to maintain smooth relationships with the United States, even to the point of scrupulously adhering to the Treaty of 1825 which established peace with the Sioux. In June, Wapello and Katice, two of the Fox chiefs, gave up to Clark in St. Louis a Sioux woman who had been taken prisoner in a Fox raid. The woman's child had meanwhile been adopted by a Sauk woman. Keokuk went to great pains to get this child, offering a horse and other articles for it; Forsyth also offered to add to the ransom, but the child had been adopted into a Sauk family and the Sauk woman's answer was "that if I insisted on having the child, she would kill it and I might have the body for nothing."<sup>64</sup>

In the fall the Rock River Indians went off on their hunt, Keokuk vowing never to return, since his efforts to keep peace between whites and Indians had cost him his summer's hunt and had earned him the reproaches both of the chiefs at the new village on the Iowa River and the mutinous band at Rock River. As for the mutinous Indians, they were to be left to their fate; said Keokuk: "If any Indians did attempt to return to reside at Rocky River next spring they must take their chance."<sup>65</sup>

But in the spring the Black Hawk band returned, refusing to accept the combined recommendations of the council and of Forsyth. Keokuk, speaking for the chiefs, observed in council:

My chiefs and Braves have worked hard to persuade those Mutinous Indians to abandon our old village on Rocky River and follow the footsteps of our chiefs to our new village on Ithoway River, that the Chiefs and Braves were now waiting the final answer of the Mutinous part of their Nations and when received his Chiefs would communicate it to me.<sup>66</sup>

The leaders of the mutinous band, in the meantime, were conferring with the Winnebago, perhaps with a view to settling with them farther up the Rock River. Forsyth suggested that a show of force from the troops at Rock Island, the mobilizing of a party of three or four hundred militia, would persuade the mutineers to leave.<sup>67</sup> But all of these arrangements were thrown into disarray by an event whose serious consequences contributed heavily to the ultimate tragedy: the so-called "Warner incident."

The Warner incident flared out of the still-smoldering war between the Sioux and the Sauk and Fox. Although hostilities supposedly had been interrupted by the peace arranged at Prairie du Chien in 1825, and the principal men were said to be in favor of a real reconciliation, territorial encroachments by hunting parties from both sides continued to occur, and there were people killed. According to Indian custom, such deaths demanded payment either in blood or in "presents" to the relatives of the deceased, and the chiefs had no power to prevent offended relatives from taking to the warpath as long as their dead lay "uncovered." Leaders like Keokuk did indeed try to cover the dead by gifts of horses and other valuable presents, but the resources of the councils were small because of the general poverty of the tribes and because the trivial tribal income derived from annuities and other treaty goods was distributed to individuals at annuity time and thus was not generally at the disposal of the chiefs for purposes of maintaining social control. Recognizing these difficulties,

Clark and other knowledgeable officials developed the plan of settling old scores, which constantly threatened to erupt into an explosive chain of killings, by a treaty in which the United States would cover the dead on all sides and thus (it was hoped) eliminate the primary motive of warfare. Such a proceeding would, Clark felt, be far less expensive than military intervention. Furthermore, Clark regarded the failure of the United States to carry out certain boundary-fixing measures, which it had obligated itself to do in the 1825 treaty, as also in part responsible for the continuance of trouble.<sup>68</sup> These considerations led to the planning for a treaty council at Prairie du Chien in 1830, at which the Sauk and Fox and their enemies would be exhorted (indeed, threatened, under pain of military punishment) to keep the peace, and the dead of both sides would be covered at the expense of the United States government.

The arrangements for the treaty proceeded normally during the spring, but considerable anxiety was felt by local Indian agents on the upper Mississippi lest an attack, long threatened, be made on the Sauk and Fox by a combination of Sioux, Menominee, and Winnebago before the treaty could be negotiated. Early in May Captain Wynkoop Warner, subagent at Fever River and an employee of Joseph Rolette (the American Fur Company factor at Prairie du Chien), summoned the Fox chiefs to meet and parley with the Sioux near Prairie du Chien. Warner informed the Sioux of the Fox acceptance of his invitation and of their traveling plans. In response to Warner's invitation (which was, in view of Warner's position as subagent, an official request by a representative of the United States government), "all the principal Indians" of the Fox village at Dubuque set off by canoe. This party, sixteen men and one woman, was unarmed, as befitted their mission. On the evening of May 5 they put to shore to cook their meal. They were there attacked by a war party of about fifty Sioux, Winnebago, and Menominee, and most of the Fox were killed. One man, half-Winnebago, was sent home with a broken arm to tell the news.

Forsyth, the Sauk and Fox agent, and Taliaferro, the Sioux agent, now had the responsibility of preventing the war from becoming general. Both Sauk and Fox and Sioux mobilized about five hundred warriors; the Fox village at Dubuque was evacuated; the Sauk and Fox chiefs' councils both met and took the steps preparatory to war, the chiefs of the two tribes giving Katice, a Fox chief, supreme power to direct the warriors. Forsyth was able to persuade Katice to hold back the warriors while a party of 213 chiefs and warriors made a visit to Clark in St. Louis.

The Sauk and Fox, speaking there through Keokuk, were eloquent.

When our people are killed in war our hearts are not grieved; but when killed endeavoring to do a good act—when striving to make peace—when obeying the words of the Agent, it makes us feel bad. It was the death of Pie-mos-ky (1st Chief of the Fox Tribe) that made both nations mad. He always advised peace. He had a hook put in his mouth, and a rope round his neck. He was sent for by Genl. Street to meet the Menomnies, the Sioux, and the Winnebagoes, and was killed on his way up. My father, We always take notice of your words and our G. Father's words—twelve days after your letter was received, advising peace and a meeting at P. du Chien, our people were killed.

My father,—We don't want to go to P. du Chien. We wish to meet you at Rock Island. Our reason is, that we do not want to see our Chief Pie-mos-ky's grave. . . .

My father,—Genl. Street is here, and understands my words—I can't shake hands with the Sioux and Menominees, until we are paid for covering our dead.

My father,—If our G. Father were to send for you, and you obeyed his words by going where he directed, and you were to be killed on the way when not expecting mischief, he'd feel sorry for you and revenge you, so we now feel. Our chief was sent for, and killed when thus obeying the instructions of the Agent.<sup>69</sup>

Clark was able to persuade them to come to the council; he himself even entertained the hope that they might sell "a part of their country immediately on the Mississippi, embracing their rich mineral lands, with a view to payments and an annuity sufficient to enable them to settle back from the Mississippi, and to assist in supporting themselves hereafter."<sup>70</sup> And as if all this were not enough, a body of over a hundred white men took advantage of the Fox evacuation of the settlements at the Dubuque mines to cross the river and take possession! Forsyth advised that these intruders should be driven off, writing to Clark:

. . . the Sauk and Fox Indians are sufficiently soured against the whites, by their people having been killed going to Prairie du Chien last month, on an invitation of some of the Government agents. You must know what will be the consequence when they are informed that their mineral land is occupied by the whites, and permitted to remain. If drove off the Indians will then say, that the Government is friendly disposed towards them. This, in my opinion, is the moment for the Government of the United States to show their affection towards the Sauk and Fox Indians.<sup>71</sup>

Despite the difficulties, matters were pressed to a conclusion by the United States. The intruders on the mineral lands were driven off, and the treaty was negotiated in July as planned. Although the Sauk and Fox would not sell the mineral lands for the price Clark was ready to offer, a peace among the tribes was concluded, and certain lands on the Missouri and in northern Iowa, between the Sauk and Fox and the Sioux hunting grounds, were purchased subject to various conditions. The American Fur Company, anxious to recover its debts from the Sauk and Fox, obtained an agreement whereby those Indians obliged themselves to pay $40,000 to the company's agents George Davenport and Russell Farnham in the event that the tribes should sell land to the United States. This agreement should be considered in relation to Davenport and Farnham's purchase of part of the land at the Rock River village and to Davenport's request early in 1832 to allow the Sauk and Fox to come to Washington to settle their grievances and arrange a land cession. Alienation of the Sauk and Fox was a threat to the company's investment.

But the legacy of the Warner incident most relevant to the Black Hawk War was paid in 1832, and for the sake of clarity, it may be mentioned here. By Indian custom, the relatives of murdered persons were to judge the adequacy of the gifts offered to cover their dead. Some of the relatives and friends of the murdered Fox chiefs did not feel that the provisions of the 1830 treaty were adequate. And in August, 1831, a Sauk and Fox war party massacred twenty-five Menominee camped near Prairie du Chien, in revenge for the previous summer's killing of the Fox chiefs. The United States, fearful that her gifts for covering the Menominee dead would not forestall the Menominee and their allies in still another round of attacks, took military action. The following spring, General Henry Atkinson, acting on orders of the Commander in Chief of the Army of the United States, summoned the Sauk and Fox chiefs to council at Rock Island and, under threat of force, demanded that the principal men involved in the attack be surrendered. Three men, "of rank, and connexions & descendants of the Fox Chiefs murdered by the Menominies," were given up as hostages. But the chiefs were unable to surrender the rest, "as the other principal persons who were concerned have gone off with the hostile Indians to Rock River." Atkinson, noting that "the conduct of the friendly chiefs, Wapella, Stabbing Chief, & Keokuck has been so decidedly earnest, and persevering to obey the orders of the Government in bringing the matter to a satisfactory conclusion," decided "not to press them beyond their ability to comply, as a contrary course might tend to drive to the enemy a still greater number of their young men." 72

Thus, in part, Black Hawk's band was recruited from relatives of the Fox chiefs who had been murdered (in Indian eyes) for complying with the wishes of the United States government. The avenging relatives were now threatened with jail for following Indian custom in obtaining revenge.<sup>73</sup>

The Warner incident and the Treaty of 1830 obscured the problem, during that summer, of the presence of the stubborn Black Hawk band at Rock River. But preparations were made to terminate the nuisance in 1831. The knowledgeable Forsyth was removed as Indian agent by the Jackson administration, and when the Black Hawk band returned to the village in the spring of 1831, they found an Indian agent who not only was unskilled in Indian negotiation but also was more responsive to the clamors of the frontier settlers.

The news of the return of the so-called "British party" in May was carried to Governor John Reynolds, who at once called up seven hundred mounted militia in order, as he said, "to remove them dead, or alive over to the west side of the Mississippi." <sup>74</sup> General Edmund P. Gaines, at St. Louis, commanding the military forces in the district, on being requested by Reynolds to provide further military force, ordered ten companies of federal troops to Rock Island, and (possibly fearing the interference of an undisciplined and irresponsible mob of militia) advised Reynolds that

... under existing circumstances, and the present aspect of our Indian relations on the Rock Island section of the frontier, I do not deem it necessary or proper to require militia, or any description of force, other than that of the Regular Army at this place and Prairie du Chein.<sup>75</sup>

Gaines then hastened to Rock Island, reaching that place by steamboat by June 4, safely in advance of the militia. Gaines, however, found Black Hawk and his men adamant, insisting that the land had never been sold. Quashquame, as usual, disclaimed the full cession: "Some time ago I sold a part of the land of the Sauks to release one of our Braves who was in jail; but neither I nor any of my braves know of any sale of all our lands East of the Mississippi river." <sup>76</sup> The Indians denied any hostile intentions; all they wanted to do was to stay in their old village. Keokuk, attending the council on the next day, reported ... that he had already drawn off ten or twelve large lodges (near 50 families) & was in the expectation of being joined by others, as he should continue to "pull at them," until he drew off all that would come. And that he wished that the General would not apply force to the Black Hawk band, until he (Keokok) could get all his friends & relations across the Mississippi. But as they had planted corn at Rock River, it was now too late in the season to prepare new fields to plant more they would suffer from want of food.<sup>77</sup>

Gaines too was adamant: the Indians would have to leave; but he promised to provide them with corn if they left voluntarily. By the seventh of June, Black Hawk asserted that he was willing to go, "if the chiefs of his tribe consented to it."

But in the meantime Gaines, having become anxious because Black Hawk was reported to have invited the Prophet's band of Winnebago and some Kickapoo and Potawatomi to join him, had called on Reynolds to supply his militia.<sup>78</sup> Rumors were flying about that the Sauk and Fox were threatening to fight to resist removal and that they had driven off the white settlers in the neighborhood.<sup>79</sup>

The stalemate continued in effect until the end of June, when about fifteen hundred militia arrived at the Sauk village on Rock River, under cover of a barrage of grapeshot and canister. (The Indians supposed to be hiding there to resist the militia were found to have deserted the village the preceding night.) At the councils which followed, the militia force, with the Regular Army troops under Gaines, presented the Black Hawk band with the spectacle of an imposing army spoiling for a fight. On the thirtieth of June, under the combined promptings of that "artful negotiator" Keokuk, and of the more heavy-handed General Gaines and Governor Reynolds, the "British band" of Sauk signed articles of capitulation, acceding to the validity of the 1804 cession, admitting their previous intention forcibly to resist eviction, submitting to the authority of the "friendly" chiefs, and agreeing to remove west of the Mississippi.<sup>80</sup>

The immediate aftermath of the affair was a torrent of verbiage, all white persons concerned in it being eager to justify their actions. Depositions, official reports, and copies of letters were accumulated by the dozen, for transmittal to Washington, to show that Black Hawk's band was a savage military force which had invaded Illinois, attacked peaceful settlers, and was planning to drench the frontier in blood. General Clark justified forcing the Indians to cross the Mississippi (not merely to get off lands purchased by individuals) on the dubious grounds that the Sauk and Fox had given up their rights to settle or hunt on any land east of the Mississippi by the second article of the Washington Treaty of 1824.<sup>81</sup> (The phrasing of this article can be interpreted with equal plausibility as referring to the lands specifically ceded by the treaty, which lay entirely within the state of Missouri.) The story of the deputation of Sauk and Fox Indians who had gone among the tribes to the Southwest and the relation of the Black Hawk band to the British and to the Winnebago, Potawatomi, and Kickapoo were touted as demonstrating an intention of the whole tribe to organize a general war against the United States, with military aid from Canada. Governor Reynolds was embarrassed when he discovered that the settlers were digging up the bones in the old Indian graveyard and burning the remains. Perhaps the later recollections of an old settler who was present are more reliable indicators of the real situation. John W. Spencer, one of the volunteers, observed:

I had a field of twenty acres of corn and potatoes, and the volunteers went for the fence. We tried to stop them from taking the rails, but could not; going to the Governor and General Gaines, they went out to the field and told the men they must not take the fence. While they were present the men stopped operations, but as soon as they turned to return the men, to the number of four or five hundred, took each a rail on his shoulder, and marched behind them into camp. By this operation I lost all my crop for one year, for which I never received a cent, the soldiers doing me ten times as much damage as the Indians had ever done. When we asked Black Hawk why he did not do as he said he would, "sit down in his wigwam and let them do as they pleased with him," he said, "If General Gaines had come with only the regular troops at the Island, he should have remained in his wigwam, but to have done so with men that the officers had no control over would have been sure death to him." In this he acted wisely, as among these volunteers were many frontiersmen who had had friends killed by the Indians, and were prepared to avenge their death on these or any other Indians.<sup>82</sup>

Black Hawk Crosses the River, 1832

During the winter of 1831-1832, the Winnebago Prophet sent two messengers to invite the Black Hawk band "to join him at his village, there to live." Early in April he came to Felix St. Vrain, the Sauk and Fox agent at Rock Island, to inform him of this. He said he had not yet received an answer from Black Hawk. On being quizzed, he asserted that he had not known that the terms of the "treaty" of 1831 prohibited the Sauk and Fox from setting foot in Illinois, but thought it referred only to the old village, and on being informed by St. Vrain that he too might be "ordered from [his] village by the whites," he replied, "Perhaps you expect to do so, but you may lay my bones there."<sup>83</sup> General Atkinson at St. Louis, informed of the possibility of Black Hawk's return, announced his intention of preventing Black Hawk from "reoccupying his old village"; meanwhile Atkinson was concerned with obtaining the surrender of the Menominee murderers and keeping the Sioux and Menominee from attacking the Sauk and Fox.<sup>84</sup> He proceeded at once to Rock Island with troops, leaving St. Louis on the eighth of April.

But on the fifth of April, Black Hawk's band had crossed the Mississippi, near the mouth of the Iowa River at a place called the Upper Yellow Banks, and proceeded toward Rock River. Atkinson learned of the crossing on the tenth of April, when he reached the Des Moines River.<sup>85</sup>

Before proceeding to the denouement of Black Hawk's venture, let us now pause to evaluate the composition and probable motives of the band. Events from this point on were rapidly to remove from Black Hawk the possibility of choosing his course of action.

The number of Indians with Black Hawk when he crossed the river was probably in the neighborhood of 1,000 souls. Estimates, of course, varied widely at the time and in retrospect. The number of Sauk and Fox "warriors" (men and youths capable of bearing arms) with Black Hawk was estimated by Forsyth, in his manuscript essay of October 1, 1832, at 368; with them were about 100 Kickapoo "warriors."<sup>86</sup> John Connolly, a former Sauk and Fox subagent, estimated the Sauk and Fox men and boys at 400.<sup>87</sup> Keokuk, in council with General Atkinson, gave the figure of 500 (probably implying "warriors"), equally divided into Sauk and Fox, and Atkinson reported the figure of 500 warriors.<sup>88</sup> With the men were a large number of women and children, since whole families were moving with the band.<sup>89</sup> They were carrying with them the skins and furs obtained in the winter hunt on Salt River (in northern Missouri or southern Iowa).<sup>90</sup> Later, of course, they were joined by some of the Sauk-

Winnebago half-breeds and stragglers at Prophet's village, about ten lodges<sup>91</sup> (probably about 50 "warriors" and a total of 100 souls). The estimate of 1,000 souls as the total number of Sauk, Fox, and Kickapoo in the band, agrees closely with the breakdown of fatal casualties and prisoners obtained during the course of the campaign and its aftermath. It may be noted that the Kickapoo who came with Black Hawk were a band which had broken away from their tribe after their cession of Illinois lands in 1819 and had asked, and been given, about 1820, permission to hunt on Sauk and Fox territory and establish a village near the mouth of the Rock.<sup>92</sup>

Evaluation of the motives and intentions of Black Hawk's band must recognize first of all that it was a polyglot group composed of persons who, while sharing a resentment against both the Sauk and Fox chiefs and American settlers, agents, and military personnel, were not necessarily homogeneous either as to the origins of their resentment or as to their purposes in making the move.

One group, of course, had a clear and obvious motive for joining Black Hawk: the Sauk and Fox warriors who had killed the Menominee in 1831, and their relatives. These people—perhaps fifty or sixty souls—had the overriding motive of escape. If they remained with Keokuk's party, they might be turned over by Keokuk's friends to United States authorities for punishment or exchange to the Menominee. As long as they were with Black Hawk, they were safe (or so they probably thought) from this danger. Some of these people had no particular attachment to the Rock River settlement itself.

The Kickapoo group of twelve lodges<sup>93</sup> did have an attachment to the Rock River in the form of their village there. Because they had no spokesman of their own, before or after the war (and their menfolk were almost all killed in the fighting<sup>94</sup>) we do not know what their rationale for resenting eviction was. Perhaps they felt they had little to lose, since they had already lost their own lands in Illinois, and were evidently not being supported in their tenure at Rock River by the Sauk and Fox chiefs. Perhaps also some of them were devotees of the Prophet. In any case, they seem to have identified themselves unequivocally with whoever was willing to support their hopes of remaining in their new home on Rock River.

Leaving aside Kickapoo and refugees from justice, we have then about 350 Sauk and Fox warriors, and some of their families, to provide the nucleus of the band. Some, but not all, of these regarded Rock River as their proper home; others doubtless joined for various personal motives, no doubt even some in the hope of finding an excuse for killing Americans. But the leadership, and the bulk of the warriors and their kinfolk, were acting on the basis of a policy based in turn on a peculiar theory which grew in part out of the past generation's disappointments and stresses, and in part from the dreams of the Winnebago Prophet. For this nuclear group, the eloquent Black Hawk emerged as the spokesman; and the little group of so-called "chiefs," as well as most of the warriors, generally followed his and the Prophet's advice.

The theory which guided Black Hawk was a combination of panicky fear about losing personal integrity by giving in to a powerful and contemptuous adversary, stubborn legalistic argument, and wild fantasy.

The fear of loss of personal integrity is a motive whose power to determine political events cannot be overestimated, and in this event it was probably the major determinant. We have already noted how bitterly many Sauk and Fox resented their tribes' being slighted by the United States, in favor of their enemy the Osage, in 1804. This resentment was said indeed to have prompted the murders which nearly began a frontier war in that year and which led directly to the disastrous Treaty of 1804. One consequence of that treaty was to force the Sauk chief Quashquame to go to great lengths to deny that he had been so foolish as actually to sign knowingly a document ceding the major Sauk settlement area. We have also noted the resentment by the Sauk and Fox of the arrogance, brutality, and contempt shown them by rough frontiersmen. This contempt was particularly galling when it was accompanied by sexual exploitation of Indian women by white men, who regarded objections by Indian men to white philandering with (in white eyes) "loose" native women as threats against white supremacy. Indeed, the relationship between Americans and the Sauk and Fox had become, by 1832, a classic race problem, with lurid sexual fantasies determining public sentiment on both sides. Whites complained periodically of Indian men who insulted white women, and during the war the capture of two white women (later released unmolested) roused sensational rumors of rapine and pillage. The Sauk and Fox, on their part, entertained complementary fantasies. In July, 1832, Taimah and Apenose, chiefs of the Fox and Sauk respectively, wrote to Clark describing the "fables" believed by, and circulating among, the members of Black Hawk's band before the war:

Father,—We will relate one of these fables:—We were told that the Americans were determined shortly to lay hands on all our males, both old and young, and deprive them of those parts which are said to be essential to courage; then, a horde of Negro men were to be brought from the South, to whom our wives, sisters, and daughters were to be given, for the purpose of raising a stock of Slaves to supply the demand in this country, where negroes are scarce.

We assure you, Father, that this, and many other similar stories have had a great influence on the minds of all, or at least of most, of that unfortunate band, which seems now abandoned from heaven and humanity. For the evidence of this fact, I will refer you to the enthusiastic madness with which our women urged their husbands to this desperate resort; & secondly, influenced by a belief of the above fables, they have uniformly treated the dead bodies of the unfortunate white men who have fallen into their hands, with the same indignities which they themselves so much dreaded.<sup>95</sup>

To Indians entertaining such anxieties, circumstances like American interference with their wars against the Sioux, which involved both the securing of new hunting grounds to replenish the dwindling game supply and revenge for past insults; the seizure of the killers of the Menominee, when no similar action had been taken against Sioux and Menominee killers of the Fox; the continual trespassing on Indian lands in the lead regions; the desecration of Indian graves; and the use of force to evict the residents of the Rock River village from their homes—these and other circumstances of the same kind appeared like systematic, sadistic persecution, in the face of which retreat would bring dishonor without security.

Black Hawk was the perfect spokesman for men and women plagued by such fears, for, while he shared the fears, he was able stoutly and steadfastly to express their denial; he was able to denounce the whites, but also able to vow resistance only if attacked; and he was able to sew together the tattered shreds of native self-respect in a scheme, legalistic and visionary, which promised victory, honor, and security—all without aggressive war. He became, both in the eyes of his band and to many whites who later saw him and read his autobiography, the prototype of the noble redman, defending the honor of a dying race. Thus, facing General Gaines and Governor Reynolds in 1831, he identified himself in council:

"You asked, 'Who I am'—I am a Sauk; my fathers were great men, & I wish to remain where the bones of my fathers are laid. I desire to be buried with my fathers; Why then should I leave their fields?"<sup>96</sup>

And when he met General Jackson in Washington, after the war, he is reported to have said proudly: "I am a man; and you are another!" On his capture, he gave a statement which rang the theme of pride:

My warriors fell around me. It began to look dismal. I saw my evil-day at hand. The sun rose clear on us in the morning; at night it sunk in a dark cloud, and looked like a ball of fire. This was the last sun that shone on Black Hawk. He is now a prisoner to the white man, but he can stand the torture. He is not afraid of death. He is no coward—Black Hawk is an Indian. He has done nothing of which an Indian need be ashamed. He has fought the battles of his country against the white man, who came year after year to cheat his people and take away their lands. You know the cause of our making war. It is known to all white men. They ought to be ashamed of it. The white men despise the Indians, and drive them from their homes. But the Indians are not deceitful. Indians do not steal. Black Hawk is satisfied. He will go to the world of spirits contented. He has done his duty. His Father will meet and reward him. The white men do not scalp the heads, but they do worse—they poison the heart. It is not pure with them. His countrymen will not be scalped, but they will in a few years become like the white man, so that you cannot hurt them; and there must be, as in the white settlements, as many officers as men, to take care of them and keep them in order. Farewell to my nation! Farewell to Black Hawk!<sup>97</sup>

The pages of his autobiography are liberally sprinkled with professions of courage—professions, indeed, that he was entitled to make and that were not out of character for a war captain among a people who expected brave men to announce their bravery in public.

The legalistic features of Black Hawk's program have already been outlined. Like most legal arguments, they provided a defense in depth. The first point was that the "cession" of 1804 was not a cession at all because the representatives of the Sauk and Fox had not been authorized to cede land but only to negotiate a settlement of the murders.<sup>98</sup> The second was that even if a cession had been made, it had been made for a smaller tract of land than the entire area claimed by the United States, and that specifically it did not include any lands north of the Rock River. According to this argument, the whites at the treaty council had not told the illiterate Indians what the document really said.<sup>99</sup> The third was that even if all the lands claimed by the United States had been ceded, and various tracts including the Rock River settlement area had been sold to individual citizens, the Sauk and Fox retained the right, by the Treaty of 1804, to causes of the Black Hawk War, Oct. 1, 1832, in WHI: Draper MSS, 9T.

<sup>99</sup> This argument had been produced on many occasions. It probably prompted the refusal, for many years, of the Sauk and Fox to sign annuity receipts lest they be told they had sold more land. It was brought up by Quashquame at the Rock Island negotiations in 1831 and was used by Black Hawk in his autobiography.

settle and hunt on such public lands as had not been purchased. This argument was provided Black Hawk, by white men who could read the Treaty of 1804, in 1829 and 1830.<sup>100</sup>

On the basis of these arguments, then, Black Hawk was prepared to undertake several alternative policies, depending on the tactics employed by the whites. He could simply remain, with his band, at Rock River, and try to defend the position by defiance and by force if necessary; he "could honorably give up, by being paid for it [the Rock River village]";<sup>101</sup> and he could move elsewhere onto the public lands in the cession. The first alternative, of brazening it out at Rock River, with or without force, was the tactic employed, against the advice of all white and Indian advisers, until 1831, when it became evident that the whites were ready to use overpowering military force. The second tactic—to withdraw after receiving a face-saving present of money and goods—was blocked after suggestions by Keokuk, by agents Forsyth and St. Vrain, and by Davenport the trader, that the matter be settled by negotiation and the modest payment of (in one proposal) $6,000, were rejected both by Clark in St. Louis and by officials in Washington.<sup>102</sup> The third tactic—to move elsewhere on the public lands—was the only one remaining, short of a surrender which would have been abject and humiliating to Black Hawk in the spring of 1832. And this tactic was made particularly feasible by the Winnebago Prophet's invitation to the Black Hawk band to join his people on the public lands on Rock River, about forty miles above the mouth (where the Prophet had been invited to live by the Sauk in the first place<sup>103</sup>).

The Prophet, however, did more than facilitate a move which Black Hawk would very likely have made, in one form or another, anyway. The Prophet provided much of the fantasy which gave to bitter feeling and stale argument the leaven of hope. The Prophet was a much younger man than Black Hawk, probably being in his late thirties at the time of the war, and although he was accused by whites at that time of being cruel, vindictive, and militant, desirous only of making trouble, he seems actually to have been originally, like Black Hawk, a very conscientious person, anxious to lead a morally sound life and to follow a policy friendly to whites, but stubbornly insistent on maintaining what he regarded as his rights. Like Black Hawk, too, he was rejected and disapproved of by the chiefs of his tribe, and he and his small band of two hundred or so mixed

Sauk and Winnebago therefore lived at a point intermediate between the settlements of the two tribes. Little is known of his teachings, except that he seems to have preached a return to moral purity among the Indians, and to have had various apocalyptic visions, including (disastrously for Black Hawk) heavenly assurances that if the Americans attempted to dispossess the Black Hawk-Prophet band from the Rock River, Indian tribes from the region—Winnebago, Potawatomi, Ottawa, Chippewa, Osage, Creek, and others as far away as Texas—would rise to their defense. They never did. He also, equally falsely, prophesied that the British in Canada would come to their assistance, sending vessels by way of Milwaukee with guns, ammunition, provisions, and clothing, to support the beleaguered band if it was attacked! (The British actually advised Black Hawk not to go fight.<sup>104</sup>) But, said the Prophet, since the band was simply exercising its legal rights (as defined by the three arguments) in a peaceable way, the Americans would not dare to use force, being bound by a treaty (the Treaty of Ghent of 1815, which ended the War of 1812) to respect the rights of Indians! Driven by fear and previously inspired only by argument, Black Hawk took the Prophet's dreams, for a time, literally as gospel.<sup>105</sup>

Napope was the only member of the Sauk chiefs' council to join Black Hawk in 1832, and he was recognized as the principal chief of the Black Hawk band. Napope was probably a devotee of the Prophet. Forsyth described him thus in 1830:

Na-bobe i.e. Broth is a smart active youngman of about 28 or 30 years old, he has been often to war, and is admitted by his Nation to be descended from some of their ancient and great Chiefs, and that he is a warrior of note. This Chief has told me he never tastes whisky or smoked Tobacco, he is passionate for an Indian, very talkative and fond of war, yet to take him all and all he is not a bad Indian, altho some of the old Chiefs do not like him on account of his blustering way he has. When any thing concerns the Nation he is to be seen sitting in council, but with deference to the old Chiefs will not give an opinion, but coincide in opinion with some favourite chiefs.<sup>106</sup>

When he was examined as a prisoner in August, 1832, he observed piously:

For myself I have no vices—I do not smoke or drink and I cannot think what could have led me into such bad roads as I have been travelling as I now find.<sup>107</sup>

Napope in 1830, however, was one of the most ardent advocates of a half-formed plan to murder Forsyth and others responsible for attempting to remove the Rock River Indians, including the interpreter at Rock Island, the trader Davenport, Clark in St. Louis, the commanding officer of Fort Armstrong on Rock Island, and Keokuk!<sup>108</sup> According to Black Hawk, this young fanatic was a source of much of the difficulty. He acted as a speaker and diplomat, and maintained communication between Black Hawk and the Prophet. In 1831, when General Gaines was on his way to evict the band, Napope went to the British in Canada and came back with the fantastic story that a British officer had assured him that in event of war "they would stand by and assist us!" Napope on his way back from Malden visited the Prophet, and reported the Prophet's dreams of a successful defiance of the United States.<sup>109</sup> Napope also carried the Prophet's invitation to the Black Hawk band to join him on the Rock River. It may be speculated also that Napope was in part responsible for the mysterious embassy to the Arkansas, the Red River, and Texas in 1830 and 1831, on which three chiefs of the Sauk and Fox were sent with several braves. Two of these chiefs—Ioway and Namooett—died on the trip; the spokesman, Kinnekonnasaut (later killed in the war), claimed that his mission was "to make peace with all the Indian Nations of that Country."<sup>110</sup> Opinions of the purpose of the mission have varied among whites: by some, it has been taken to be a preparation for the migration of Black Hawk's band; by others, a mobilization of Indian allies against the Sioux; by still others, an effort to organize a general Indian uprising. Black Hawk in his autobiography stated that he was "not at liberty" to discuss this embassy.<sup>111</sup> Whatever the purpose of the embassy, it failed to secure the Black Hawk band any support. In the end, Napope, the "head chief" and one who "affects to be a prophet,"<sup>112</sup> turned out to be not only unreliable but guided largely by self-interest: he deserted his wives and children and comrades when they were first threatened by an overwhelming United States force.<sup>113</sup> If the band can be said to have had an "evil genius," it was Napope.

These three men—Black Hawk, the Prophet, and Napope—were the real leaders of the band. There was, however, a formal political structure, at least in 1832, which made of the band an entity separate from Sauk, Fox, or Winnebago. Nine chiefs were recognized: the Winnebago Prophet, Napope, Pamisseu, Weesheet, Chakeepashipaho, Checokalako, Ioway (a younger Ioway than the one who died on the southern embassy), Pamaho, and Towaunonne. Napope had been a chief in the Sauk chiefs' council. Five war captains were recognized: Black Hawk, "the leader of all," Menacou, Makatauuauquat, Pashetowat, and Kinnekonnasaut.<sup>114</sup> Half of these men were killed.

The period between the crossing of the Mississippi River on April 5, and the skirmish at Stillman's Run on May 14, saw the last hopes of a reasonable settlement founder in a sea of suspicions, misunderstandings, and incompetences. The skirmish at Stillman's Run precipitated a catastrophic withdrawal which ended in the death of about three quarters of the band and the ignominious surrender of the survivors, including its three leading men, Black Hawk, the Prophet, and Napope. The April 5-May 14 period may be divided into three stages:

- (1) April 5 to about April 26, during which the band proceeded up to the Prophet's village and beyond, in the belief that they could probably maintain their residence east of the Mississippi without bloodshed but, if attacked, could withstand the American forces;
- (2) about April 27 to May 13, during which time the leaders came to realize that their dreams of support from other tribes and the British were groundless and that they would have to return to the west side of the Mississippi in order to avoid annihilation;
- (3) May 14, when the Illinois militia under Major Isaiah Stillman attacked the band while it was attempting to negotiate safe passage down the Rock River, forcing them thereafter to flee northward toward the Wisconsin in their roundabout, and ill-fated, effort to escape to the west of the Mississippi River by a northern route.

The first period began with the crossing of the river on April 5. The band proceeded up the east bank of the Mississippi, the women and children and heavy baggage in canoes; the men, carrying their arms, on horseback. They turned up the Rock River on the thirteenth, and about the twentieth of April they had reached the Prophet's village, some forty miles up the Rock River, where they prepared to plant corn and settle down. During their move, no hostile action was taken: there were no murders, no stealing, no destruction of property. They were being repeatedly urged by the Sauk and Fox chiefs to turn back before it was too late; and the Sauk and Fox chiefs, anxious not to be accused of helping or encouraging Black Hawk, gave what information they had about the band to the Americans. To this advice from their fellow-Indians the Black Hawk band responded with scorn, accusing the peaceable party of Keokuk of being cowards. Keokuk's efforts to draw away his relatives and the women and children were met with threats of violence against interfering Indians.<sup>115</sup> Not until about the twenty-fifth of April did any United States official directly instruct Black Hawk and his band to turn back. On that date Black Hawk received from General Atkinson, by way of two Sauk Indian couriers, a formal demand that he recross the Mississippi.

I am sorry to learn that you have taken your Band across the Mississippi and carried them up on Rock river contrary to the treaty you made last year with General Gaines & Governor Reynolds. Your great father will be angry with you for doing so. I advise you to come back and recross the Mississippi without delay. It is not too late to do what is right—and what is right do at once. If you do not come back and go on the other side of the great river I shall write to your great father & tell him of your bad conduct. You will be sorry if you do not come back.

Some foolish people have told you that the British will assist you—do not believe it—you will find when it is too late that it is not true.

If your hearts are good I will send an officer to talk with you in three or four days.

Send an answer to my words by Peatchony & Wacomme.<sup>116</sup>

Napope, Black Hawk, and Kinnekonesaut replied uniformly that they were peaceable but would not return:

Napope, now the principal chief, said: We have no bad feelings, why do they send to us to tell us to go back—we will not look back, we will go on. I had no bad intention when I came up Rock river. I was invited by the Winnebagoes at Peketolia to go and live with them.

Black Hawk said: Why do the whites enquire of me the reason of my coming here. I do not command the Indians. The Village belongs to the Chiefs. Why do they want to know my feelings. I have no bad feelings. My opinion goes with my Chiefs. I will follow them up Rock river, and my braves are all of the same mind.

The same words that Black Hawk gave were repeated by all the braves through Kene-ko-esat, a Brave.<sup>117</sup>

The couriers observed some developing differences of opinion among the band at this time, however; "there was a lodge of women that wanted to come back," on the one hand, and a group (overruled by the leaders) who wished to hold two white visitors hostage.<sup>118</sup> By this time, furthermore, the band was running low on provisions, and plans had changed: no longer were the Indians planning to stay at Prophet's village; they would instead accept another, earlier invitation from a few of the Winnebago tribe (not merely the Prophet) to live with the Winnebago still farther up the river, at Pecatonica. This invitation had been renewed by the Winnebago who arrived at the Prophet's village with their agent Henry Gratiot. After the principal men in the Winnebago party left the village to go on down the Rock River, the other chiefs reneged on the invitation, informing Black Hawk that "they had no objection to our making corn this year, with our friend the prophet; but did not wish us to go any further up." <sup>119</sup>

Meanwhile, military preparations were well underway to bring both the United States Army and the Illinois Militia into the field to force Black Hawk to recross the river and to destroy the band if resistance was offered. The United States garrison at Rock Island was reinforced; information of the emergency was sent to the army's commanding general, Alexander Macomb, to Governor Reynolds, and to the Secretary of War. Reynolds called up fifteen hundred mounted militia. Atkinson, however, preferred not to strike at once, because the band had not committed any acts of violence and because his force was "too small to oppose to them with a prospect of success without great risk. . . ." <sup>120</sup>

Although Black Hawk did not know the details of the military preparations against him, he was doubtless aware that such preparations were underway. Furthermore, food was running low. In the week following the receipt of the message from Atkinson, he gained further information, which made it plain that the enterprise was bound to fail. He recorded his own disillusionment:

Having ascertained that the White Beaver [Atkinson] would not permit us to remain here, I began to consider what was best to be done, and concluded to keep up the river and see the Pottowatomies, and have a talk with them. Several Winnebago chiefs were present, whom I advised of my intentions, as they did not seem disposed to render us any assistance. I asked them if they had not sent us wampum during the winter, and requested us to come and join their people and enjoy all the rights and privileges of their country? They did not deny this; and said if the white people did not interfere, they had no objection to our making corn this year with our friend the prophet; but did not wish us to go any further up.

The next day, I started with my party to Kish-wá-co-kee. That night I encamped a short distance above the prophet's village. After all was quiet in my camp, I sent for my chiefs, and told them that we had been deceived! That all the fair promises that had been held out to us, through Ne-a-pope, were false! But it would not do to let our party know it. We must keep it secret among ourselves—and move on to

Kish-wá-co-kee, as if all was right, and say something on the way to encourage our people. I will then call on the Pottowatomies, and hear what they say, and see what they will do.

We started the next morning, after telling our people that news had just come from Mil-wá-kee that a chief of our British father would be there in a few days!

Finding that all our plans were defeated, I told the prophet that he must go with me, and we would see what could be done with the Pottowatomies. On our arrival at Kish-wá-co-kee, an express was sent to the Pottowatomie villages. The next day a deputation arrived. I inquired if they had corn in their villages? They said they had a very little, and could not spare any! I asked them different questions, and received unsatisfactory answers. This talk was in the presence of all my people. I afterwards spoke to them privately, and requested them to come to my lodge after my people had got to sleep. They came, and took seats. I asked them if they had received any news from the lake from the British? They said no. I inquired if they had heard that a chief of our British father was coming to Mil-wá-kee, to bring us guns, ammunition, goods and provisions? They said, no! I then told them what news had been brought to me, and requested them to return to their village, and tell the chiefs that I wished to see them and have a talk with them.

After this deputation started, I concluded to tell my people, that if the White Beaver came after us, we would go back—as it was useless to think of stopping or going on without provisions. I discovered that the Winnebagoes and Pottowatomies were not disposed to render us any assistance.<sup>121</sup>

Thus, between April 26 and May 14, Black Hawk and the other leaders learned that the rosy visions of support and approbation of their stand, which had been retailed by the Prophet and Napope, were vain imaginings. In fact, they were an isolated “village,” abandoned by their fellow-tribesmen, without food or supplies. And against them might at any moment be launched an overwhelming assault by thousands of angry frontiersmen and soldiers, well armed and supported by artillery. If Black Hawk’s band had been only a party of warriors, they might have concluded to fight; but they were encumbered by their women and children. The only thing to do was to go back.

And so, during the first and second weeks in May, Black Hawk made plans to return down the Rock River. On May 4, Poynehanesa, a deserter from the band, came through Rock Island. He reported that ... the Sac Indians of Rock River were returning to the west side of the Mississippi, that they had been disappointed about the assistance expected from the Winnebagoes, and others, that he had left them all at Proffets Village three days ago.<sup>122</sup>

And on May 12, Thomas Owen, the Indian agent at Chicago, learned from a deputation of Potawatomi that

... the Sacs are on Rock River about 30 miles above Ogee’s ferry, in a state of Starvation and are anxious to recross the Mississippi but dare not descend Rock River for fear of being intercepted by the Militia & indiscriminately slaughtered without affording them an opportunity of explaining the cause of their recent movements.

They aver most positively to the Potowatimies that they have no design of committing any wrong whatever towards the people of their great Father.<sup>123</sup>

The denouement came on May 14. That evening a straggling detachment of about 275 Illinois militia under Major Isaiah Stillman made their disorderly camp about eight miles below Black Hawk's. Black Hawk immediately sent three young men, unarmed, under a white flag "to meet them, and conduct them to our camp, that we might hold a council with them, and descend Rock river again." But the embassy miscarried: the militia command had no semblance of authority, and many of the men were drunk; they seized the ambassadors as hostages, then took fright at the sight of Indian observers on the hill, murdered one of the now-captive ambassadors, and chased the observers almost to their camp in an undisciplined stampede over the prairies. When the men under Black Hawk in the Indian camp returned fire from cover, the militia fled, leaving their dead on the field. They were pursued some distance beyond their camp by the angry Indians. The Indians engaged in the battle were a few dozen: most of the men were out hunting at the time.<sup>124</sup>

Epilogue

The Black Hawk War might have been avoided at any time up to and including the evening of May the fourteenth, 1832. If it had not been for the incompetence of Stillman's militia, it could have ended then, either by negotiation, or by the capture of Black Hawk. The consequence of that inglorious skirmish was a campaign which ended in the almost complete annihilation of Black Hawk's band, the demoralization of the Sauk and Fox nation, and untold hardship and inconvenience to thousands of white persons—to say nothing of the impetus camp life gave to the spread of the cholera epidemic.

Reviewing the circumstances from which these unhappy events flowed, the anthropologist and the historian may perhaps draw one conclusion: that the prime emotional factors in the entire situation were the white man's attitude of contempt for persons of an alien color and culture, and the Indian's bitter resentment of and gradual demoralization under that contempt. In a world where such small and foolish wars as the Black Hawk campaign can be the sparks which ignite an entire planet, and all peoples do in fact live in close contact with others of alien color and culture, intelligent men must realize that contempt is one of the most suicidally destructive emotions which the human mind can entertain.

DS, DNA. Columns 5, 6, 8, and 9 are omitted from this transcript. Column 5, "Period of Enrollment," is blank; Column 6 states that the company was enrolled by John Henry; Column 8, headed "Pay," is blank; and Column 9 lists the company members present at the muster-out. The only absentees were Privates Gorham and Richards, both on furlough.

Names spelled differently in the ninth column: Capt. John Henry; 1st Sgt. James M. Edds; Pvt. 11, Liwes P. Wilburn; and Pvt. 27, Michil S. Stinson.

June 21, were McDonough County men; see McDonough County (1878), 37. Elias McFadden and Michael L. Stinson, who are not listed on that page as Black Hawk War soldiers, are known to have lived in McDonough County about this time; see ibid., 19, 21, 23, 46-48, 69. Stinson was probably the M. L. Stinson who served in 1832 in Cyrus Mathews' company, 1st Regiment, 3d Brigade. Mathews' company was also raised in Morgan County, but Stinson did not join the unit until some time after its official muster into U.S. service.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: "This is Part of Voucher 53 Sett. 16749." Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 9 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 6 give the date of enrollment as June 15, 1831, and the enrolling officer as Joseph Wasson. Columns 5 and 8, headed "Period of Enrollment" and "Pay," are blank. Column 9 lists company members pre-ent at the muster-out; absentees were Pvts. 43 and 46, Thomas Murray and Samuel Rogers. Spelling variations in the ninth column: 1st Sgt. John Peckering and Pvts. 5, Robert G. Hall; 7, Yella M. Huddleston; 9, George Cottas; 18, William Dishazer. These variations appear to be the result of the clerk's misreading of the first "Names" column, which is in a different handwriting.

DS, DNA. Four columns are omitted: one listing men present at the muster-out (all staff members were present); a blank column headed "Place of Rendezvous"; and two columns dealing with the enrollment of the noncommissioned staff. Trovillo was enrolled June 19 by Jacob Fry, and Webster was enrolled on the same day by James Campbell.

Wagon masters, sometimes listed on staff rolls, are not included here. James D. Scott, Pvt. 48 in Fry's (later Lorton's) company, was appointed wagon master June 19, but is marked present with the company at the muster-out. Isaac Plasters and Thomas S. Gelder, Privts. 47 and 48 in Samuel Smith's company, were not mustered out with their company but are marked absent, with the notation, "assistant to quartermaster." Neither, however, is listed on the regimental staff roll or the brigade staff roll. John W. Skidmore, Pvt. 46 in Smith's company and also an assistant to the quartermaster, is named as a member of the brigade staff on the official roll, which also lists a James Plasters, formerly of Samuel Smith's company, as an assistant quartermaster. No James Plasters is listed on Smith's roll, and although the absence of his name is not conclusive proof that he had not been enrolled in the company, it is possible that the clerk making out the brigade staff roll wrote "James" when he should have written "Isaac."

Column 8, headed "Remarks," identifies the company from which each man transferred. Except in the following sixteen instances the enrolling officer, named in Column 4, was the company commander.

Enrolled by Daniel Leib but transferred from McDow's company was 1st Lt. H. T. Camp. Leib also enrolled two transfers from Alexander Wells's company, Pvts. 15 and 33, George Lowry and Jonathan Russ. Jacob Fry enrolled two transfers from Lorton's company, 4th Sgt. William F. Montgomery cated by the "Remarks" above. Names with spelling variations in the ninth column: 2d Sgt. William Tendall and Pvts. 1, J. W. Chinowith; 10, Eligah Taylor; and 21, Loring Cleaveland.

The spellings above, when differing from those on the roll, are the preferred spellings.

The only other remark in Column 8 is opposite the name of Pvt. 13, Enos Darnell (or Darnell), "pay due as Corporal to 18th June 1831."

<sup>1</sup> The Samuel Whiteside who became major of the Spy Battalion was from Madison County. It is possible, of course, that he was in Belleville when Miller's company was enrolled and that he joined the company there, transferring later to Erastus Wheeler's company. But since Whiteside's prior membership in Miller's company is indicated on the original of the above roll by dittos, it seems more likely that the clerk made an error in attributing that service to him. A Samuel Whiteside was also listed as a member of Pruitt's company of the Spy Battalion.

Enrollment facts are given in Columns 4 through 7; Column 8, headed "Pay," is blank; and Column 9 lists company members present at the muster-out.

Although Captain Whiteside is marked "Sick," he is listed as present on July 2. Absentees on that date were Pvts. 19, Joseph C. Dunagan; 27, Abner Bishop; 28, Bowling Cane; 44, Thomas Staunton; and 46, J. Farhan.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: "Part of Voucher 38 Sett. 16749." The roll is in the handwriting of James Semple except for the certificates and one column. Omitted from this transcript are Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 9, which show that the company was enrolled by William B. Whiteside on June 13, 1831, and that all company members were present at the muster-out. Names with spelling variations in Column 9, the "Names Present" column: Pvts. 5, Squire Wisinhunt; 12, Wisley Brown; 32, Abraham Vickers; 35, David Starky; 36, Jesse Starky; and 46, Russell Starky.

despite the fact that the signature is clearly "Larance." Frank E. Stevens gives the captain's name as "John Loraine" (The Black Hawk War, 94), and Governor Reynolds called him "John Laramie" (My Own Times, 214). A John Lawrence served in the 1832 campaign in several companies from Madison County, and a John Lawrence was also enrolled in Wheeler's company of the Spy Battalion in the 1831 campaign. In the late 1830's and 1840's a John P. Lawrence was several times an unsuccessful candidate for state representative from Madison County, but no earlier record of a John Lawrence has been found; see Theodore C. Pease, ed., Illinois Election Returns, 1818-1848 (Illinois Historical Collections, XVIII, Springfield, 1923), 317, 369, 397.

DS, DNA. The body of the roll, except for the "Names Present" column, is in the handwriting of James Semple. Endorsed: "See payment by Wright made on these rolls, in Settltmt of July 1833."

Columns 4 through 7, dealing with enrollment, the eighth, headed "Pay," and the ninth, listing company members present at the muster-out, are omitted here. The company was enrolled by Captain Miller at Belleville on June 2. The eighth column is blank. Absentees on July 2 are indicated by the "Remarks" above. Pvt. 20, John Krupp, who was appointed armorer June 19, was mustered out with the company. The names of two privates are spelled differently in the ninth column: No. 18, John Woods, and 49, Rodolph Wildey.

<sup>1</sup>The Samuel Whiteside who became major of the Spy Battalion was first enrolled in Erastus Wheeler's Madison County company. Wheeler's roll shows that he had transferred from Miller's St. Clair County company. Although the major was a resident of Madison County, he could have been in Belleville when Miller's company was enrolled and joined the company there. Another Samuel Whiteside was a member of Pruitt's company, however, and it was probably he, not the major, who had transferred from Solomon Miller's St. Clair County company. A Samuel Whitesides, whose residence is given as St. Clair County, was also a member of Miller's 1832 company.

I certify on honor that this Muster Roll exhibits the true state of Captain William Edmonston's Company of mounted Volunteer Rangers, for the period herein mentioned[,] that the remarks set opposite the names of each officer, and soldier are accurate and just.

I further certify that I have this 4th day of July 1831 mustered and minutely inspected for discharge the above Company, which was called into the service of the United States, by order of the Governor and Commander in Chief of the State of Illinois, as a Company of Rangers to protect the frontiers of this state from Peoria to the Mississippi River

William Edmonston Commanding Officer & Inspector and Mustering officer by command of Maj Gen'l Gaines.

ADS, DNA. Columns 6 and 7, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled by the captain and that all were present at the muster-out—even those marked absent.

A penciled notation on the back of the roll reads: "Lot got by Genl. [Joseph] Duncan—14th Decr. 1831."

J Bliss B Majr 3 Inf Comg      Inspector and Mustering officer.

DS, DNA. Columns 5 through 9 are omitted here. Columns 5 through 7 show that the company was enrolled by Captain Pike at Fort Armstrong. The period of enrollment is given as "during Indian disturbances." The eighth column, headed "Pay," states after each name, "Pay due from enrollment." The ninth column lists all but four company members present at the muster-out: Pvts. 18, Samuel Kinney; 30, Edward Varner; 40, Samuel Wells; and 48, Benjamin Vannetta. Names with spelling variations in the ninth column: 2d Lt. Griffith Awbrey; 3d Sgt. Edward Corbin; and Pvts. 4, Michael Bartlet; and 48, Gashun Vannetta.

IHI also has a photostat of another roll of this company from DNA, signed by Captain Pike and Major Bliss on June 16. On that day the strength of the company was fifty-four. Two men, Charles French and Henry Vandruff, were absent without leave; one, Goodridge Hubbard, was sick; three, Benjamin Goble, Thomas Levit, and William F. Sams, were on detached service; and the following twelve were absent with leave: James Haskell, Cyrus Henderson, John W. Kinney, Samuel Kinney, George Miller, Robert Syms, Sevier Stringfield, Joshua Vandruff, George Wells, Asaph Wells, Eri Wells, Ira Wells. Not included on the June 16 roll were the last seven men on the roll above: Uriah S. Hulst, Martin W. Smith, Gasham Vannetta, Benjamin Vanetta, Arthur Thomas, Thomas Templin, and Hiram M. Curry.

On the June 16 roll, the following names were spelled differently: 2d Lt. Griffith Auberry; 3d Sgt. Edward Corben; and Pvts. 2, William T. Brasier; 12, George W. Harland; 19, Coonrod Leak; 21, Henry McNeil; 25, Thomas Simms; and 26, Robert Simms.

CD, DNA. Endorsed: (1) "No. 9 Receipt Roll of Capt. Wilcoxons Co. of Illinois Militia 23 June 4 July 1831 Pay—$696.37." (2) "Wright 17538." The second endorsement is the voucher account number of Paymaster Thomas Wright.

This company and most of the others which served in 1831 were paid in the summer of 1832. Altogether, some 40-odd letters in the BHW Coll. are concerned with the problems involved in arranging for the payment of the volunteers. The first step in the procedure was sending the muster rolls to the Paymaster General in Washington for approval. When the requisite funds had been appropriated by Congress, the Paymaster General had receipt rolls prepared, shipped the necessary specie to the military district, and assigned a paymaster to the project. That paymaster, who was a Regular Army officer, published broadsides and advance newspaper notices of the dates and places for paying the troops (the place of payment was generally the seat of the county in which the company enrolled). It seems to have been common practice for a volunteer officer, and sometimes a sutler as well, to accompany the paymaster on the circuit.

The original roll of Wilcockson's company has fifteen columns, most of which give details of pay allowances. Three of the columns omitted above provide space for signatures of recipients and witnesses and for remarks. Only the officers' names appear to be signatures. J. Snively signed as witness for all but thirteen of the men; James H. Norfolk signed opposite the names of Privates 13, 33, and 37—Hiram Dixon and James and Bird Ellis; and there was no witness signature after the names of ten men: Asel F. Ball, Thomas Walters, Ed[war]d Thurman, Abner Long, John Barker, William Walters, Thomas Cameron, William Spencer, M. Comstock, and Daniel Walters.

The "Remarks" column has five entries. Two concern the forage allowance for the surgeon and surgeon's mate—see n. 3 below; one deals with the travel pay allowance for officers' servants; and two apply to all company members. The first of these general remarks states: "80 Miles travelling—say 5 [the "5" superimposed on "4"] Days." All of the company members who have been identified were from Fulton County, which presumably was the place of enrollment. Although no company muster rolls have been located, an index to Illinois muster rolls in DNA identifies the company as a mounted militia unit at Fort Gum, which was in Henderson Township, Knox County. Twenty miles of travel was held equivalent to one day's service in figuring pay for officers, and since it was not 80 miles from Fulton County to Fort Gum, the 4-day allowance would have been more nearly accurate, unless the company was also being paid for some unexplained travel time before June 23. A lined-out comment above this remark reads: "letter [?] has 4 days travelling."

The second general remark is a statement signed by the commissioned officers:

We, and each of us certify upon our honor, that we actually kept and employed in service the Horses and servants charged for on this Roll, and that we did not during the time take or employ as a servant a soldier from the line of the militia nor were we furnished with Forage for any part of the time charged or with subsistence by the U. States

At that time it was Regular Army practice to allow pay to officers for servants who were frequently left at base when the officers were assigned field duty (see Zachary Taylor to Thomas S. Jesup, Dec. 4, 1832). Volunteer officers apparently were allowed to follow the same practice.

In spite of statements like the above that are commonly filed with receipt rolls and that give names and descriptions of servants, it seems highly unlikely that the volunteer officers were accompanied by servants when they went on active duty.

One Illinois historian reports that on another occasion a volunteer officer named his bartender as his servant (see Harvey Lee Ross, The Early Pioneers and Pioneer Events of the State of Illinois . . . [Chicago, 1899], 29). Frequently the servants listed on certificates have the same surnames as the officers' and the servants' ages would be appropriate for a young son or nephew.

<sup>1</sup> Company members were paid for their 8 days of service in June at a daily rate based on a 30-day month, as follows: captain, $1.333; 1st lieutenant, $1.00; 2d lieutenant, $.8333; sergeant, $.2666; corporal, $.2444; private, $.2222; servant, $.1666; surgeon, $1.50; surgeon's mate, $1.2903.

Pay for 4 days in July was at the following daily rates: captain, $1.2903; 1st lieutenant, $.9677; 2d lieutenant, $.8064; sergeant, $.258; corporal, $.2364; private, $.2148; servant, $.1612; surgeon, $1.4511; surgeon's mate, $1.2903.

Every paymaster seemed to follow a slightly different formula for figuring base pay.

In addition to the base pay, privates and noncommissioned officers were entitled to a travel allowance (figured at the rate of 15 miles of travel as equivalent to one day's base pay for privates), plus $.25 per day for rations and forage and $.40 per day for the use of their horses and arms. The latter two allowances were also paid for the travel time, although through an error on the part of the paymasters, the 1831 companies were not given $.40 per day for the use of their horses and arms during travel time. A supplementary payment later rectified the error. See Joseph Duncan to the electorate of the Third District, July 24, 1832.

The $11.74 for most privates, then, consisted of $2.62 base pay for 12 days, $2.32 travel allowance (base pay for 5 days travel time plus forage and subsistence for 5 days), $4.80 for horse and arms for 12 days at $.40 per day, and $2.00 for supplying his own forage and subsistence for 8 days at $.25 per day (presumably the government supplied rations for 4 days).

<sup>2</sup> Each commissioned officer was granted the following allowances: (a) Base pay for 12 days, $15.82 in the case of the captain. (b) Four rations per day for himself and one per day for his servant, at a value of $.20 per ration. The total pay reflects a deduction of $1.60, which was probably the value of rations actually drawn—2 per day for 4 days; noncommissioned officers and privates were also docked their ration and forage allowance for 4 days. The captain and lieutenants were not given the $.12½ daily forage allowance. The captain's ration allowance was thus $8.00. (c) Travel pay computed as base pay for 5 days at the 31-day rate, plus 4 rations for 5 days, totaling $10.45 for the captain. (d) Allowance ($.40 daily) for use of horse and arms for 12 days, $4.80.

The servants' allowance, which the captain signed for, included a clothing allowance, figured at $2.50 per month, or $.0833 for a 30-day month and $.0806 for a 31-day month.

<sup>4</sup> Strickland's initial is clearly "S" on the roll, but that initial may have been the result of a copying error. An Isaac Strickland of Fulton County was active in the militia there and served in two 1832 companies.

<sup>5</sup> The names of both J. B. Farris and James Cordell are entered in the "Signers' Names" column, though the entry in the "Balance Paid" column is lined out in both cases. The total indicates that one or the other was paid; which one is not known. J. Snively signed as witness beside both names.

<sup>6</sup> This name may have been miscopied from Purtle on the mustering-out roll. A Peter Purtle of Fulton County served in the 1832 campaign.

I certify that the foregoing Roll exhibits a true state of my Staff officers as commander in Chief of the Illinois Militia in the service of the United States, that they were actually in service of the United States for the periods therein Stated, doing active duties of all Kinds required of them, although in some cases they may not have had the actual duties to perform which officers of the United States Army of Similar commissions might have to perform.

John Reynolds Gov. and Com. in Chief Ill. mil.

[ANS] Note—The above Muster Roll was made by Major Thomas and when I Signed the Same, I did not d[e]ducet to the place of discharge. I was at Rock Island on the 14th. Augt. 1832

25 April 1833.

John Reynolds Com. in chief Ill. Mil.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: "Wright 2d June 34 18178." Although this roll is not dated, it is probably the one which Reynolds sent to Paymaster General Towson on Jan. 14, 1833 (see Reynolds to Towson, Feb. 16, 1833). Compare with the staff rolls of May 27 and June 23, 1832, which follow.

The last column, unheaded, has been omitted. Remarks given there follow the names of Milton K. Alexander, "Elected Brigadier Genl 16h. June 1832," and Stephen B. Shelledy [Shelledy], "appt Brigade Major of 2 Brigade." The notation, "Paid by PayMr. Andrews," follows the names of Reynolds, Chadwick, Stapp, Jarrot, Alexander, Grant, Hickman, and March.

Staff officers given credit on this roll for service during the May 28-June 12 period performed few, if any, duties. On June 10 Vital Jarrot signed an order as adjutant general. Alexander and Shelledy were nowhere near the army then in service; neither were they with Governor Reynolds.

Reynolds himself left the army on July 10, returned to Belleville, and remained in southern Illinois until his departure for Galena and Rock Island some time after the actual hostilities had ceased. Theophilus Smith and the Governor's aides, Grant and Hickman, left the army with the Governor on July 10.

For more detailed accounts of the service and payment of the Governor's staffs, see Reynolds to Grant, July 28, 1832; Brant to Reynolds, Aug. 6, 1832; Atkinson to Reynolds, Oct. 31, 1832; Reynolds to Cass, Dec. 6, 1832; Reynolds to Robinson and Reynolds to Towson, both of Feb. 16, 1833; and Reynolds to Atkinson, April 25, 1833.

John Reynolds      Com. in chief Ill. Mil.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. The last three columns of the original roll, "Time in Service," "Names of those present," and "Remarks," are omitted here. The "Names present" column is identical with the first column above; the other two are blank.

A property roll listing the valuation of the arms, accouterments, and horses of the Governor's staff is also in the Stevens Coll. James Turney and William G. Brown appraised the property and signed the roll on May 5, 1832. On the May 5 roll Vital Jarrott (so spelled) is listed as "Asst Adjt Genl." and Reddick Horn as "Chaplain Waggon &c."; all other officers are the same.

STAFF OF GOVERNOR JOHN REYNOLDS, JUNE 23, 1832

E. C. Berry, Adj't. & Inspector Genl.

DS, IHi. The last two columns, "Names present," and "Remarks," are omitted. The "Names present" column is identical with the first column above. The only remark follows the name of Adj. Gen. Elijah C. Berry, "detached on seperate service June 26th 1832."

appointed to the staff of the brigade. His name does not appear on the brigade staff rolls, however, and it seems safe to assume, therefore, that Hook transferred to the Governor's staff rather than to that of a brigade. Hook may have been paid directly by the U.S. Army's quartermaster department for his services in the campaign. If he were so paid, this would account for Governor Reynolds's having omitted his name from the composite roll submitted to Washington for approval of payment. Numerous Illinois volunteers who left their companies to serve in the commissary and quartermaster departments do not appear on staff rolls.

DS, IHI: Stevens Coll. The heading of the roll is in the handwriting of James Semple and the remainder in that of Nathaniel Buckmaster. No other roll of Whiteside's staff has been located.

We the undersigned called upon to appraise a horse belonging to Genl. Saml. Whiteside now in the service of the United States do on honor value him at one hundred dollars this 24th. day of April 1832.

ADf, IHi: Stevens Coll. The entire document is in the handwriting of James Semple, who prepared many of the orders issued by Gen. Samuel Whiteside over the signature of Maj. Nathaniel Buckmaster.

This roll lists thirty-five captains. Three, Jacob Ebey, Japhet A. Ball, and Seth Pratt, are listed twice. Attached to the brigade later were the seven companies of Col. James Johnson's 5th Regiment.

<sup>6</sup> The only available muster roll of Capt. James White's Hancock County company lists the company as part of Maj. Samuel Bogart's Odd Battalion, which was not formed until June, 1832. The roll does not mention the earlier service of the company in Whiteside's Brigade, although twenty-one of the company's sixty-one members are said to have enrolled on April 30.

Governor Reynolds wrote to Gen. Henry Atkinson on May 4 from Yellow Banks (now Oquawka, Ill.): "There are here about twenty five men from Hancock without arms. Please send that number of muskets for them to this place before we start." This group of men was no doubt White's original company, which apparently was considered part of Maj. Thomas James's Odd Battalion at this time. On the later service of the company, see the company roster.

quartermaster (in IHI: BHW Coll.), shows that White's company drew supplies on May 3, and Henry Eddy's report to Governor Reynolds, Jan. 1, 1833, in I-A, shows that the company drew twelve guns on May 1.

DS, IHI: Stevens Coll. Filing note: "Capt Moore 1st. Regt." Columns 6, 7, and 8 of the original roll are omitted here. The fourth, sixth, and seventh state that the company was enrolled on April 18 by William Moore for 60 days. The eighth indicates the presence of company members at the muster-out; absentees are shown in the "Remarks" column. William G. Brown, No. 14 on this roll, was also a member of the regimental staff, but he is marked present in the company on May 28. IHI also has a duplicate of this roll from DNA. The DNA roll has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in David Prickett's handwriting. One name is spelled differently, that of 3d

Corp. Jarvis M. Jackson.

A mustering-in roll, signed by Moore and made out and countersigned by John J. Hardin at Beardstown on April 27, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. The April 27 roll has the following variations in names: Nos. 5, Pleasant N. Dupuy; 10, Jarvis M. Jackson; 20, James Cooke; 21, Wm. Cooke; 23, Jesse J. Everet; 25, Samuel Gaskell; 29, Johnathan Moore; 40, John Whiteside.

Gideon Simpson Capton

DS, IHI: Stevens Coll. Filing note: "Capt. Thomas' 1st. Regt. Simpson." Four columns of the original roll, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled by John Thomas on April 18 for 60 days; all company members are marked present except Abner Crocker. The roll is not dated and gives no mustering-out information in the heading, but the remarks, at least, must have been added at the time of the muster-out.

Another roll in the Stevens Coll. is a copy of the above. It differs only in the spelling of one name, that of No. 26, given as Jos. Walker.

IHI also has a photostat of the official mustering-out roll in DNA, signed by Simpson and bearing the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. The heading of the DNA roll states that the company was "Mustered out of the Service of the U.S. at the Mouth of Fox River Ills on the 28th. of May 1832—distant 300 miles from the place of Enrolment." On the back of the roll is the following note signed by Simpson: "Daniel McHenry returned & served out his time in my Company."

A property roll made out by Adam W. Snyder and signed by Snyder and John A. Blackwell, April 29, 1832, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. This roll includes a Levi Wilderman not listed on any of the other rosters. Names with varying spellings on the property roll are as follows: [5] John W. Wood, [6] Pritteman Boyce, [12] James W. John Tate Captain

CD, IHI: Stevens Coll. Columns 7 and 8, "period of time" and "present," are blank in the original and omitted here. Columns 5 and 6, also omitted, show that the company was enrolled on April 18 by John Tate. This roll seems to have been made at the mustering-in at Beardstown on April 28 and revised, with remarks added, to be used in preparing the official mustering-out roll. The signature probably is not Tate's.

IHI has a photostat of the official mustering-out roll from DNA with Tate's signature. The DNA roll also has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. There are no additional remarks on the official roll, but the following names are spelled differently: Nos. 3, Abram B. Vandegrif; 7, Georg W. hook; 13, charles Askens; 14, Peter B. bear; 15, Bone ham Bear; 17, James N. charles; 19, Atason Dingle; 20, Peter Dun; 23, Robert Higgins; 24, Ichabod Higgins; 26, Samual Hootes; 27, Antheny Hootes; 30, Jefferson Lynden; 31, Joseph Lindon; 33, Absalem Miller; 35, Hopson Owens; 36, charles Oens; 37, Ellet Oens; 39, Horbord patason; 40, Georg Perce; 41, James powers; 44, Akernan Skinner; 45, frances Sulllevant; 48, Samual Wood.

A mustering-in roll, not signed by Tate but countersigned by John J. Hardin at Beardstown, April [28], is also in IHi: Stevens Coll. This roll contains forty-seven names, omitting No. 16, James Bleir. The only remark on the roll follows Captain Tate's name: "Elected 18th. April 1832." Names on the April 28 roll with different spellings: 3, A. B. Vandergriff; 20, Peter Dunn; 24, I. T. Higgins; 29, Jefferson Lynden; 30, Joseph Lynden; 34, Hopson Owens; 37, Ellit Owens; 39, Herbert Patterson; 40, George Pierce; 42, James Rador; 44, Ackman Skinner; and 45, Francis Sullivan.

I do hereby certify that . . . according to the best of my knowledge that this muster Roll exhibits a true statement of my company of Volunteer mounted Militia on th[is] date and that the Remarks Opposite their names are correct & Just.

John Winstanley Capt'n

ADS, IHI: Stevens Coll. The first twenty-eight names on the roll appear to have been written by at least two, perhaps three, different persons. The remainder of the roll is in Winstanley's handwriting. Filing note: "Capt. Winstanly 1st. Regt." Columns 7 and 8, omitted here, are headed "Period of Time" and "Names of those present." The company was enrolled for 60 days. The "Names present" column is blank except for guidelines to the "Remarks." The fifth and sixth columns, also omitted, show that the company was enrolled by the captain on April 18, 1832.

The official mustering-out roll in DNA (III) has photostat<sup>1</sup> was also made out and signed by Winstanley and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. No additional remarks are on the DNA roll, but the following names are spelled differently: Nos. 1, John Winstanley; 8, Narcisse Pincinneau; 9, Joseph McMurtry; 10, James R. Grigory; 13, Thomas Brunly; 15, Alexis Barthume; 16, Jno. Baptise Decoto; 25, Laurent Pincinneau; 28, Phillip Tetter; 36, Joseph Whiteside; 39, Rodolph Wildy (or Wildey); 41, Francis Jarrott.

A mustering-in roll made out and signed by John J. Hardin at Beardstown, April 29, 1832, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. The following spelling variations are given on that roll: 1, John Winstanley; 2, Aaron Stookey; 8, Narcisse Pensonneau; 9, Joseph McMurtry; 10, James Gregory; 11, George P. Dikes; 12, Thomas W. McBride; 15, Alexis Bartome; 16, John B. De Coto; 17, Vital Jarrott; 22, Jarret Laird; 24, Jacob J Eastwood; 25, Laurent Pensoneau; 28, Philip Teter; 34, Louis Pinsoneau; 35, Louis LeCompt; 36, Joseph Whiteside; 37, Adam W. Snider; 39, Rodolph Wildy; 40, John Stubblefield; 41, Francis Jarrett; 42, William H.

Mitchel; 44, Louis Wemmet; and 46, Ambrose Meker.

Mileage from St. Clair County to Beardstown is not given on the April 29 roll.

An unsigned return dated April 18, 1832 (in IHI: Stevens Coll.), gives only the names of company members, Ambrose Meeker, Peter Menard, Solomon Teter, and Louis Wemet [Ouilmette] are not included in the return, and Richard Hay's name has been marked out. The following names differ from those on the May 28 roll printed above: 1, John Winstanly; 8, Narcisse Pensoneau; 9, Jos. McMurtry; 10, James Gregory; 11, George P. Dikes; 12, Thomas W. McBride; 15, Alexis Bartome; 16, John B. De Coto; 17, Vital Jarrott; 25, Laurent Pensoneau; 26, Gille Walker; 31, David Brock (instead of David Roach, as given on the other rolls); 34, Louis Pensoneau; 35, Louis LeCompt; 37, Adam W. Snider; 39, Rodolph Wildy; 40, John Stubblefield; 42, William H. Mitchel.

<sup>1</sup> Although Mitchell is not listed as surgeon's mate on the staff roll of the 1st Regiment, it seems likely that he did serve in that capacity from April 28 or 29 until about May 4. With the exception of Dr. J. M. McTyr Cornelius, who was appointed surgeon's mate May 12, all other 1st Regiment staff members are said to have been appointed April 28. The mustering-out roll of Capt. Thomas Harrison's company, James's Odd Battalion, of which Cornelius was originally a member, states that he became surgeon's mate of the 1st Regiment, transferring out of the company on May 9.

Mitchell probably left the army some time after it reached Oquawka the night of May 3. The Illinois Advocate [Edwardsville] of May 8 states, "We learn from Dr. Mitchell, that our Volunteers . . . arrived at Henderson river, on the evening of the third inst. . . ." Stories written in such a manner were usually based on first-hand information. Apparently, then, this news was brought by Dr. Mitchell himself.

<sup>2</sup> Menard and Louis Wemet [Ouilmette] did not join the company in St. Clair County, where it was enrolled April 18. The association of the two men and the continuity of their service in later companies provides strong circumstantial evidence of their identities despite misspellings of their names and a confusing number of places of enrollment.

Peter Menard, or Pierre Menard, Jr., as he was sometimes called, was the son of Illinois' first lieutenant governor. In the spring of 1832 he was at Peoria, where he was serving as Indian subagent. Louis Ouilmette has been identified by Frank E. Stevens as a French trader familiar with the Peoria-Dixon area (Trans. ISHS, VII: 171-72). He may have been Antoine Ouilmette's son Louis, described in Chicago History, Vol. III, No. 5, pp. 138, 141, 142.

Governor Reynolds sent both Ouilmette and Menard, among others, as scouts to the Potawatomi on May 12 or 13 (Reynolds, My Own Times, 230; Reynolds and Whiteside to Atkinson, May 14, 1832). Both Menard and Ouilmette joined Adam Snyder's 20-day company when Whiteside's Brigade was discharged, and both were "on express" when that company was mustered into service May 28. In the third volunteer force Menard and Ouilmette were taken into U.S. service as members of Jacob Peaman's Randolph County company in the 3d Regiment of the 3d Brigade. However, when William Gordon's spy company was formed on June 28, they transferred to that group. On the roll of Gordon's company, the residence of both men is given as Peoria.

<sup>3</sup> Louis Ouilmette is probably the correct name, although the commonest spellings on the muster rolls are variations of the Anglicized "Wilmette." In a few places he is given the middle initial "C." He may have had the initial, but the capital "O" beginning "Ouilmette" may have been misread and miscopied as the initial "C." For a summary of his Black Hawk War service, see n. 2 above.

<sup>4</sup> Meeker did not enroll in this company when it was organized in St. Clair County on April 18, but there is no further indication as to his residence on any of the muster rolls of Winstanley's company. He was undoubtedly the "Ambers M. Meeker" of St. Louis, Missouri, who joined Samuel Smith's 20-day company after the discharge of Whiteside's Brigade.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. Columns 4, 6, and 8 are omitted here. The fourth column, "When appointed," shows that all staff members except the quartermaster sergeant assumed their duties April 30. The sixth column, "Period [of enrollment]," is blank. The eighth, "Remarks," shows the first seven staff members present. No entries were made for Roberts and Durley. The only remark in the column follows the name of Foster: "on Command by Exchange with Dr Layton [Jonathan Leighton] at Rock Island, and Surgeon Mate Layton present fit for duty, in his place."

IHi also has a photostat of the official mustering-out roll from DNA. It also is signed by Fry and bears the note, "Signed Duplicates." The DNA roll has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. Notations on the DNA roll which do not appear above give the original enrollment dates of all staff officers except Foster. Fry and Gregory were captains from April 20; Freeman and Wheelock, privates from April 23; Bennett and Delany [Dulaney], privates from April 20; Roberts and Durley, privates from April 17. The following three names are spelled differently on the DNA roll: Philip W. Martin, William H. Delany, and Calvit Roberts.

I certify on honor that this muster Roll exhibits the true state of Captain Levi D Boone's Company of Mounted Volunteers of Illinois Militia on this day, and that the remarks set opposite their names are accurate and just.

Signed at Beardstown this 26th day of April 1832

Levi. D. Boone      Commanding the Company

[NS] Mustered and countersigned this 26th day of April 1832.

John J Hardin      Inspector and Mustering Officer

DS, IHI: Stevens Coll. Columns 4, 6, 7, 8, and 9 are omitted here. They show that the company was enrolled by Captain Boone on April 20 for 60 days and that all company members were present at the mustering-in. In Column 9, headed "Remarks," an entry opposite the captain's name states, "Elected 20th. April 1832."

The mustering-out roll of the company was signed by Boone and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett; IHI has a photostat of the DNA original. The heading states that Boone's company "of the second Regime[n]t commanded by Colo. Jacob Fry . . . [was] Mustered out of Service of the United States at the Mouth of Fox River on the Illinois River on the 28th of May 1832 Distance from the place of enrolment two hundred and ten Miles." The DNA roll lists the company members present on May 28. The following six men are omitted: Nos. 8, William McDavid, "Absent on furlow"; 29, Stephen Killingsworth, "Absent on furlow"; 34, James Hawkins; 35, Harrison Brown; 36, Benjamin R. Williams, "Discharged at Bairdstown, 27th April & not Hawkins [signed] L. D. Boone"; and [51] Joshua Hunt.

The May 28 roll is poorly written and whether all of these men were actually absent or merely omitted from the roster cannot be known. One other remark on the roll follows the name of No. 23, Michael Fennin, "Lost a Rifle Gun in the service appraised to 18 Dollars." One man was "Absent by permission to hunt his horse," but it is impossible to tell whether this man was Johnson Hampton, Thomas J. Todd, Daniel Steele, or Ephraim Killpatrick. The following names have spelling variations on the DNA roll: 2, James G. Human and Hunan; 4, H. C. Benett; 5, C. B. Blockberger; 7, Israel Fogleman and Fogleman; 8, William M. David; 11, C. S. Coffey; 14, William D. Sherly; 16, George E. Ludwick and George E. Lutrick; 17, G. W. Coniers; 18, Artemesa H. Knapp and Artema H. Knapp; 23, Michael Fanin and Fenia; 26, Daniel Steel; 29, Stephen Killingsworth; 30, McKinsie Turner; 31, Sam. Ishmael; 35, Harrison Brown; 37, Eli Robb; 43, Curtis Scrivener; 45, Wm. Griffith; 46, James Grisham; 50, Barnabas Michael. The second variant is given in the "Names Present" column.

On the back of the May 28 roll is the following note signed by Boone: "Williams was discharged solely because his horse was lost & not for any offence or misconduct."

A property roll signed by James Young and William Jordan at Beardstown, April 25, 1832, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. Joshua Hunt is not listed on this roll. The following names are spelled differently: 1, Levi D. Boon; 10, Alexander T. William; 11, Cleaveland Coffee; 14, William D. Sherly; 16, George E. Lutrick; 17, Georg W. Coniers; 18, Artimis H. Kapp; 23, Michael Finin; 26, Daniel Steel; 29, Stephen Killingsworth; 30, McKinsey Turner; 31, Samuel Ishmael; 35, Harrison Brown; 37, Eli Robb; 43, Curtis Scribener; 45, William Griffith; 46, James Grisham; 50, Barnabas Micheal.

ADS, DNA. The entire certificate of inspection, including Buckmaster's name, is in the handwriting of David Prickett. Columns 4 and 6, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled by Charles Gregory on April 20, 1832.

A mustering-in roll of the company, signed by Charles Gregory and countersigned by "John J. Hardin, Inspector and Mustering Officer," at Beardstown, April 28, is in IHI: Stevens Coll. One name on the April 28 roll, that of Wesley Hunter, is scratched out with the remark, "gone without Leave." Two other men on the April 28 roll are not listed above. They are George Hardin and James McNial, both privates. Two men on the mustering-out roll are not listed on the April 28 roll. They are George Hazlewood and William Gilleland, Nos. 28 and 31 above.

The April 28 roll lists the following officers: Charles Gregory, captain; Thomas Chapman, 1st lieutenant; Thomas Hill, 2d lieutenant; Levi Whiteside, 1st sergeant; Isaac Moore, 2d sergeant; Aaron Hart, 3d sergeant; Michael Hedrick, 1st corporal; Sam'l Pinkerton, 2d corporal; and John F. The following names have spelling variations on the April 28 roster: Henry Philips, 3d sergeant above, and Pmts. 15, Wm. C. Shelton; 17, George A. J. Elmore; and 18, Robert Welsh.

The distance from the place of enrollment to the place of mustering-in is given as 60 miles.

I certify on honor that I have carefully examined this Muster Roll, & that I have this 28th. day of May 1832, mustered and minutely inspected for discharge the above named company of Mounted Volunteers, commanded by Brig. Genl. Samuel Whiteside.

Nathaniel Buckmaster Inspector & Muster Officer

ADS, DNA. Columns 4, 6, and 7 of the original roll are omitted here. The fourth and sixth columns state that the company was enrolled on April 20 by David Crow, when, as a matter of fact, it was enrolled by its first captain, Philip W. Martin. The seventh column and the "Remarks" column were not written by Crow, who made out the rest of this roll. The man who filled in the last two columns was barely literate, and almost every name in the seventh column is misspelled. The only significant variation is that of No. 9, whose name is given Talbert instead of Talbot. The Buckmaster certificate is entirely in the handwriting of David Prickett.

Two other rolls for this company are in IHI: Stevens Coll. One, made out and signed on April 23 by "Philip. W. Martin, Captain," states that the company was "Mustered into the Service of the United States at Rushville Illinois on the 23" day of April 1832 distant 60 miles from the place of enrollment." The Orville Hickman Browning Journal (in IHI: Stevens Coll.) gives the date of the county militia muster at Quincy as April 23. The Adams County companies marched from Quincy on the 25th, reached Rushville on the 27th, and were incorporated into the 2d Regiment on the 30th.

Remarks on the April 23 roll follow the names of Martin, "Promoted to Major 30" Apl"; David Crow, 1st Sgt. on April 23, "Promoted to Capt 30" Apl"; and Pvt. E. L. R. Wheelock, not listed on the roll above, "Promoted to Pay Master 2nd Regt 30" Apl 1832."

The sergeants on April 23 were Crow, 1st; John Crawford, 2d; J. F. Battelle, 3d; and James Crawford, 4th. George Campbell, who later became 2d sergeant, was a private at that time. John Fletcher, 3d corporal on May 28, was a private on April 23. He apparently succeeded John M. Ruddell, who was 3d corporal when the company was mustered into service but is listed on the roll above as a private.

Names spelled differently on the April 23 roll: Nos. 6, J. F. Battelle; 8, Danl Hearty; 9, Coleman Tolbort; 12, Atwell Worl; 15, A Hillary; 19, J. Hattan; 20, R. Baty; 24, A. Harty; 31, Roberts McCoy; and 35, J. M. Ruddell.

An undated property roll, signed by Elijah G. Lillard and James M. Crawford, has these spelling variations: 6, John F. Battel; 8, Daniel Harty; 9, Coleman Talbort; 12, Awell Worl; 13, Stephen O. Pain; 15, Alexander Hillery; 17, William Hynes; 19, James Hatten; 20, Robert Baty; 21, Claibourn Campbell; 24, Abraham Harty; and 31, Robins McCoy.

The property roll omits the names of J. M. Ruddell, John Points, John Lang, and Joseph McCoy but includes Martin and Wheelock, giving their staff rank. The only other difference is that Jeremiah Stone is listed as 3d corporal and John Fletcher as 4th.

The mustering-out roll in DNA (IHi has photostat) was made by two different persons, one of whom signed the roll for James; the signature is not his. The DNA roll has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett, signed at the mouth of Fox River on May 28. Absentees on that date were Nos. 18, Hugh B. Gwynn, "absent on Furlough—horse drown[ed] in crossing Henderson River"; 47, Calvert Roberts, "Promoted to Sergt. Major on 30th April 1832"; 51, James Durley, "Promoted to qr master Sergt of the 2n[d] Regt on the 30th Apl 1832." The heading of the roll gives the distance from the place of the muster-out to the place of enrollment as 250 miles.

DS, DNA. The entire Buckmaster certificate of inspection is in the handwriting of David Prickett.

Columns 6, 7, and 8, headed "Muster'd out of service by," "Period of time," and "Names of those Present," are blank in the original and omitted here. Column 4, which gives the date of enrollment as April 20, is also omitted.

An undated, unsigned roll of this company is in IHI: Stevens Coll. The IHI roll lists the following five men not on the mustering-out roll: 4th Corp. James Means and Pvts. Zaharias Cornelius, Aaron Green, William R. Smith, and John Radish [Reddish]. Reddish apparently transferred to Carlin's company on May 10 at Rock Island. See the roll of that company.

Names with spelling variations on the IHI roll: 1st Sgt. Th. G. Briggs; 2d Sgt. Benjamin F. Massey; 3d Sgt. James Burk; 1st Corp. Josiah Dawning; 2d Corp. Wm Phillips; and Pvts. 13, William H. 38, Wm. Naron; and 39, Daniel Costley.

The IHI roll gives the rank of the commissioned and noncommissioned officers but supplies no other information.

The receipt roll for this company (IHI has photostat from DNA) also lists thirty-nine company members. The total pay amounted to $1,814.70; the company was paid by Timothy Patrick Andrews, and the roll bears his account number 17155. William P. Tillton, a sutler, signed as witness to the disbursements, and some of the recipients' signatures are in the handwriting of William Thomas of Jacksonville, who accompanied the paymaster on his circuit. The company was estimated to have traveled 250 miles from the place of enrollment to the rendezvous, and travel pay was figured on that basis. The pay for privates in this company averaged $43.18 for service of one month and 7 days plus travel time. Steamboat fare of $3.50 was deducted from the pay of John D. Sutton.

The officers listed their servants as John Lofton, 30; ——— Fleming, 25, and David Metcalf, 30, all identified as white men.

Signed at Beardstown this 28th day of April 1832

Commanding the Company.

John J Hardin Inspector and Mustering Officer

CD, IHI: Stevens Coll. Columns 6, 7, 8, and 9 of the original roll are omitted here. They show that the company was enrolled by Jacob Fry for 60 days and that all company members were present. The one entry in Column 9, "Remarks," follows Fry's name and reads: "Elected 20th. April 1832."

IHI also has a photostat from DNA of the mustering-out roll signed on May 27 at the mouth of Fox River, 230 miles from the place of enrollment. Smith's name is affixed to the roll but is probably not a signature. The roll has the usual Buckmaster certificate of inspection made out by David Prickett and is endorsed: "Capt Saml. Smith 2d. Regt."

The mustering-out roll does not include Privts. 42 and 43 above, John Piper and David Stennett, but does list the following ten men not given on the mustering-in roll: Israel Piper; Richard G. Lee; Harvy Crane; Nicholas Campbell, "Appointed 1st Corpl May 8th. Claim disallowed by Sen 76240 June 17 '87."; Shedrich Goan; Fielden Atchison; Isam Adcock; James D Scott; [William] C Rfenna; [James Turney], "In the Staff." Missing portions of the last two entries have been supplied from Elliott, 119-20, and Governor Reynolds's staff rolls.

Two of the above men who joined the company after the original muster were probably from McDonough County; they are Nicholas Campbell and Shedrich Goan (or Shadrack Goens); see McDonough County (1878), 37.

Two others, Harvy Crane and Fielden Atchison, may have been from Morgan County; they served at various other times in companies composed principally of Morgan County men.

Additional remarks on the May 27 roll are:

1. Jacob Fry, "Elect Col. 30th. April 1832."
2. Samuel Smith, "Elect Capt. 30th April. 1832."
3. E. D. Baker, "Elected 1st Lieut 30th April."
4. Mathias S. Link, "Elected 2nd Lieut 30th April."
5. Martin Rigsby, "Absent with Leave."
6. Wyatt Whittle, "Absent with Leave."
7. Luther Tunnell, "Transferred to the Spy Battalion 10th May."
8. William Tunnell—the entry after Luther Tunnell's name was entered on the original roll between the names of Luther and William and apparently was meant to refer to both men; both Luther and William did serve in Thomas Carlin's spy company.
9. Thomas Samuel, "Deserted."
10. Squire Wood, "Elected 1st Sergt 13 May."

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. Filing note: "Wm. Ross & E. Petty Comp'ys 3d. Rgt." Columns 6, 7, 8, and 9 of the original roll are omitted here. Columns 6 and 7 show that the company was enrolled by William Ross for 60 days. Column 8, "Names present," is blank, and Column 9, "Remarks," has one entry—after the name of William Ross. It reads, "Elected 20th. April 1832—appointed aid to Genl Whiteside."

An unsigned, undated property roll, also in IHi: Stevens Coll., includes the seventy-eight men above, with the following spelling variations: 2, Benjamin Barney; 4, Bridge Whitten; 17, Nathanil C. Triplet; 20, Samuel W. Lowe; 26, James Grear; 27, Gilum Bailey; 28, Harrison Decker; 29, Emery Swiney; 37, Caleb Bailey; 45, William Malary; 51, Matthias Bailey; 55, Oran Parkus; 56, Apolus Hubbard; 57, Chitester B. Louis; 58, James Woosley; 59, Hansel G. Horn; 67, William Linch; 72, Meredith W. (or H.) Coffey; Ira Shelley Jun.

On April 28 this company was divided, and a second company composed of thirty-seven men under the captaincy of Elisha Petty was organized. Only one of the thirty-seven—James Ross—is not listed above in William Ross's original company.

IHi has a photostat of the mustering-out roll of the remainder of Ross's company; original in DNA. The roll was signed by "Benj Barney" on May 27 at the mouth of Fox River, 250 miles from the place of enrollment, and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of service in the handwriting of David Prickett. According to the remarks on the roll, all officers were elected April 28. Below is a list of company members, with additional remarks from the mustering-out roll. The second spelling is from the "Names Present" column and is given only when it differs from the first:

1. Benjamin Barney, captain.
2. Israel N. Bert (Israel N. Burt), 1st lieutenant.
3. Lewis Allen (Louis Allen), 2d lieutenant.
4. Bridge Whitten, 1st sergeant.

31. Meredith W. Coffey.
32. Emery Swiney (Emery Swinney).
33. Jonathan B. Allen.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. Endorsed: "Wm. T Givens 3d. Regt." The last four columns are omitted here. They show that the company was enrolled by Captain Givens for 60 days and that all company members were present. In the last column, headed "Remarks," all commissioned and noncommissioned officers are stated to have been "Elected 21st. April 1832."

The company mustering-out roll was signed by Givens on May 27 at the mouth of Fox River, 120 miles from the place of enrollment, which is given as Franklin, Morgan County, on this roll. The DNA roll also has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of service in the handwriting of David Prickett and the following note signed by Givens: "The rations & Forage together which I drew whilst in Service did not amount to more than one ration of subsistence per day. The servant which I actually employed during my service was William Clayton a white man 27 or 28 yrs of age. Wm. T Givens Capt Illinois Militia."

"Remarks" on the DNA roll follow the names of five men: Nos. 9, 2d Corp. Reuben Buchannon, "Furlowed & sent Back on the 28th of April 1832 Vury sick"; Buchannon was succeeded by James Brian, listed as Pvt. 22 above, 13, William H. Clayton, "Furlowed & returned on the 28th April 1832, sick." 27, William Weatherford, "Elected & appointed Leuit Col of the 3rd. Regiment on the 29th April 1832." William Gibson, not listed above, is given as a private on the DNA roll, with the remark, "Detailed as Waggoner on the 28th April 1832." Frederick McDonnell, also a private on the DNA roll but not listed above, was "detailed into the service of the Quartermaster on 27th April 1832." He may have been the Frederick McDaniel who enrolled in John Sumners's company, but left that unit for detached service with the army on May 19. Joel Reynolds, 3d sergeant above, is not given on the DNA roll; but Joseph Reynolds, Pvt. 29 on April 27, is given as 3d sergeant on the DNA roll.

Spelling variations on the DNA roll: Nos. 5, James Pryor; 7, Asa Johnson; 9, Reubin Buchhannan; 11, Jasper Roland (Joseph Roland in "Names Present" column); 15, Hiram Vanwinkle; 16, Alford Tannahill; 19, George Deatherage; 21, Henderson Vickers; 25, Jacob Smith; 26, Robert Greer; and 30, William Sollers or Sallers.

An unsigned, undated property roll in IHi: Stevens Coll. lists Joel Reynolds as 3d sergeant but omits Joseph Reynolds and William Sollars, Pvts. 29 and 30 above, and Pvts. William Gibson and Frederick McDonnell, who are listed on the DNA roll as company members. Names spelled differently on the property roll are: 3, Thomas Write; 4, Joab Talkington; 9, Rewbin Buckhannon; 11, Jasper Roland; 15, Hiram Vanwinkle; 16, Alfred Tannehill; 19, George Deatherage; 22, James Brian; 25, Jacob Smith; and 26, Robert Greuer.

Attached to the property roll was the following DS, also in IHi: Stevens Coll.:

We the Subscribers appointed by the Commander in chief to appraise the arms equipments & horses of the Company of mounted Volunteers under the command of Capt William T. Givens have attended to that duty & certify on honor that we have made the appraisement to the best of our judgment as by the Muster Roll hereto annexed.

April 25, 1832

<sup>1</sup>The roll of Capt. William Weatherford's company of the 1st Regiment, Duncan's 1831 Brigade, lists two men named Walter Butler as company members. One was a private and the other was 2d sergeant. If that roll is correct, there must have been two Walter Butlers in Morgan County. It is not known which one later became the 1st lieutenant of this company—if either did. Presumably the Walter Butler who served as captain of a company in the 1st Regiment, 3d Brigade, and 1st Lt. Walter Butler of Givens's company were the same man.

IHI also has a photostat from DNA of the mustering-out roll, signed on May 27 by "John Harris" at the mouth of Fox River, 246 miles from Carlinville, the place of en-

They are opposite the names of Nos. 17, Oliver Hall, "Claim disallowed by Sett. 61,391 Sept 20/86"; 19, John Coop, "his horse valued at $68. died from a forced march"; 29, James T. Hall, "his horse valued at $40.00 gave out on a forced march. Lost"; 31, Levin N. A property roll signed by L. N. English and William G. Coop at Beardstown, April 27, 1832, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. There are variations in the following names: 4, Aquila P. Pepperdine; 14, Wyatt R. Hill; 15, George Matthews; 24, Headley McVey;

25, Thomas Thurman; 28, Wm. Ealum; 32, Theodorus Davis; and 36, Henry B. Rhea.

AD, IHI: Stevens Coll; the roll is in Petty's handwriting. IHI also has a photostat, from DNA, of the company's mustering-out roll, made out and signed by "Elisha Petty," with the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. The heading reads: "Muster Roll of Captain Elisha Petty Company of the third Regiment . . . mustered out of Service at the mouth of Fox River on the 27th day of May, 1832 distance 250 miles from the place of enrollment." That roster also shows that the company was enrolled by William Ross in Pike County, April 20, 1832, and that all of the commissioned and noncommissioned officers were elected April 28. Other remarks follow the names of three men: Joseph McLintock [McClintock], "Gun Valued at $18 bursted when fired by command of the Colonel"; Thomas Edwards, "Hors Valued at $70 Broke down on the March"; and Berry Hume, "horse Valued at 65$ Strayed or Stolen."

This company and that of Benjamin Barney were originally united under the command of Capt. William Ross. See the roll of Ross's (later Barney's) company, also in the 3d Regiment. Only one man in Petty's company, 1st Lt. James Ross, is not listed on that roll.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. The roll is in the handwriting of John J. Hardin. Filing note: "Wm. B Smith 3d. Regt." Smith" on May 27 at the mouth of Fox River, 200 miles from the place of enrollment. On the back of the roster is the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett.

The last name is given "Laughrey" in Elliott, 96. Stephen Gesford, No. 23 above, is not entered on the mustering-out roll. Felix Ray, No. 21 above, is 3d corporal on the mustering-out roll. Signed at Beardstown this 28th day of April 1832

Nathan Winters Commanding the Company

John J Hardin Inspector and Mustering Officer

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. Filing note: "Nathaniel [Nathan] Winters 3d. Regt." The last four columns, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled by Captain Winters for 60 days, that all company members were present on April 28, and, under the heading "Remarks," that the captain was elected April 21.

IHi has a photostat of the mustering-out roll from DNA. That roll was signed by Winters on May 27 at the mouth of Fox River, 215 miles from the place of enrollment. The body of the roll is in the handwriting of John J. Hardin, and the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection is in the handwriting of David Prickett.

The mustering-out roll lists eight men who were not on the April 28 roll but omits two who were included there. The eight additional company members are James F. New, who is listed as 3d corporal, and Privates Henry James, Elijah Powell, David Campbell, Robert D. Neal, Thomas Dixon, Joseph Dew, and Samuel Johnson (also given Johnston). All of these men were marked present at the muster-out, although Neal, Dixon, and Dew were detailed as wagoners and Johnson was "detailed into the service of the commander in chief." The two original company members who were not given on the mustering-out roll are Orin H. Claton [Clayton ?], 3d corporal on the April 28 roll, and Francis F. New, No. 34 above.

Other remarks on the May 27 roll follow the names of Nos. 23, James Adams, "his horse valued at $40. lost by a forced march"; 35, Benjamin Beesley, "Absent on furlough"; 38, Alexander Beall, "Elected Major April 29th 1832"; 39, John Axby, "his horse valued at $70. strayed or stolen"; and 41, Albert Wells, "his horse valued at $70. strayed or stolen." In addition, all officers are said to have been "Elected April 21st 1832."

Names with spelling variations on the DNA roll are those of Nos. 6, David Grattan; 8, Asa C. Earle; 11, George W. Sawyer; 13, James Sawyer; 25, Presley Funk; 26, Thomas M. Gillham; 35, Benjamin Beasley; 37, Asa Cooper; 38, Alexander Beall; and 40, William Coultis.

IHi: Stevens Coll. does not have the company's property roll but does contain the following document which lists the value of property of three company members who joined the group after it had started its march from Beardstown. The document is in the handwriting of James Sawyers, one of the signators.

[NS] Mustered and Countersigned this 28th day of April 1832

John J Hardin      Inspector and Mustering Officer.

CD, IHI: Stevens Coll. Filing note: "L. W. Goodan 4. Regt." Although this roll is in a clearly legible handwriting, there are so many misspelled names it is assumed the roll must have been copied from a poorly written and poorly spelled first draft. The last four columns are omitted here. Columns 6 and 7 show that the company was enrolled by Captain Goodan for 60 days. Columns 8 and 9, "Names of those Present" and "Remarks," are blank.

IHI also has a photostat of another roll of this company (original in DNA), made out and signed by "L. W. Goodan" on May 28 at the mouth of Fox River. The DNA muster roll has the Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett. Written in pencil above the "Remarks" column is the following note: "175 miles ? See Staff Roll 4 Regt." On the 4th Regiment staff roll, the distance from the mouth of Fox River to the place of enrollment for Goodan's company is given as 175 miles.

Three men not listed on the April 28 roll are given as privates in the company on May 28. They are Thomas Sherrill, who, Goodan wrote, "Joined My [Company] on the 18t May"; Jack Kirk, "Joined My Company on the 1[st May ?]"; and Samuel O[']Neale. A Thomas Sherill of Sangamon County was also enrolled in Ebey's infantry company and was present at the muster-out of that company, if the roll is correct.

The DNA roll lists the following noncommissioned officers: 1st sergeant, Alford Wood, No. 34 above; 2d sergeant, Hiram Watson, No. 66; 3d sergeant, John Ridge, No. 24; 4th sergeant, Milton Humes, No. 53; 1st corporal, John Kline, No. 9; 2d corporal, Wm. Fourteen original members of the company transferred to the Spy Battalion. They are No. 80, James D. Henry, "appointed Maygor of the Spies on the 28t Dy of April 1832"; and the following thirteen who "Joined the Spies on the 1st Day of May": Nos. 8, James Taylor; 14, Edward Jones; 15, Elijah Iles;

20, L. D. Matheney; 21, James F. Reed; 26, P. A. Sanders; 30, David Dickeson (the DNA roll has "D. Dickison," and the correct name is Dickerson); 35, John Keys; 43, Joseph Garrett (Garet on the DNA roll); 60, E. P. Oliphant; 61, John T. Stevart (Stewart on the DNA roll); 62, George Glascock; and 81, Wm. Potts.

A. Lincoln Capt

I certify on honor that I have carefully examined this Muster Roll, and that I have this 27th. day of May 1832, mustered and minutely inspected for discharge the above named Company of Mounted Volunteers, in the Brig[ade] commanded by Brig. Genl. Samuel Whiteside.

Nathaniel Buckmaster Inspector & Muster Officer

ADS, DNA: AGO. Endorsed: "Vou 6[2 ?] Andrews 17155." The Buckmaster certificate is in the handwriting of David Prickett.

IHI also has a photostat of another ADS mustering-out roll, the original of which is owned by Brown University. Two men on the above roll, Thomas Long and William Green (Nos. 67 and 68), are not on the Brown roll. However, that roll includes Royal Potter, not listed above. The following two remarks on the Brown roll are not on the DNA roll: 2d Lt. John Brannen, "Absent on extra duty," and 4th Sgt. Obadiah (so spelled) Morgan, "Absent on furlough." Three remarks on the DNA roll are omitted on the Brown roll. They follow the names of Privates Alexander, Pantier, and William Hohimer. In addition to "Obadiah" Morgan, two other names are spelled differently on the Brown roll: Samuel Dutton and Isaac Gulihur. The name of Pvt. Wms. T. Sprouce (later gunsmith) is spelled out "Williams" T. Sprouce on the Brown roll.

company returned home after their discharge on May 27. Several of them almost immediately reenlisted in Charles R. Pierce's company, which marched to the rendezvous at Fort Wilbourn but was not required for U.S. service and was ordered discharged. The Thomas Long of Lincoln's company was probably the same Thomas Long who enrolled in Pierce's company in Sangamon County on June 2. Both Lincoln's and Pierce's companies were composed principally of men from what is now Menard County.

The Thomas Long who was major of the Odd Battalion of Infantry in Whiteside's Brigade was likely the Thomas Long who served in Elijah Iles's company from May 27 until June 16. His home was southeast of Springfield. On the basis of available evidence, it appears that two Thomas Longs from Sangamon County served in the Black Hawk War. See Sangamon County (1876), 465; Green to Reynolds, June 4, 1832; George M. Harrison to William H. Herndon, n.d., photostat in IHI; Herndon MSS; muster rolls of Iles's and Pierce's companies.

ADS, DNA. The entire Buckmaster certificate of inspection is in the handwriting of David Prickett.

Columns 4, 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 6 state that the company was enrolled by Captain Ralls on April 23. Columns 7 and 8, "Period of Service" and "Present," are blank. The bracketed portions of names are covered by mending tape on the original roll, and the missing letters have been supplied from the roll in IHi: Stevens Coll.

The IHi roll was also made out and signed by Ralls on May 28, but it does not have the Buckmaster certificate. The names of two privates are spelled differently: Nos. 27, Rosnel [?] Briant, and 38, Alexander Vanwinckle.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. Columns 5, 6, 7, and 8, headed "Who by," "Period of time," "Those present," and "Remarks," are omitted here. The fifth and sixth columns are blank in the original. Remarks in the eighth column follow the names of Lt. Col. Isaiah Stillman, "Absent in command by order," and Maj. David Bailey, "A[b]sent By order." All staff members are listed present except Bailey and Stillman.

IHi also has a photostat of the mustering-out roll in DNA, which has one additional remark after the name of Colonel Johnson, "capt from 24 Apl to 16 May." Following Johnson's certificate on the DNA roll is the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection, made out and signed by David Prickett. On the DNA roll the major's name is spelled correctly as "Bailey." After Johnson's name in the column headed "Who by" is the entry "150 miles."

<sup>1</sup> "May 28" was written over the original entry "Apl. 27th.," despite the fact that the staff was mustered out May 27. On the DNA roster the date of Morgan's enrollment is given as May 20.

The roll of Capt. Abner Eads's company states that Aquila Wren, formerly 1st sergeant of that company, was promoted to quartermaster sergeant May 17 and gives that as the date of his "discharge" from the company.

CD, DNA. The body of the roll is in the handwriting of William Thomas of Jacksonville, Illinois.

Peoria County, no travel. The last seven men on the roll were from Pekin, Tazewell County, 100 miles.

The last three columns, "Place of Residence," "Traveling Distance," and "Remarks," are omitted on this transcript. Johnson was from Decatur, Macon County, 150 miles traveling distance (presumably from place of discharge to place of residence); Stillman, Hunt, and Donaldson were from Canton, Fulton County, no traveling distance; Taylor was from Lewistown, Fulton County, 15 miles travel; Hackleton (the correct spelling) was from Spoon River, Fulton County, 20 miles; Langworthy was from Peoria,

There are two remarks on the roll. Isaiah Stillman was "appointed Lt Col[onel] 16h. May 1832," and Augustus Langworthy "Resigned 24h. May at Home."

DS, DNA. The Buckmaster certificate is in the handwriting of David Prickett. A pencilled note on the face of the roll says, "See deposition of Capt Briggs for other names." A note on the back of the roll reads, "90 miles to Pekin from the Mouth of Fox River."

Columns 4 through 9 of the original roll are omitted here. Entries in Columns 4-8, dealing with enrollment, show that all company members were enrolled by J. G. Adams at Pekin on April 27, 1832, for 20 days' service. Column 9 lists the company members present on May 27; absentees are indicated in the "Remarks" column. Names spelled differently in the ninth column are those of 2d Corp. Conway Rhods; 3d Corp. H. Hittle; and Pvts. 17, R. Concil; 20, W. Cline, and 29, S. Hanson.

Another mustering-out roll, in a different handwriting but signed by Hyde, is in IHi: Stevens Coll. The IHi roll includes one private, James Boothe, marked absent without leave, who is not on the DNA roll. The following are names with spelling variations from those above: 1st Sgt. Mitchel Reeder;

2d Corp. Conaway Roades; 3d Corp. Hartsel Hittle; 4th Corp. David Hanger; and Pvts. 12, Chapman Williamson; 13, Phinis Berry; 19, Green Cullom; 20, William Cline; 21, John Coffe; 22, Rees Morgan; 25, Benj. Orendoff; 27, George Gordon; 28, William A. <sup>1</sup> Michael Hittle, also of Tazewell County, approved for his biography the statement that he too had served in this company and had participated in the battle of May 14; see Tazewell County (1879), 550. No record of his service has been found. Michael Hittle and Hartsel Hittle were two men and not, as is sometimes the case, alternate names for one person; see Mrs. George Spangler, "Early Marriages in Tazewell County," Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society, XIV (1921-1922): 138, 145.

Day of May 1832

M. L. Covell Capt. Commanding the Company

ADS, IHI: Stevens Coll. Omitted here are Columns 6, 7, and 8, headed "who by," "Period of Time," and "Those Present." The company was enrolled by Captain Covell. Under "Period of Time" the entry "36 days" is marked true for each man. Those men not on leave are listed in the eighth column.

Another mustering-out roll, also made out and signed by Covell, is in DNA (IHI has photostat). The only difference in the two rolls is that the DNA roster has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett.

The company receipt roll (original in DNA) also lists forty-seven men and bears account number 17155 of Paymaster Timothy Patrick Andrews. Total pay for the company amounted to $1,622.17; average pay for privates was $33.76 for service of one month and 4 days. William Thomas signed as witness to the payment. Joseph Draper's pay was received by John S. Draper, "Father and representative."

Each officer certified that he actually employed the servant for whose allowance he was paid.

I certify upon honour that this Rank Roll exhibits a true state of the Staff officers in the Spy Battalion composing a part of the Brigade of Mounted Volunteers under the command of Brigadier General Samuel Whiteside called into the service of the United States, and this day mustered out of service, & that the remarks set opposite the names of the officers are accurate & just.

James D Henry Commanding Spy Battalion

CC, IHI: Stevens Coll. The third column of the original roll, omitted here, gives the date of commission for all staff officers as May 26.

From the mileages given, it seems likely that Woodson was also from Madison County. The Aug. 14, 1832, issue of the Illinois Advocate [Edwardsville] states, "Dr. Woodson, Having settled in Edwardsville, offers his professional services to the citizens of Madison County." This notice implies that Dr. Woodson's settlement in Madison County came after his service in the Black Hawk War.

I certify on honour that this muster Roll exhibits the true State of Capt. Thomas Carlins Company of Mounted Volunteers of Illinois Militia on this day and that the remarks set opposite their respective names are accurate & just.

Signed at the mouth of Fox River of the Ills. River the 28th day of May 1832.

Thomas Carlin      Capt. Co. Mounted Volunteers.

CC, IHi: Stevens Coll. The entire roll is in the handwriting of James Semple. Columns 4, 6, 7, and 8 are omitted. Columns 4 and 6 state that the company was enrolled on April 20 by Captain Carlin. The seventh, period of enrollment, is blank. In the eighth column all those present at the muster-out are listed. The only absentees were Nos. 4, Mearel E. Rattan; 6, James Gilliland; 12, William H. Dulaney; 16, William Gilliland; and 19, John C. Williams. Joseph Woodson, No. 51, who was appointed to the battalion staff, is listed as present with the company at the muster-out.

IHi has three other rosters of this company.

The official mustering-out roll in DNA (photostat in IHi) was signed by "Tho. Carlin" and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of service in the handwriting of David Prickett. The DNA roll gives different dates and places of enrollment for four men: Nos. 51, Joseph Woodson, enrolled at Beardstown on April 26; 54, Roswell H. Spencer, enrolled at Rock Island on May 8; and 55 and 56, Luther and William Tunnell, enrolled at Rock Island on May 10.

The following variations in names are given on the DNA roll: Nos. 4, Mearel E. Rattan; 5, David Thurston; 7, Harison Boggess; 12, William H. Dulaney; 28, John Huitt jnr.; 39, George Linder; 40, Philamon Reno; 41, Preston Bogus; 42, Rheubin Herrick; 44, Talbert Edwards; 47, Zuriath Finley; 55, Luther Tunnel; 56, William Tunnel.

A property roll for Carlin's company, signed by James Turney and Jesse V. Mounts, April 26, 1832, at Beardstown, omits six of the men above: 19, John C. Williams; 51, Joseph Woodson; 52, John W. Scott; 54, Roswell H. Spencer; 55, Luther Tunnel; and 56, William Tunnel.

The property roll gives Elen [Elon] Eldred, No. 32 above, as 1st sergeant and Preston Bogus [Bogess], No. 41, as 3d sergeant. Names spelled differently on the property roll, in addition to Elen Eldred, are Nos. 3, Geo. Davidson Sams; 4, Meril Rattan; 5, David Thurston; 6, James Gilleland; 7, Harrison Bogus; 8, Lewis D. Edwards; 12, William H. Dulaney; 13, William Hauskins; 14, William Pinkarton; 15, Williamson Baning; 16, Wm. Gilleland; 18, John F. Pinkarton; 28, John Huitt; 31, Larkin Rattin; 35, Howel Dody; 39, George Linder;

40, Philemon Rano; 44, Tolbert Edwards; 47, Zury Finley; 48, Henry B. Pinkarton; 50, Sterling Thaxton; 57, John Reddisk.

A mustering-in roll, signed by John J. Hardin at Beardstown on April 28, 1832, is also in IHI. This roll does not list either Spencer or the Tunnells, Nos. 54-56 above. The only remark on the roll follows the name of John W. Scott, No. 52: "detached on express by the commander in chief April 21st. 1832 and rejoined the company May the 18th. 1832." Name variations: 2, Jesse V. Mount; 4, M. E. Rattan; 5, David Thurston; 7, Harrison Boggess; 9, Josiah Ashloe; 11, William Findley; 12, Wm. H. Dulany; 17, Wm. H. Whitesides; 21, John B. The April 28 roll gives the distance from the place of enrollment to the place of mustering-in as 60 miles.

John Dawson Cpt.

Entitled to Forty eight & a half days service

Computed distance from the place of enrolment 175 Miles

J Dawson Cpt.

CC, IHi: Stevens Coll. The last column, omitted here, shows that the company was enrolled by Captain Dawson. The mustering-out roll in DNA may be an ADS; IHi has a photostat. The DNA roll differs only in that it has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection, in the handwriting of David Prickett, and a few spelling variations. The names which differ are those of Nos. 45, Alphred Powell; 71, Ethelbert S. Oliphant; and 75, Presly A. Sanders.

The Stevens Coll. also contains a mustering-in roll and a property roll. The mustering-in roll was signed by John J. Hardin at Beardstown, April 28, 1832, and includes only the first sixty-two men given above. Names spelled differently are those of Nos. 5, Harrison McGeery; 7, John Rutherford; 10, Leymore R. Vanmeter; 11, Hugh McGeery; 17, John Rodgers; 25, Archelas Desmon; 27, Joel Miner; 50, John Ridgeway; 53, Robert Heyls; and 60, Hugh Barnett. The names of William Johnson and John Critz are on the roll, but their substitutes, Jacob Killyon and Samuel Evans (Nos. 28 and 55 above), are not listed. Beginning with John Bridges (No. 32) the names were entered by Hardin.

The heading of the April 28 roll gives the distance from the place of enrollment to the place of mustering-in as 65 miles.

The property roll, which was signed by Montgomery Warrick and Hugh McGary, April 27, 1832, also lists only the original sixty-two members of the company. Names with spelling variations: Nos. 17, John Rodgers; 25, Archelas Demon (or Dernon or Desnon); 27, Joel Miner; 33, Wm. M. Kelly; 45, Alphred Powell; 50, John Ridgeway; 53, Robt. Heyls (or Hughs); and 57, Calohill Stone. Neither of the substitutes, Killyon or Evans, is listed.

I do certify that the above roll with t[he aforesa]id Remarks are correct to the best of my knowledge upon honour

John Dement      Captain

I certify on honor that I have carefully examined this muster Roll, & that I have this 28th. day of May 1832, mustered & minutely inspected for discharge, the above named company of Mounted Volunteer Spies, commanded by Brig. Genl. Samuel Whiteside.

Nathaniel Buckmaster      Inspector & Muster Officer

DS, DNA. The entire Buckmaster certificate is in the handwriting of David Prickett. Columns 5, 6, and 7 are omitted here. The fifth and sixth columns state that the company was enrolled on April 20 by Captain Dement, and the seventh, headed "Names," is identical with the "Names" column above.

A mustering-in roll, signed at Beardstown (125 miles from Vandalia) April 27 by the captain and by John J. Hardin as mustering officer, is in the Dixon Public Library (IHl has photostat). The entire roll is in Hardin's hand. There are fifty-six men on the April 27 roll; it omits Bryant Whitfield, No. 20 above. It includes Robert Green, who is on the roll above but not numbered.

Names spelled differently on the April 27 roll are Nos. 2, Dempsey Yarbrough; 3, Abram Starnes; 5, Joseph Hickman; 6, Henry B. Robards; 8, William B. Stapp; 9, Thomas N. Gaines; 10, Isaac B. Taulbee; 13, Matthew Duncan; 14, William L. D. Morrison; 15, Nathaniel Sanburn; 19, Lenhart O. Shrader; 22, Nelson Ryall; 24, Henry Witley; 28, Washington Dimond; 29, Daniel Doolin; 30, John Herrington; 36, Andrew J. Phelps; 42, Coleman Morris; 44, Joseph Patterson; 48, Epheldred Yarbrough; and 53, Robert Glass.

The mustering-in roll states that the company was enrolled at Vandalia on April 20 for 60 days, and elected officers that day.

On April 30 the following nineteen men in the company signed a document (probably for Quartermaster William Thomas), each certifying receipt of a musket from the state of Illinois which they pledged to deliver at the end of the campaign: Wyatt B. Stapp, Joseph H. Hickman, John F. Posey, L. O. Shrader, John B. Hankins, Edward Conner, F. M. Gaines, Madison Allen, Coleman Norris, Joseph Patterson, Eldridge Cole, Daniel Doolin, Henry Scroggins, Amos Eakle, Nathl Sanburn, Bryant Whitfield, Rodger Glass, Henry Wiley, and Thomas Duncan.

<sup>2</sup> The three "dos" were written over the remark, "appointed pay master of spie bat 26th april 1832."

Thomas James      Major Cong. odd Bat.

DS, IHI: Stevens Coll. Columns 5 and 6 of the original roll are omitted here. Column 5 gives the distance from the place of muster-out to the residence of each staff member, and Column 6 names those present on May 28. Absentees were James Whitlock and John James, who resigned, and George Gordon, who was on furlough. The sixth column spells the surgeon's name "Heyden."

Thomas James, James Moore, Beard, Horine, Johnston, John James, Haskins, and J. Milton Moore were mustered out 350 miles from their homes, which were in Monroe County. James Whitlock of Fayette County was 250 miles from home, and Richardson, Headen, Gordon, and Vaughan, all from Shelby County, are said here to have been mustered out 210 miles from home.

IHI also has a photostat of the mustering-out roll in DNA which has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection and is endorsed, "T. P. Andrews, 25 Apl '33 Sett. 17155." The entire DNA roll is in the handwriting of David Prickett. The "distance from residence" of Richardson, Headen, Gordon, and Vaughan has been corrected to 275, instead of 210, miles.

In the last column penciled notations supply additional remarks and the original enrollment date of each staff member as follows: Thomas James, "Co. muster roll says from 19 April"; James Moore, "sergt 19 Apl to 28th"; Beard, "pr[ivate] 19 Apl to 18 May"; Whitlock, "priv from 20 April"; Horine, "pr 19 Apl to 28"; Johnston, apptd Farrier 19 Apl & sergt Major 18 May"; John James, "pr from 19 Apl"; Richardson, "pr 24 Apl"; Headen, Gordon, and Vaughan, "pr 24 Apl to 4 May inc."; Haskins, "as pr from 19 Apl to 28"; and J. Milton Moore, "19 Apl pr—see Cap Harrison's Co."

The DNA roll spells the following names differently: N. C. Johnson, William Heyden, George Gordon, and James W. Vaughan in one column—Vaughan in another.

The companies making up this battalion were those of Thomas James (later Thomas Harrison's), Daniel Price, and Peter Warren. James Semple's rank roll of Whiteside's Brigade (ca. May 5, 1832) lists James White as captain of a company in this battalion. White's company was detached from the brigade on May 19 and after a short stay at Fort Armstrong returned to Hancock County where it had been enrolled. The company later joined Bogart's Odd Battalion of Mounted Rangers and was not mustered out of U.S. service until Sept. 5, although it is doubtful that the original company remained an effective organization during the entire period from April 30 to Sept. 5.

I certify on honor that this Muster Roll exhibits the true state of Captain Thomas James Company of Mounted Volunteers of Illinois Militia on this day; and that the remarks set opposite the names of the men are accurate and just. Signed at Beardstown this 28th day of April 1832.

Commanding the Company

[ANS] Mustered and countersigned this 28th day of April 1832.

John J Hardin Inspector and Mustering Officer.

CD, IHI: Stevens Coll. The entire roll is in the handwriting of John J. Hardin. Filing note: "Capt Thomas James Thomas Harrison Odd Batt." Columns 6, 7, 8, and 9 of the original roll are omitted here. Columns 6, 7, and 8 show that the company was enrolled by Thomas James for 60 days and that all company members were present on April 28. Column 9, headed "Remarks," is blank.

IHI also has a photostat from DNA of the mustering-out roll, signed "Thomas Harrison Capt Commanding" on May 28, 1832, at the mouth of Fox River, 350 miles from the place of enrollment. This roll has the usual Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in the handwriting of David Prickett.

When Thomas Harrison became captain of the company, he was succeeded as 1st Lieutenant by Edward T. Morgan, No. 28 above. The remark opposite Morgan's name reads, "[Entitled to pay] as private 19th. to 28 of Aprl. then Elected 1 Lieut. 1832." William McNabb, No. 34 above, was 3d corporal on May 28, succeeding Moses Haskins. All other officers are given as above.

The DNA roll lists James Whitlock as a private in the company, stating that he enrolled at Beardstown on April 30 and was "on furlow" when the company was mustered out. Whitlock enrolled at Vandalia in John Dement's company on April 20 and presumably remained with that company until he was appointed quartermaster of James's Odd Battalion on April 28. He resigned that post May 18.

Other remarks and name variations on the May 28 roll:

2. Thos. Harrison, "Entitled to pay as 1 Lieut. from 19th. aprl. to 28 then appointed capt. 1832."
4. Jas. Moor, "[Entitled to pay] as sergeant 19th. to 28 aprl. then appointed Ajt. 1832."
6. Felix Clark.
8. William McNoor.
10. Moses Haskins, "Entitled to pay from 19th. aprl. to 28 as private then appointed Brigad Trumpetter."
11. Henery Hartline.
12. Shadrach G. Bond.
13. Scippee Baird, "appointed Qr. mastr.

- 18th. may 1832."
14. John Birch.
15. Fielder Birch.
17. George Clark.
19. No Wm. M. M. Cornelius is listed, but J. M. McTyre Cornelious is listed as a private, with the remark, "Transferred on the 9 may to another Regiment Surgeons [mate] 1st. Regi[ment]."
- The "Wm. M. M." was probably a copying error.
20. Stephen Easten.
21. Gramer Fisher (Grammer in "Names Present" column).
22. Michael Horine, "appointed pay master 28th. aprl. 1832."
23. John James, "on furlow appointed Sergn. Majr from 28th. Apr . . . [Resigned] 18 may 1832."
25. Caleb Lacy.
27. John McDaniel, "appointed 1st. Sargent 28th aprl. 1832."
31. J. Milton Moor, "appointed Brigade culler Barer 28th. apl. 1832."
35. Jas. McCulah.
36. Henery Nowlin.
37. Henery Neff.
41. John Rogers.
42. John Right.
44. Michael Shook.
50. Solomon K. Snider.
51. Nathan C. Johnston, "Farrier appointed Farrier 19th. aprl. 18th. M[ay] 1832 . . . [sergeant major]."

A property roll for this company, signed by James Moore, John C. James, and Scipio Beaird, April 29, 1832, is also in IHI: Stevens Coll. On this roll Harrison is given as captain, Edward T. Morgan as 1st lieutenant, and Thomas James as major; Whitlock is not on this roll. Names spelled differently are those of Nos. 4, James Moor; 5, Thomas Tailor; 6, Felix Clark; 8, W. Mc Moore; 9, Penattet Hill; 11, Henery Hartline; 14, John Birch; 16, Steph. Brookes; 17, George Clark; 19, J. M. M. Cornetious; 20, Steph. Easten; 21, Gramer Fisher; 51, N. C. Johnston; 24, John Kid; 27, John McDaniel; 31, J. M. Moor; 33, James McNab; 34, Wm. McNab; 35, James K. McCaler; 36, Henery Nowlin; 37, Henery Neff; 40, Wm. Ramsey [?]; 41, John Rogers; 42, John Rights; 45, Ashbridg Star; 46, Edward Tod; 47, Exerxes F. Trail; 48, Nimrod Triplet; 49, R. M. Wiatt; and 50, S. R. Snider.

DS, DNA. The Buckmaster certificate is in the handwriting of David Prickett. Columns 4, 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. Columns 4, 6, and 7 show that the company was enrolled on April 24 by Daniel Price for 60 days. The eighth column, "Names of those present," has the remark "on furlow" after the names of Nos. 2, William Williamson; 9, Isaac Daniel; and 29, Jeremiah Daniel. The roll is badly faded and has been repaired with mending tape so that several names and remarks are illegible. Missing portions of the roll have been supplied from the printed roster in Elliott, 110.

Two other rolls of this company are in IHI: Stevens Coll. One, an undated and unsigned "rank roll," merely lists the company members. The following names are spelled differently: Nos. 4, Lenn S. Mosley; 5, E[li]jah Biggs; 11, William More; 14, David Douthert or Dauthert; 15, Hugh Auston; 17, Jordan Ball; 19, Green B. Frazure; 26, David Elliott; 29, Jeramiah Daniel; and 34, Isaac N. Johnson.

The second roll in the Stevens Coll. is a property appraisal signed by Wm. Price and Jordan Ball on April 30, 1832. This roll has the following name variations: 4, Lynn S. Mosley; 5, Elijah Beggs; 8, William More; 12, Hugh Auston; 13, Aman Daniel; 14, Davie Dauthert; 26, David Elliott; 27, Washington Greer; and 31, Isaac N. Johnson (numbers those on appraisal).

Columns 4, 6, and 7 show that the company was enrolled on April 24 by Peter Warren for 60 days. Illegible remarks and names have been supplied from the printed roster in Elliott, 111.

Genl. Samuel Whiteside of the Brigade of Mounted Volunteers of Illinois Militia, and that the remarks set opposite the names of the staff officer are accurate & just. Signed at the Mouth of Fox River on this 28th. day of May 1832.

Thomas Long      Major Commanding the odd Battalion

CC, IHi: Stevens Coll. The entire roll is in the handwriting of David Prickett. The fifth column, "Names of those present," is omitted here. According to the roll, the only absentee was Matthew Duncan. As a matter of fact, Jonathan Leighton was probably also absent. The staff roll of Dewitt's 2d Regiment of Whiteside's Brigade states that Leighton exchanged places with John F. Foster. Presumably, then, Foster was on duty with this battalion and Leighton with the 2d Regiment at the muster-out.

IHi also has a photostat of the DNA mustering-out roll, which is in a different handwriting but not Long's. It bears the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection in Prickett's handwriting and is endorsed, "Andrews 17155." A note not on the IHi copy states that "M. Duncan [was] promoted from private of Capt: Dement's Co: of Batt. of Spies—26 April 1832." The paymaster's name is given more fully as "John L. Thompson," and the quartermaster's name is spelled "Vauter Henderson" in the "Names Present" column. This column states also that Matthew Duncan was a "priv. from 20 Ap to 25 Ap. inc."

<sup>1</sup>Summers was originally captain of a company, later commanded by Seth Pratt, in which Leighton and Burton were also first enrolled. The company was formed in Morgan County—at Beardstown, according to the April 28 roll, although the mustering-out roll states that company members were entitled to transportation back to Jacksonville. Duncan was enrolled in Fayette County. The other staff members were enrolled in Sangamon County, with the possible exception of John L. Thompson, about whose war service and enrollment nothing else is known.

<sup>2</sup>Thomas Long arrived at Beardstown as captain of a company, according to John Carroll Power's Sangamon County (1876), 465. The only two pieces of evidence corroborating this statement are confusing, inasmuch as each points to Long's having been captain of a different company.

Jacob Ebey's company was enrolled, the muster roll states, "by Major Long." Customarily, companies were enrolled by their original commanders—thus it would seem that Long was the first captain of Ebey's company.

More direct evidence, however, points to his having commanded the company known as Japhet A. Ball's. The record book of William Thomas, brigade quartermaster (in IHI: BHW Coll.), shows that provisions were issued to Captain Ebey's company on April 28 and 29 and to Captain Long's company on April 27 and 29. All of the men under Captain Long to whom supplies were issued were members of the company later commanded by Ball.

It is possible, of course, that both companies were united under Long's command until the battalion was organized at Beardstown.

I certify on honor that this muster roll exhibits a true statement of Capt Japhet A. Ball's Company of mounted volunteers of Illinois Militia detached for foot purposes, and that the remarks set opposite their names of the respective men are accurate & just Signed at the mouth of Fox river in the State of Illinois. Lasalle County this 28th of May 1832

Japhet A. Ball Capt

CC, IHi: Stevens Coll. IHi also has a photo-stat of the mustering-out roll in DNA, which was signed by Ball and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of service in the handwriting of David Prickett. Only two names are spelled differently on the DNA roll: Nos. 31, Jesse Mitts, and 47, Thomas Swearingen.

The Stevens Coll. also contains a mustering-in roll made out and signed by John J. Hardin at Beardstown, 50 miles from the place of enrollment, April 29, 1832. The Hardin roll lists only forty-three men, omitting these eight on the roll above: 5, James McCormack; 6, William F. Cox; 9, John M. Barnes; 11, Richard Cox; 45, Daniel Waters; 46, Robert Patton; 47, Thomas Swearingen; and 48, John Vincent. Three men on the Hardin roll are not given in the mustering-out roll. They are Sion R. Green and Benjamin Howard, both of whom joined the battalion staff, and William Sollars, who apparently transferred to the company of William Givens in the 3d Regiment.

No corporals are designated on the Hardin roll, and the sergeants are given as follows: 1st, Harvey Graham; 2d, Ben. Howard; 3d, Joseph M. ("W." above) Duncan; and 4th, Charles Day.

Variations in spelling as given on Hardin's roll: Nos. 16, Johnathan Coleman; 17, Louis C. Jones; 18, Henry Averill; 19, Daniel Kethum; 22, Joseph Hazlett; 24, William Gatting; 27, Nathan H. Spear; 28, Solomon Hawse; 30, William McCoreince

(obviously miscopied from a misspelling, probably "McCormic"); 34, Garrett Tempy; 35, James Warde; 38, Sam'l C. Hamton; 39, Moses Writer; and 40, John J. Kendoll.

Signed at Beardstown this 29th day of April 1832.

John J Hardin      Inspector and Mustering officer.

DS, IHi: Stevens Coll. The body of the roll is in the handwriting of John J. Hardin, who also signed the mustering certificate. The last three columns, "Period of Time," "Names of those Present," and "Remarks," are omitted here. The company was enrolled for 60 days. The "Names Present" column is incomplete; presumably all members were present. There are no remarks.

IHi also has a photostat of the company's mustering-out roll, which is in DNA. This roll was also signed by Ebey and has the Nathaniel Buckmaster certificate of inspection, in the handwriting of David Prickett. The company was discharged at the mouth of Fox River on May 28.

The DNA roll includes the following six men not given above: John Davis and Felix Herndon, who enrolled in Sangamon County on April 21, according to the roll; John Graft, who enrolled at Rock Island on May 10; and Obadiah Rittenhouse, James Taylor, and Samu[e]l R. Scovie. The last three enrolled at Beardstown on April 29. Rittenhouse was "Absented without leave 17th. May 1832," according to the remarks on the roll.

I certify on honor that this muster roll of Captain John Summers' Company of foot volunteers attached to the Brigade of Mounted Volunteers of Illinois Militia on this day, and that the remarks set opposite the names of the men are accurate and just. Signed at Beardstown this 28th day of April 1832.

Commanding the Company.

[ANS] Mustered and countresigned this 28th day of April 1832

John J Hardin      Inspector and Mustering officer.

CD, IHI: Stevens Coll. The roll is in Hardin's handwriting. Columns 6, 7, and 8, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled by Captain Summers for 60 days and that all company members were present except those whose absence is indicated by the remarks. One name, that of Levi H. Wakeman, No. 26, was struck out in the "Names" column, but the numbering of the roll was left unchanged. Wakeman's name is entered on the property roll but does not appear on the company's mustering-out roll.

The mustering-out roll in DNA (IHI has photostat) was signed by Seth Pratt, captain commanding the company, and "Th[omas] J Beall Major USA." Beall mustered the company out of service at Rock Island on June 3, 1832, when he signed the usual certificate of inspection and discharge, adding that company members were entitled to transportation from Rock Island to Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois. On this roll the company was credited with service from April 21, instead of April 26, as given above.

In addition to Wakeman, who probably did not serve, eleven men on the April 29 roll were not given on the June 3 roll. John Summers, the original captain, became adjutant of the battalion. James P. Edwards, No. 47 above, is not on the mustering-out roll, and no further record of his service has been found. The following nine men transferred to Jacob Ebey's company: Nos. 14, Jesse Byus; 15, Alfred Hash; 17, George Cothy; 20, James D. Byus; 21, Uriah L. Wolverton (of the four rolls on which Wolverton's name appears, the Hardin roll above is the only one giving the initial); 48, John J. (or G.) Newhouse; 51, Lawrence McManus; 55, John Hillis; and 56, William Martin.

The June 3 roll includes two men who were not given as company members on April 29. They are Stephen L. Cooper and William C. Overstreet. Simpson Stuart, No. 58 above, succeeded Pratt as 1st sergeant. Other spelling variations and remarks on the June 3 roll follow:

2. John M. Crabtree, "For Duty."
3. Joseph Leister, "For Duty."
4. Seth Pratt, captain, "Commanding Company."
12. Thomas Burton, "Appointed Drum Major by Major Jacob [Thomas] Long April 29th, 1832."

16. William Foster, "On Detached Service with the Army May 19th. 1832."
18. Isaac Gullihier, "On Detached Service with the Army May 19th. 1832."
19. Isaac Schmick.
23. John H. Bolware, "Sent to the Hospital Sick May 10th. 1832 Furloughed to the Expiration of Service."
27. Nathan Bradbury.
28. John Letcher, "On detached Service with the Army May 19th. 1832."
29. Frederick McDaniel, "On detached Service with the Army May 19th. 1832."
30. Francis McConnell.
34. James M. Low.
36. Amos Bradley.
53. Parnell Hamilton.
54. Berry Castlebury.
57. Jonathan Russ.
59. Jonathan Leighton, "Appointed Assistant Surgeon by Major Jacob [Thomas] Long April 29th. 1832."
60. Isaac Booth.
61. John Bradshaw, "Dismissed May 12th. 1832. Claimed as a Deserter By T. F. Smith, Capt. of 1st. Infantry."

The property roll in IHI: Stevens Coll., undated and unsigned, lists only fifty-eight company members, omitting the last three on Hardin's roll: Leighton, Boothe (or Booth), and Bradshaw. Name variations follow: Nos. 7, Abraham Crabtree; 19, Isaac Schmick; 23, John H. Bolware; 26, Levi H. Wakemen; 27, Nathan Bredbery; 34, James M. Low; 36, Amos Bradley; 42, Henry Braintly; 43, Charles (the name "Clark" may have been written over "Charles") Birdsell; 48, John G. Newhouse; 51, Lawrence McManus; 53, Parnell Hamilton; 57, Jonathan Russ; 58, Simpson Steward.

Mustered out of the service of the U. States by order of Brig Genl. Atkinson this 15th. day of June 1832

Robt. Anderson Asst. Inr. Genl.

A Copy. R A.

Anderson Muster Book, III. Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. The fourth and fifth columns show that the entire staff was enrolled May 27, 1832, for a period of 20 days. The sixth and seventh columns, giving the valuation of horses and equipment and arms, have only a few entries. The eighth, or "Names Present," column shows three absentees at the time of the muster-out. They were Lt. Col. James D. Henry, "Absent on Cond. by Order of 7th. June"; Maj. John Thomas, "Absent on Comd. since 9th. June"; and Surgeon's Mate Johnathan Layton [Jonathan Leighton], "Absent on leave since 7th. June 1832."

III also has a photostat of the official muster-out roll from DNA. The DNA roll has Fry's and Anderson's signatures and is endorsed: "T. P. Andre[ws] 25 Apl 17, 1832." Two names are spelled differently—those of the adjutant, "Ethelbert P. Oliphant," and the surgeon's mate, "Jonathan Layton."

The regiment commanded by Col. Jacob Fry is said by General Atkinson to have been composed of "enough men to form six companies" (Atkinson to Macomb, May 30, 1832). When T. P. Andrews, U.S. paymaster, scheduled the first payments to 1832 soldiers, he stated that the companies to be paid were from Whiteside's Brigade and "the six companies organized out of . . . [Whiteside's Brigade] and commanded by Col. Jacob Fry" (Andrews' notice of Nov. 29, 1832).

Five of the companies of the 20-day Regiment were commanded by Capts. Elijah Iles, Benjamin James, William C. Ralls, Samuel Smith, and Adam W. Snyder. The sixth was probably the company of Capt. Alexander White of Hancock County. Although White's company differs from the others in many respects, it was enrolled for 20 days and some of its members, at least, did report at Quincy on Dec. 24, 1832, the day appointed for paying soldiers from Whiteside's Brigade and Fry's Regiment then living in that area. Documents in the BHW Coll. contain no mention of White's company's having been in the Ottawa-Dixon area during the May 31-June 15 period, but neither are James's and Ralls's companies ever mentioned by name. However, if White's company had been either regularly enrolled or mustered out at Ottawa by a U.S. Army officer, the certificate of the Governor which appears on the company's muster roll would not have been necessary. It seems likely that this company never received orders directly from Fry or General Atkinson but served as a frontier-guard company, being considered nevertheless, for the purposes of payment, a part of the regiment. Another difference in White's company is that its members had not served earlier in Whiteside's Brigade.

Other companies frequently listed in secondary sources as part of the interim regiment vary even more sharply than White's from the pattern of the 20-day companies. John S. Wilbourn's and Alexander D. Cox's companies, for example, were both infantry companies. Wilbourn's men, though enrolled for 20 days, had entered service at Beardstown on May 22, before Whiteside's Brigade was discharged, for the specific purpose of guarding supplies on board the steamboat en route up the Illinois River to the supply base that was to be known as Fort Wilbourn. Cox's company, composed principally of men who had served earlier in Thomas Long's Odd Battalion of Infantry, reenlisted for 30 days, also for the specific purpose of guarding supplies.

George McFadden's company of La Salle County mounted volunteers was in service in the Ottawa area during approximately the same period of time served by Fry's command but was enrolled for 30 days and seems to have been a home-guard company authorized by General Atkinson and subject to his orders but not a part of Fry's command.

Anderson Muster Book, IHI. Four columns of the roll are omitted here: the fourth and fifth, which give the date of enrollment as May 27, 1832, and the period of enrollment as 20 days; and the seventh and eighth, which give the valuation of horses and equipment and arms of each company member.

The original mustering-out roll, signed by Iles and Anderson, is in DNA: AGO, RG 94; IHI has photostat. In addition to the remarks, which Anderson noted fully, the roll bears the following notation, in the handwriting of William Thomas and signed by Iles (Iles, a state senator, was in Vandalia for the 8th Illinois General Assembly, which was in session when U.S. Paymaster T. P. Andrews, accompanied by William Thomas, arrived there to pay the Fayette County troops):

Elijah Iles Captain being sworn states, that Presley A Sanders whose name appears on this Roll had a Gun of his own during the period of his service, James Rutledge & J Graft who appear to have had no horses procured, Horses directly after their Enrolment, & had them during the period of service, they were not present at the time of mustering out, and the remarks opposite their names was transferred from the Roll made before they procured horses

10t. January 1833.

Elijah Iles

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of January 1833.

Thomas signed as witness to the receipt of pay for most men, though sutler William P. Tilton signed for one.

Anderson Muster Book, IHi. Columns 5, 6, and 8, omitted here, give the value of horses and equipment, the value of arms, and remarks. There are no remarks on the roll.

IHi also has a photostat from DNA of the original mustering-out roll. All remarks on the mustering-out roll were fully copied by Anderson at the end of the mustering-in roll above. The DNA roll is endorsed by a War Department clerk, "Recd. August 3d. 1832." On the face of the roll are two notes added by the U.S. paymaster who paid the company, Timothy Patrick Andrews. One, entered in the "Residence" column, states, "(The distance is 250 Miles: See James other Roll of Former service T.P.A.)." The other, at the foot of the roll, states, "The " means ditto: The Company was all armed & Mounted T.P.A."

Names spelled differently or given more fully on the DNA roll: 1st Lt. Calvit Roberts; 2d Corp. William Corruthis; 4th Corp. Benjamin Holdbrooks; and Pvts. 2, John T. Walker; 8, William Griffith; 12, Joseph R. Gillespie ("Gillispie" in "Names Present" column); 13, Amos Holdbrooks; and 16, Jackson O. Voluntine.

<sup>1</sup> At least six of the members of this company were from Montgomery County, not Bond. They are 2d Lt. William D. Shirley; 3d Corp. George W. Conyer; 4th Corp. Benjamin Holdbrook; and Pvts. 1, Cleaveland S. Coffey; 5, George D. Duff; and 8, William Griffith. All of these men had served earlier in Levi D. Boone's company of the 2d Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade.

<sup>2</sup> Almost all of the men serving in Fry's 20-day Regiment had been enrolled earlier in companies of Whiteside's Brigade. Since no William Lynch had served earlier either in James's or Boone's company of the 2d Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade, this man may have been the William Lynch of Pike County who had served in Elisha Petty's company of the 3d Regiment.

Capn. Rall's Compy. was mustered out of service, on the 15th. June 1832. No alterations in the names of the Offrs. & men. All are mustered out of service, as having horses, except No. 16. J. W Johnston, "remarks" "Lost his horse." No. 12 is spelt "Kirkland" in place of "Kirkman." No other remarks on the roll. Horse & equipments appraised to $100. The usual certificate attached, and "Signed at Ottawa, mouth of Fox River, this 15th. June 1832"

Mustered out of the service of the U. States, by order of Brig. Genl. Atkinson this 15th. day of June, 1832

Robt. Anderson Asst. Inr. Genl.

Anderson Muster Book, IHI. Columns 5, 6, and 8 are omitted here. They give the value of horses, the value of arms, and remarks. The remark "no horse" follows the names of 3d Sgt, St, Cyr and Pmts. Crawford, Eves, Owen, Morris, Coonrod, Briscoe, Chapman, and the two Richardsons. The remark "horse absent" follows the names of Pmts. 12 and 13, Kirkman [Kirkham] and Lane.

The original mustering-out roll signed by Anderson and Ralls is in DNA; IHI has photostat. Anderson noted the only remark on the June 15 roll, but the following names have spelling variations: Lt. Radford M. Wiatt; 3d Sgt. Stephen A. St. Cyr; and Pvts. 5, Luke Owens; 12, Ezra Kirkland (the correct spelling is probably Kirkham); and 13, Ruthford Lane (given "Rushford" in one column).

On the DNA roll the residence of James W. Johnston, No. 16, is given correctly as Shelby, not Monroe, County.

Inserted in pencil, preceding the residences, are mileage figures from the place of muster-out to the place of enrollment. They were given as follows: Schuyler County, 220 miles; Schuyler County—south side, 245 miles; Monroe County, 350 miles; Adams County, 250 miles; Adams County—south side, 270 miles; St. Louis, Missouri, 330 (or 300) miles; Shelby County, 275 miles; and Cape Girardeau, Missouri, 350 miles.

The DNA roll is endorsed by a War Department clerk: "Recd. August 3d [1832]."

Robt Anderson Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, DNA; IHi has photostat. Endorsed (by a War Department clerk): "Reed. Augst. 3d. 1832." Columns 4 through 9 of the original roll are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 give the date of enrollment as May 27 and the period of enrollment as 20 days. Columns 6, 7, and 8 give the value of arms, the value of horses and equipment, and a description of the horses. Column 9 lists those present at the muster-out; see the remarks above to determine the absentees.

All company members had horses except A. V. Bonner, Pvt. 41, who did not enroll in the company until June 8. Two names are spelled differently in the "Names Present" column, Pvt. 16, Thoms R. Wallon [Walton ?], and 21, John B. Whitesides.

Mileages from the place of muster-out to the place of enrollment were penciled on the DNA roll as follows: Greene County, 250 miles; Morgan County, 200 miles; Madison County, 284 miles; St. Louis, Missouri, 300 miles; Shelby County, 225 miles (other Shelby County company rolls give the mileage as 275).

The Anderson Muster Book in IHi contains Anderson's copy of the mustering-in roll of this company. The captain's certificate is dated at the mouth of Fox River, May 28, 1832, and Anderson's certificate states that the company was mustered into U.S. service May 29. At that time A. V. Bonner had not yet enrolled.

Names given more fully or having spelling variations on the Muster Book roll are as follows: 2d Sgt. Fredk. Atchinson ("Atchinson" in "Names Present" column); 4th Sgt. Squire Wood; and Pvts. 11, Squire Dunn; 12, James Whitesides; 16, Thomas R. Walton; 26, Jas. Gilliam; 27, Squire Clark; 28, Jos. Lakin; 29, As. McMeeker; 30, John Fisher ("James" in "Names Present" column); 33, Presn. Boggust; and 38, C. W. Dunswort.

2d lieutenant of McDow's company of the 2d Regiment. No record of 1832 service for a James Whitesides has been found. In the 1831 campaign James H. Whitesides of Greene County was 1st corporal of Pierce's company of the 2d Regiment, Duncan's Brigade.

<sup>3</sup> The name "James" was written over "John." "James Fisher" is the correct name; he had served earlier in Jeremiah Smith's company of the 2d Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade.

<sup>4</sup> Alexander V. Bonner had been previously enrolled in John Willbourn's infantry company, which was inspected by the captain on June 8 and formally mustered out of service by Lt. Robert Anderson on June 9. He may also have been the Alexander Bonner who was mustered into U.S. service on June 19 as a private in Alexander Smith's (later Patterson's) Greene County company of the 2d Regiment, 3d Brigade, and furloughed the following day.

Anderson Muster Book, IHI. The last two columns, "Names Present" and "Remarks," are omitted here.

of the signatures, though J. L(S ?). Price and sutler W. P. Tilton also signed as witnesses.

There are five remarks on the roll. Pvts. 46, 47, and 57, L. C. Wernet [Lonis Ouilmette], P. Menard, and O. M. Adams, are marked "On Express." The remark "no horse" follows the names of Pvts. 43 and 44, Henry Harrison and J. W. Hall. The three men on express were the only absentees at the time of mustering-in.

<sup>1</sup>The original mustering-out roll, a transcript of which follows, also lists the valuation of horses and arms and equipment. On that roll the horses of three men are given different values. Those of Pvts. 15, 18, and 19, Levi Smith, Joseph Welker, and George D. Kinney, are all valued at $100.

Names given more fully or with spelling variations in the "Names Present" column: 3d Corp. Robt. Pierce and Pvts. 3, Wm. Right; 6, Elijah A. Hendricks; 10, F. Jarrott; 16, Phil. Teeter; 21, L. Wilderman; 23, Ricd. B. Randle; 25, Benj. Stephenson; 28, Jos. Gillespie; 31, Ceylon Y. Otwell; 32, Louren Cleaveland; 33, C. C. Motly; 34, Isaac McClain; 35, Wm. Hamilton; 36, Geo. R. Shields; 37, Penn. Hill; 38, John Right; 42, S. McCulah; 49, Benj. Scott; 53, Roswel H. Spencer; 54, Bridge Whiten; 56, J. Wells; and 58, Pierre Lansette.

The following valuations of arms and equipment also vary from those on the mustering-in roll:

Privates	Value of Arms and Equipment
5, Solomon Teter	$18.
9, William S. Thomas	28.
10, Francis Jarrot	25.
20, Charles Scott	20.
24, James E. McElroy	00.
28, Joseph Gillespie	25.

The company receipt roll (original in DNA) is endorsed "No. 43 . . . $2,338.27"—the total paid the company, and has the Andrews account number 17,155.

All blank spaces in the two columns on the mustering-in roll have been filled with ditto marks on the mustering-out roll.

Pay for three casualties was received by James McKenson or Macomson, for his son; by William Kinny (so spelled), the lieutenant governor, for his son, George D.; by "Rhode McDanil" for her husband; by Isaac Prickett, coexecutor of the estate of Loren Cleveland; and by Samuel Scott, father of Benjamin Scott.

<sup>2</sup>This man was from St. Clair County, not Madison. In 1831 he served in Solomon Miller's company, and in the 1832 campaign he had been previously enrolled in John Winstanley's company of the 1st Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade. For biographical information and an anecdote about his service in Snyder's company, see Macon County (1893), 455.

William Thomas signed as witness to most

Note as to the Captains Horse &c [ANS] I was informed by the Major of the Regiment & Various other officers & soldiers that this statement was entirely untrue.

Edwardsville Illinois 14 Decr. 1832 T P. Andrews Pay Master US. Ay

DS, DNA. The heading of the roll and the captain's certificate are in Snyder's handwriting. Endorsed: (1) "Capt. A. W. Snyders Coy 1— of 6— 20 day men." (2) ES—"261—Thru: Maj. Bliss 22 Sepr: 1832 R[oger] Jones." (3) AES—"Reed. 26 Sepr. 1832. N[athan]. T[owson]. Supposed to be Illinois militia—mustered out of service 21 June 1832. N.T."

Columns 4, 5, 7, 8, and 9 are omitted from this transcript. Columns 4 and 5 give the date of enrollment as May 27, 1832, and the period of enrollment as 20 days.

Columns 7 and 8 give the valuation of the horses and equipage and arms of company members. These valuations are also given on the mustering-in roll. Variations between the rolls are listed in the source note of the mustering-in roll.

Column 9 lists the names of the forty-seven company members who were present at the muster-out. Absentees were Benjamin McDaniel, John Thomas (Jr.), Josiah (or Josias) Randle, William B. Macomson, Elijah A. Hendricks, Benjamin Brooks, Erastus Wheeler, Richard R. Randle, James E.

McElroy, Charles Herrington, Loren Cleveland, Isaac McLean, Samuel McCulloch, John W. Hall, Louis Ouilmette, Peter (or Pierre) Menard, Benjamin Scott, Bridge Whitten, Lucius Wells, John Wells, O. M. Adams, and Pierre Lansette (or Lemsett).

Names given more fully or with spelling variations in the "Names Present" column: 1st Corp. Henery Hartline and Pvts. 25, B. Stepheson; 28, J. Gillespie; 29, M. D. Lusk; and 36, G. R. Shields.

John W. Hall, Pvt. 44, writing in 1867 about his escape from the Indian Creek Massacre and his subsequent experiences in Snyder's company, incidentally mentioned this episode, as follows (Stevens, 156):

[At Kellogg's Grove] I, with some others, was detached to guard one of the company, who had stabbed his comrade, to Galena, and we started at midnight. Arriving at Galena, I obtained a furlough, and went to the White Oak Springs, where I found my sisters. . . .

An affidavit of Dr. Richard Roman, dated Dec. 10, 1832, and filed with the company receipt roll (original in DNA; photostat in IHi), states that McCulloch was delivered to Jo Daviess County civil authorities on a charge of murder but had been acquitted by Dec. 10, 1832.

Mustered out of Service by me by order of Maj: Genl. W. Scott comg. N. W. Army

Z C Palmer Capt. 6. U. S. Infy. comg: post

[NS] Personally appeared before me the Subscriber a Justice of the peace in Gallatin County Lieut Wm. Roberson of Capt. Bayes Company and made oath that Lee Hargrave Served as a private in Capt Bayes Coy. from the 16th. June to the 12th. Aug 1832 also as Waggon Master and is entitled to travelling pay up to Wilburn and from Fort Dixon the place of his discharge home

Equality May 3rd. 1833

T. D. Hewitt J.P.

ADS, DNA. Omitted here are Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 16 for 90 days and was due pay from the time of enrollment.

Column 7 lists the eleven company members present at the muster-out: Nos. 1, John Bays; 6, John T. Brown; 14, James Bridges; 17, Thomas L. Bridges; 18, Thomas J. Mundine; 21, William Giles; 22, James B. McCaslin; 24, David Bays, Jr.; 30, Benjamin Henderson; 31, William Hamons; and 37, William M. Cumins (so spelled).

Column 9 shows that each man at the muster-out drew six traveling rations.

Ten documents relative to the service of company members are filed with the receipt roll in DNA (IHI has photostats). The company's original captain, Joseph E. Watkins, supplied an affidavit in which he swore that he commanded a company which arrived at the rendezvous June 10, 1832, and was "inspected" into U.S. service on June 16. He explains that he became ill and was furloughed by Willis Hargrave (then colonel of the 1st Regiment, 1st Brigade) at the rendezvous. John Bays was chosen to replace him. Watkins lists the fifty men who were members of his company on June 10. In addition to the forty-two on the mustering-out roll, they were Watkins, as captain, and Willis Hargraves, Sr., Lee Hargraves, James Dunn, Edmond [Edward] Jones, Tarlton Dunn, Wm. J. Gatewood, William H. Jamison (or Jamison), and Robert Riche. Riche does not appear on any other roll in IHI. Jameson, not on the mustering-out roll, was the man whose name was given "Wm. H. Landon" on the IHI transcript of the property roll. His signature "Jameson" on the May 10, 1834, power of attorney (see below) could easily be misread as "Landon." Watkins omits only one man on the mustering-out roll, George Wrinkle.

Watkins gives the noncommissioned officers as follows: sergeants—John Bays, Solomon McLoud, A. H. Davenport, and J. T. Brown; corporals—John Wood, John Dawson, Isaah S. Peaegue [Pettigrew], and Thos. Smothers.

Robinson (so spelled) and Wood were then 1st and 2d lieutenants, respectively.

Watkins lists the privates as Jarrett Garner, Willis Hargraves, Sr., Lee Hargraves, Ebenezer Williams, Edmond Baker, Alexander Thorn, Daniel Brown, Thomas L. Bridges, James Bridges, Thomas Vaughan, David Bays, John Elder, James Dunn, Edmond [Edward] Jones, Tarlton Dunn, Willis Hargraves, Jr., Lewis Level, John Briant, Samuel Brown, Green Tedlock, John Robinet, Green Reed, William Cummings, Rubin Green, James Pruett, Jefferson Nizewonger, John [James] S. Kenrick, William Giles, John Sands, Carter Hargraves, William J. Gate Wood, William H. Jamison, Benjamin Henderson, William Hammons, John Hutson, William Johnson, James B. McCaslin, Robert Riche, and Thomas Mundine.

The receipt roll shows that the captain received pay of $201.09 and most of the privates received $85.19.

A transcript of the company property roll is in IHI: Eddy MSS. The roll is headed "Muster Roll of Capt Joseph E Watkin's Company of Mounted Volunteer Gun men Who are Called into Service by order of his Excellency Gov Reynolds, Comander in Chief of the Militia of the State of Illinois, With an account of Horses Equipments &c & the value thereof, who were mustered into Service on the 26th day of May 1832 at Equality, & who Compose a part of the Requisition on the 4th Regt Illinois Militia."

At the end of the property roll is the following incomplete, unsigned certificate: "We Giles Y Taylor, John Lane and William McCoy being called on by Col Harrison Wilson commandant of the 4th Regiment Illinois Militia to value the Horses & Equipments of the mounted Gun men who are called into Service by order of Govr Reynolds as stated in the Caption of this Roll."

The property roll includes eight men not on the mustering-out roll above. They are the company's original captain, Joseph E. Watkins, and Wm. H. Landon [Jameson], Lee Hargrave, James Dunn, Tarlton Dunn, William J. Gatewood, Willis Hargrave, and Edward Jones. Watkins apparently left the company before it was mustered into U.S. service; Hargrave became wagon master for the 1st Brigade; Jameson became surgeon's mate, according to the company receipt roll (photostat in IHi); and the other five men became members of the 1st Regiment staff.

Two men on the mustering-out roll were not listed on the May 26 property roll:

Garret Garner and Carter Hargraves.

The following spellings as given on the property roll vary from those above: Nos. 1, John Baze; 2, William Robinson; 4, John Dorson; 7, Solomon McCloud; 8, Isaiah Petigrune; 9, John Wood; 11, Ruben Green; 12, Edmond Baker; 15, Willis Hargrave, Jr.; 16, Lewis Levell; 18, Thomas J. Mondine; 21, William Gyles; 22, James B. McCastlin; 24, David Baze; 25, Samuel Brown; 31, William Hammons; 32, William Johnston; 34, John Hudson; 36, James Kinrick; 37, William M. Cummins; 39, John Robinett.

Except for the three officers shown on the May 26 roll—Watkins, Robinson (or Robertson), and Wood—all company members are given as privates.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

Transportation furnished by the U. States from Galena to St. Louis for all of the Company who were furloughed after the battle of the 2nd. August 1832

This Company was organized on the 12 May 1832

Marched for the frontier 26th May

Mustered into the service of the United States 18th day of June 1832

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Archilaus Coffey's Company First Reg't First Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company. I also certify that it was impossible for me to reach the place of mustering out in consequence of having lost my horse.

Archilaus Coffey Capt Commanding the Company.

[ANS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this 25th. day of Sept. 1832, signed this Roll—the Capt. having called on me to certify, as above (to certify to the state of his Company—and) to account for the absence of his Company from the place designated for being musd. out of the service of the U States—the Company to be considered as having been musd. out on the same day the Regt was musd. out.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst Inr Genl

DS, IHi; the roll is in the handwriting of Lt. Robert Anderson.

The Recapitulation and Columns 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days; the sixth states that no payment had been made to company members; the seventh gives the county as "Galliton." The ninth column, headed "Names Present," supplies the information that the previously unmustered company members had drawn four days' traveling rations and those mustered out under Capt. D. B. Russell had drawn rations for eight days. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The information that James Hampton was the original commander of the company is supplied by affidavits of Dec. 6, 1837, in IHI: Eddy MSS. The affidavits, supporting a claim for a horse lost by James B. McCaslin of Capt. John Bays's company, mention that McCaslin purchased a horse from John Cox of Captain Hampton's (later Captain Coffey's) company.

On Sept. 24, 1832, Captain Coffey visited Gen. Henry Atkinson at Jefferson Barracks in regard to his company's muster rolls and was referred to Lieutenant Anderson in St. Louis; see Atkinson to Anderson, Sept. 24, 1832. The following day Coffey consulted with Anderson, who then made out the original of the roll printed above.

IHI also has a muster roll made out by Captain Coffey and signed by him and Maj. James Hampton on Sept. 17, 1832. Coffey's signature on this roll is "Archilas Coffey"; in other places on the roll he wrote his name "Archilaus" and "Archilus"; in later years he adopted the spelling "Achilles Coffey."

The certificate on the Sept. 17 roll reads: "We the under signed [Coffey and Hampton] doe certify that the above is a true copy of the Muster Role of capt. Archilaus Coffee company that have not yet bin Mustered out of service by an accident that occurred in consequence of the Capt. Looseing his horse which Rendered it Impossible to Reach the place designated by the order of Lieut. Anderson for the Mustering of sd. company [The signatures follow here, and the statement then continues with no punctuation or capitalization.] being unable to comply with the first order we Recevd a second order to take water at Galenea on the chartered bote—whare all those that lost the horses and the sick was ordered."

Coffey's roll includes the first twenty-four men on the above roll and the five who had been separately discharged—Varner, Cox, Fletcher, Garret, and Stricklin ("Strickland" above). After the names of Varner, Garret, and Stricklin, Coffey entered the remark, "detached from company and on duty with the main army," which Anderson changed to "disd. by A.I.G."

The only remark on Coffey's roll which differs substantially from those above follows the name of James Pogue (spelled "Poge" by Coffey): "absent on furlow lost horse saddle & bridle in service in force march and left in the wilderness neare the battle 2d. August. Value $65." Anderson added the comment, "furloughed Aug. 3." Coffey also gave the value of two other horses and equipment lost by company members. His own loss was set at $95.50 and that of James Hawkins at $48. In addition to his own name and that of James Pogue, Coffey spelled two other names differently: Jonathan Hall and Henry Stricklin.

<sup>1</sup> These two men were mustered out of service at Dixon on Aug. 2 in Lt. Green Depriest's detachment, which was composed principally of men from the 1st Brigade Spy Battalion and 3d Regiment. On the detachment roll (see the last chapter of the 3d Army section), the names of these men are given as Hamilton Gasway and David Kearny.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This Company was Mustered & an election of officers held May 12th. 1832, Marched for Fort Wilbourn June 1st 1832, & Was Mustered into Service June 16th 1832

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Joel Holliday's Company of the first Reg't 1st Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and sldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADfS, IH1. The Recapitulation and Columns 5, 6, 7, 9, and 11 are omitted here. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days; the sixth states that pay is due from enrollment; the seventh gives the county as Gallatin; and the ninth gives the names of the twenty company members present at the muster-out. The only name spelled differently is that of Pvt. 13, Thomas Powell. The eleventh column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The Recapitulation shows that 20 men were present Aug. 16. Of the absentees, 25 were supposed to have been mustered out with another company, 3 were on detached service, 3 were on furlough, 7 were marked absent "by refusing to march," one had resigned, and 2 were marked absent, "cause not stated."

IH1 also has a photostat of the official mustering-out roll from DNA, which was also made out and signed by Holliday. Written alongside the names of the seven deserters is the note, "As to these see Vo. 7 of Sett. No. 18131." Attached to the DNA roll is the following statement, made out by W. P. Tilton and signed by Ewing, Dement, and Bowman:

W. P. Tilton

Three names are spelled differently on the DNA roll. The 2d sergeant's name is given as Deul in the first column and as Deull in the "Names Present" column. The name of Pvt. 16 is given as John Adams. In the group of men mustered out under Captain Bays, the name of Pvt. 13 is given as Alexander Patillo.

1 Holliday misnumbered the last three names in this group. The remarks following these names and those of Herod and Adams have been supplied from the DNA roll since those on the draft are incomplete and out of order.

2 According to this roll, twenty-five men from Holliday's company were detached under Capt. John Bays—the twenty-three whose names follow and two corporals, John Newman and Beni Hubbs.

Cf. the mustering-out roll of Bays's detachment; only eighteen men from Holliday's company were discharged under Bays according to that roll. Jesse and William Barker, marked as "on detached service" here, were mustered out in Bays's detachment; Mason Wood, No. 23 below, was mustered out in Lt. James G. Corder's detachment. Joshua Braddley, listed on that detachment roll as a member of Holliday's company, is not named on either of the extant company rolls. The only Joshua Bradley for whom any service record has been found was Joshua T. Bradley of Bankson's company, 3d Regiment, 3d Brigade, and he was marked present in that company when it was discharged Aug. 17. There remain eight men from Holliday's company whose actual discharge is unaccounted for. They are James Cressap, John Dawson, James B. Johnson, Thomas Morrow, Forquer Morrow, Alexander Patilloe, William Shoemaker, and Peter Smith.

ADS, DNA. Columns 5 through 10 are omitted here. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days; the sixth shows that each man was entitled to pay "due from enrolment"; the seventh lists company members present at the muster-out—absentees are indicated by the remarks. The eighth column gives the county as Gallatin, and the ninth shows that each man present at the muster-out drew eight traveling rations. The tenth column, headed "Amt. due Sutler," lists the indebtedness of some thirteen or fourteen men from Russell's company and several of those from Coffey's company. In general, the amounts varied from $2.00 to $10. Lewis Stiff, however, owed $35.50; William Pankey, $17; and Pleasant Spruel (or Spruill), $22.37½. The figures have not been copied since several of them are covered by mending tape. The list would at best be incomplete.

Six of the original members of Russell's company were mustered out of U.S. service on Aug. 2 in Lt. James G. Corder's detachment. They were 2d Lt. Edward Vinson and Pts. Joseph Burchum, Isham Dunn, Allen Hill, David Hampton, and William Wise.

A transcript of the property roll of this company is in IHI: Eddy MSS. It is headed, "Muster Roll of Capt Bailey Russell's Company of Mounted Volunteer Gunmen . . . with an account of Horses Equipments &c and the value thereof who were mustered into service on the 26th day of May 1832 at Equality & who compose a part of the requisition on the 4th Regt Illinois Militia." William J. Gatewood, quartermaster of that regiment, signed the roll, certifying that the property appraisal had been made on May 27 and 28.

This property roll includes the six men mustered out Aug. 2, with the following variations in name spelling: Edmund Vinson, Joseph Burcham, Isam Dunn, and Wm. H. Wise. Squire Dunn, No. 45 above, is not on the property roll. Josiah Blackman, No. 12 above, is listed as orderly sergeant on the property roll, but no other noncommissioned officers are given. Other names spelled differently: 3, George P. Keith; 4, Claiborn Henderson; 7, Jordon Cook; 11, Jessie Hall; 16, Wm. Howard Gaskins; 18, Ausley Harris; 19, Levi Choad; 22, Wm. G. Hutchinson; 26, Thomas Gully; 36, Jacob Hall (instead of Jacob Holms, as given above); 37, Harvy Rude; 38, Ashby Rude; 39, William Hyde; and 40, John J. Johnson.

Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, and 10 are omitted from this transcript. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the staff members were all enrolled June 16 for 90 days and were entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 7 lists the staff members present Aug. 12. They were Ewing, Storma, and Johnston of the 2d Regiment and both Dunns of the 1st Regiment staff. Column 9 shows that Ewing, Storm, and Johnston drew seven traveling rations each and Tarlton and James Dunn, six each. The tenth column, headed "Amt due Suttler," is blank.

IHI has an incomplete mustering-in roll of the 2d Regiment staff made out by Joshua T. Bradley and signed by E. C. Berry, adjutant and inspector general, at the foot of the Lower Rapids of the Illinois River on June 17. This roll gives the date of commission as June 17, the place of rendezvous as Fort Wilbourn, and the period of enrollment as 90 days.

The June 17 roll includes three staff members not given above: Surgeon Robert T. Towns, Surgeon's Mate L. R. Harrison, and Q. M. James Norris. Omitted are Storm, Wren, and Norris's successors, Ryburn and Johnston. The IHI roll spells the name of the sergeant major "Jordon" and fails to give the first name of Paymaster Denning.

The regiment commanded by Colonel Ewing was composed of the companies of George P. Bowyer, Jonathan Diarman, Charles Dunn, Armstead Hoalman, and Obadiah West. At one time it also included Capt. William J. Stephenson's company, which was transferred to the 1st Brigade Spy Battalion when that unit was organized.

DS, DNA. Columns 4 through 9 of the original roll are omitted here. The fourth and fifth columns give the date of enrollment as June 16, 1832, and the period of enrollment as 90 days. The sixth column states that pay was due each man from the time of enrollment. Company members present at the muster-out are listed in the seventh column; absentees are indicated in the remarks. The eighth column gives the county as Franklin for all but No. 27, John Dement, whose county was Fayette. The ninth column shows that men who were present at the muster-out drew five rations.

In addition to the forty-nine men on the roll above, the company originally had eight other members who were separately discharged on Aug. 2. The following six men were mustered out in Lt. James G. Corder's detachment: Sgt. Elijah Estes, Corp. John Suleven (or Sullivan), and Privts. Walter S. Aikins [Akin], John Estes, Owen Hutson, and Aikin McClain. Two other members of this company were mustered out in Lt. Green Depriest's detachment. They were "Archibold" M. Daniel and Royal Daniel.

Columns 4 through 9, omitted here, supply the information that this company was from Pope County, that it was enrolled June 16, 1832, for 90 days, and that pay was due all but one man from the time of enrollment. The exception was No. 17, Daniel Pearce, the deserter. At the muster-out each man present drew six traveling rations. The seventh column lists those men who were present; absentees can be determined from the remarks.

Thirteen members of this company, not listed on the above roll, were mustered out Aug. 2 in Lt. James G. Corder's detachment.

DS, DNA. Columns 4 through 9 are omitted here. The company was enrolled on June 15, 1832, for 90 days; pay was due each man from the time of enrollment. All company members except James M. Nelson were present at the muster-out. The seventh column of the original roll, which lists those present, has two names spelled differently: Nos. 35 and 42, given as Archibald McAnelly and John Stackis. The eighth column states that those present drew eight traveling rations. The ninth column gives the indebtedness of the men to the sutler. All but twelve men owed debts, amounting for the most part to sums under $10, although the captain owed $22 and the 1st lieutenant, $51.75. The roll is very poorly made out so that the names of the men and figures in the ninth column do not line up. The remarks are also difficult to ascribe to the proper person except in a few instances where guidelines were used.

The roll does not give the county. The name index to records in I-A contains entries for

Illinois Mounted Volunteers

[NS] [Muste]red out of Service by me, by order of Major Genl. Sco[tt comm]anding

Z C Palmer Capt. 6. U. S. Infy comg post

DS, DNA. The body of the roll is in several different handwritings, one of which predominates. The "Names present" column is in a second handwriting beginning with the entry of No. 21, Samuel Ward, and continuing through No. 40, Alexander Pauley. The remainder of the names in that column are in a third handwriting. Most of the remarks following the names of Nos. 42 through 54 are in a fourth hand, which is probably the captain's.

Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, and 10 are omitted here. They show that the company, which was from Hamilton County, was enrolled June 16, 1832, for three months and was due pay from the time of enrollment. Those men present at the muster-out drew traveling rations for ten days. The tenth column, headed "Amt. due Settlers," lists the indebtedness of the following men:

4. Milton Carpenter, $4.00.
5. Robert Witt, $23.19.
8. John Heard, $21.50.
9. Charles Heard, $4.00.
12. Clinton Hopkins, $5.00.
15. Elisha Bond, $5.00.
16. Wiley Williams, $4.50.
19. Hiram Towsand [Townsend ?], $5.00.
22. Samuel Munday, $2.75.
23. John Rich, $4.00.
24. Jeremiah Reynolds, $18.50.
26. Reuben Oglesby, $33.75.

32. Philip Odair, $5.00.

42. John Fouch, $5.25.
43. William Perry, $4.00.
45. Samuel Cannimore, $4.92½.
46. William McLaughlin, $5.00.
47. Jesse Johnston, $19.00.
48. Wiley Prigmore, $7.00.
51. Thomas J. Hanks, $4.00.

1 He was discharged Aug. 2 by Capt. Z. C. Palmer in Lt. Green Depriest's detachment.

2 The amount of the loss, illegible here, is given in Elliott, 18.

3 This man was discharged Aug. 2 in Lt. Green Depriest's detachment. His name is given on the detachment roll as Johnson.

4 A note, inserted in the column preceding this remark, states: "Duplicate roll shows this remark to apply to Amb. Maulding." The portion of the remark giving information about losses lines up with the name of Adam Overturf.

5 Overturf's absence from this company at the muster-out is not explained on the roll. He had been discharged on Aug. 2 with Lt. Green Depriest's detachment.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. John Onstotts Company Third Reg't First Brigode, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

John Onstott Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS (?), IHi. Onstott's "signature" appears on the roll three times, and each is in a different handwriting. Which, if any, of the signatures is the captain's is not known. In addition to the two signatures on the above transcript, the following ANS is on the face of the roll: "I Do herby Surtify that all the tin yeare [tinware?] Drawn from the united stats for the youse of my Company is worn out in Survis Capt John Onstott."

The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. They show that the company was enrolled June 16, 1832, for three months and that pay was due from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees are indicated by the remarks. The tenth column, headed "Inspection Remarks," is blank. The following three names are spelled differently in the eighth column: 1st Lt. Trussy P. Hanson, 2d Lt. Alfred G. Moore, and Pvt. 18, Jesse Skeife.

The Recapitulation gives the total company strength as 42, of whom 26 were present at the muster-out, 4 having been discharged and 12 having been granted furloughs.

<sup>2</sup> This man's surname was probably Perkey. No information about Martin Perkey has been found, but it is known that Perkey was a common family name in Clay County at this time. The roll of Depriest's detachment, which gives names consistently, shows Perkey as the surname.

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation, which is incomplete, and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The fourth and fifth columns state that the company was enrolled June 16 for 90 days. Under the heading "Pay," the sixth column has the entry, "No pay made." The eighth column lists those men present at the muster-out. One man, Thomas Phelps, No. 26, is not listed present, and the roll has no explanation for his absence. The roll printed in Elliott, 20-21, states that he was "absent by leave Aug. 3; one horse, etc., lost." Enoch Shoemake, listed present as No. 29 on the IHI roll, is marked by Elliott as "absent by leave Aug. 3; one horse lost." The only name spelled differently in the eighth column is that of No. 31, given as Job Stephens.

[ANS] I certify on honor that I have carefully examined the within Muster Roll, and that I have this 15th day of August 1832 mustered out of the service of the United States the within mentioned officers by order of Brig Genl. Atkinson.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 9 are omitted here. The fourth, fifth, and sixth state that the staff was enrolled June 17 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists three men present at the muster-out: Stinson

H. Anderson, Trice C. Barby, and Young Barby. (The correct spelling of the last two names is probably Barbee.) The ninth column shows that each staff member furnished himself with traveling rations for eight days.

IHI also has an incomplete, undated mustering-in roll signed by E. C. Berry. The only name on the roll is that of Dement (spelled "Demint").

The three companies composing the Spy Battalion—those of Capts. James Bowman, William J. Stephenson, and William N. Dobbins—were originally in the 1st, 2d, and 3d Regiments, respectively. (See Posey to Atkinson, June 24, 1832, the rolls of detachments commanded by Green Depriest and James G. Corder, and n. 5 on the roll of Stephenson's company.)

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. James Bowman *Company of Spies Odd Bat. [NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this 16th. day of August 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the Spy Battn. First Brigade by order of Brig Genl. Atkinson.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IHi. Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 and the incomplete Recapitulation are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled June 16, 1832, for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks except in the case of Pyts. 7 and 26, John Baugh and Wyatt Parish. Baugh is not listed present, but there is no explanation on the roll for his absence. The roster printed in Elliott, 23-24, states that he was supposed to have been discharged Aug. 3. Parish was mustered out on Aug. 12 in Capt. John Bays's detachment. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The Elliott roll includes three privates not given here. They are Stinson H. Anderson (given in Elliott as "H. S. Anderson") and Zadock Casey ("Zadock Casey" in Elliott), both of whom were promoted to the battalion staff, and Marcus Randolph, "Wounded at Kellogg's Grove; furl'd June [July] 10." Randolph's name is included in the group of men killed in the battle, although the remark belies the grouping; see n. 3 below.

For the nine men from this company who were mustered out Aug. 12, see the roll of Capt. John Bays's detachment. The thirteen men "supposed discharged" Aug. 3 were actually discharged Aug. 2. They were mustered out in a detachment commanded by Lt. Green Depriest of this company.

ADS, IHi. Omitted here are the Recapitulation, which is incomplete, and Columns 4, 5, 6, 9, and 11. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled June 16 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The ninth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Names spelled differently in the ninth column are those of 2d Sgt. Alfred Ray, 3d Corp. William T. Booth, and Pvt.s. 4, Young P. Barbee, and 27, Henry McDonnel. The eleventh column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

According to Marion County (1909), 63, the original officers of the company were Dobbins, captain; Dr. E. S. Frazier, 1st lieutenant; and Stephen Yokum (so spelled), 2d lieutenant. Jesse M. Wade, later of the Spy Battalion staff, was orderly sergeant of the company. Frazier also transferred to the staff.

pany, was detailed as Hospital Steward, and served out his full term, and was mustered out on the field and staff muster roll of the Spy Battalion."

Neither Young nor Trice Barbee is included in the Elliott roster. Both names were lined through on the original of the transcript printed above.

1st Brigade Ills Mounted Volunteers

Dixons Ferry August 7, 1832

Mustered out of service by me, by order of Major-Genl. Scott, Comg N. W. Army.

Z. C. Palmer      Capt 6. U States Infy comg. post

DS, DNA. Columns 4 through 9, omitted here, supply the following information: Company members were from Franklin County and were enrolled June 16, 1832, for a period of 90 days. Pay was due each man from the time of enrollment. Those present at the muster-out drew seven traveling rations. The names of the men present are given in the seventh column; absentees are indicated by the remarks.

In addition to the thirty-four men on the above roll, the company originally included one man who transferred to Capt. George P. Bowyer's company—Aaron Neal—and twenty others who were mustered out Aug. 2 in Lt. James G. Corder's detachment. The detachment members are listed on the roll at the end of the 3d Army section.

A supplementary receipt roll for this company, dated July 10, 1834, and showing total pay of $323.03 (the correct total is $332.23), is in DNA—IHi has photostat. That roll has account number 18797 of Paymaster W. S. Harney. Apparently the 1st Brigade companies, originally paid by Asher Phillips, were not allowed compensation for days at the rendezvous before muster into U.S. service. Since other paymasters did allow such compensation, this supplementary payment for the 1st Brigade was necessary. The payment to privates amounted to $5.23—$1.33 base pay (one fifth of the monthly $6.66 basic salary), $2.40 for use of horse and arms ($40 per day for 6 days), and $1.50 for rations and forage (the usual $.25 per day allowance for 6 days).

<sup>4</sup> It is possible that this man was the Josiah Denning who became paymaster of the 2d Regiment. Since the position of paymaster was a nominal one, most paymasters remained on duty with their companies. The mustering-out roll of the 2d Regiment staff shows that Denning had been sent home earlier with the wounded men.

[The following statement relative to provisions for the staff was entered in the "Remarks" column of the original roll. It was written and signed by Archer.]

19 days rations in kind have been drawn by General and Staff, balance of provisions drawn on the private account of Genl. Alexander. Two bushels of corn forage for horses have been drawn for Genl. and Staff, 1/2 bu. each at Fort Wilbourn, no more forage was ever drawn during the campaign.

Rations drawn at Dixon's Ferry to return home, viz.

Genl. Alexander 16 rations of bread.

ADS, IHi. Columns 3, 4, and 5, omitted here, show that the staff was commissioned June 16, that the place of rendezvous was Fort Wilbourn, and that all staff members were present at the muster-out.

IHi has a mustering-in roll for the staff, also made out by Archer but signed by "E. C. Berry, Adj't & Inspector Genl" at "Fort Wilbourne Foot Lower rapids Illinois river" on June 19. This roll omits Houston's name and gives merely the officers' names, rank, date of commission, and place of rendezvous. The date of Smith's commission is given as June 19; that of the other commissions as June 16.

An unsigned copy of the mustering-in roll, in Joshua T. Bradley's handwriting, is in IHi: Stevens Coll.

III also two mustering-in rolls, both signed by Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry at the foot of the Lower Rapids, Illinois River, June 16, 1832. The mustering-in rolls give the date of commission for all staff officers but Wyatt as June 16. Wyatt is said to have been commissioned June 18. The place of rendezvous was Fort Wilbourn. There are no remarks on either roll. One roll, in the handwriting of Joshua T. Bradley, has the following variations in names: Leonard B. Parker, John Anglen, Johnson J. Pharis, and Willis Daugherty.

The other roll has variations in three names, David Harrison (instead of Hanson), Johnson J. Haris (instead of Pharis), and Donard (instead of Leonard) B. Parker.

Samuel Brimberry Captain Commanding Com.

[NS] I certify on honor that I have carefully examined this Muster Roll—and that I have this 18th day of June 1832 mustered and minutely inspected the above named company 1st. Regt. 2 Brig. of mounted volunteers

E. C. Berry, Adj't & Inspector Genl

CD, IHI. Columns 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. The sixth column, "Enrolled who by," is blank; the seventh gives the time of service as 90 days; and the eighth column lists all company members as present. Names spelled differently in this column are those of Nos. 39, Valentine S. Anglin, and 50, Harden D. Garnett.

The company was mustered out of service as two separate units, one under the command of the captain and the other under 1st Lt. Philip B. Smith. IHI has a mustering-out roll of the Smith detachment, made out and signed by the lieutenant and countersigned by Lt. Robert Anderson at Dixon on August 15. The following list includes the twenty-eight names as spelled on the Smith roll with the accompanying remarks (note that some of the men on this roll were actually mustered out with the other group):

Phillip B. Smith.

James Adams.

William Craig, "Ordered to Dixons July 22d.

1832 and Supposed to have been mustered out of Service with Capt. Brimberry."

William Morgan, "Absent by Order of Genl. Atkinson and Supposed to have been sent home."

John Morgan, "Absent by orders of Genl. Atkinson & Horse lost August 2d. 1832 Horse lost & Equipage."

John Ripple.

John Young.

Cronnick, Philip.

Crist, John.

Clapp, Joseph.

Charters, Duncan M.

Craig, Isaac N., "Ordered to Dixons and Supposed to have been mustered out of Service with Capt. S. Brimbery."

Craig, Robert, "Ordered to Dixons and Supposed to have been mustered out of Service with Capt. S. Brimbery."

Craig, Alexander, "Ordered to Dixons and Supposed to be mustered out of Service with Capt. S. Brimbery."

Ferrell, John.

Fewell, William.

Goo[d]man, William.

Griider, Henderson.

Jones, Richard.

Janes, Thomas, "Ordered to Dixons and Supposed to have been mustered out of Service with Capt S. Brimbery."

Redmon, Greenbery.

Wells, Elijah.

Walls, James.

Williams, Samuel, "Mare lost. Horse lost July 27th. 1832." [Mustered out under Capt. Brimbery—see detachment roll. Ed.]

Wells, David N.

Henson, Robert.

Elledge, Isaac, "Absent with leave and Supposed to be mustered out of Service with Capt S. Brimbery."

This roll shows that the company was enrolled June 19 instead of June 18, as stated above. At the end of the roster are the following statements regarding the company's service:

N.B. this Company was organized on the 10th. day of May 1832 and Started from Paris Edgar County on the 4th. day of June 1832 to Henopen to rendezvous there on the 10th. by the Governors order, from thence ordered to Wilburn to rendezvous on the 15th. day of June 1832 On the 17th June Were formed into regiments. On the 18th of June formed into a Brigade and on the 19th. day of June 1832, mustered in to Service

drew 10 days travelling rations

N.B The officer and men of this Company have drawn only one ration each per day and one half Bushel of Corn forage each during the Campaign and rations were furnished by each individual from home to Henopen on the Illinois river

IHi also has a photostat of the Smith detachment roll from DNA. The only substantial difference in the body of the two rolls is in the remarks following the names of 4th Sgt. John Morgan and 1st Corp. John Ripple. The DNA roll does not show that Morgan lost a horse. The remark, "Horse lost and Equipage 2d Augt 1832," follows Ripple's name.

On the back of the DNA roll is Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES, "approved. H. Atkinson Br. Ge. u.S. ay.," and the following note, in the handwriting of Edmund Kirby and signed by Brimbery and M. K. Alexander:

Moses Anglin & Joseph Andrews privates of this Company were mustered into the service of the U. States on the [19] June 1832—mounted, armed & equipped—& on the 21st. of June were discharged by Br. Gen. Atkinson, being out of health. Their names were omitted on this muster roll by [ove]r-sight & they are fully entitled to pay to the 21. June 1832

The roll of Brimbery's detachment is printed in the last chapter of 3d Army rolls.

IHi has a photostat (from DNA) of the company receipt roll, most of which is in the handwriting of William B. Archer, who served, by appointment of Governor Reynolds, as an assistant to the paymaster. Archer and Lt. Jacob Brown, U.S.A., certified that they had witnessed payment to company members. The roll bears Paymaster Edmund Kirby's voucher number 17653. Total pay for the company was $3,407.95; the captain received $218.14; the privates in Smith's command received $60.18 and those under Brimbery, $69.06. Sgts. William and John Morgan were docked $1.00 each for steamboat passage.

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The fourth and fifth columns show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service June 19 for 90 days. In the sixth column, headed "Pay," is the single entry "none received." The eighth column lists those men present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Two names are spelled differently in this column, those of Corp. S. Camarrer and Pvt. 10, T. H. Doughetter. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The Recapitulation shows a total company strength of fifty-six (William Whitley was included in the count, but not Leonard Parker). Forty-one men were present at the muster-out, one had transferred, six were absent with leave, and eight were "supposed" to have been discharged.

A duplicate mustering-out roll from DNA (photostat in IHi) has Atkinson's AES: "approved. H. Atkinson Br Ge u S [Army]" and an additional note signed by Mayo. It reads: "William Whitley [Whitley] served till the 1[9th of] July when he engag[ed] in the wagon train. He is entitled to pay till July 19, 1832."

IHi also has the company's mustering-in roll, made out and signed by Mayo and countersigned by "E. C. Berry, Adj't & Inspector Genl.," on June 19. The following seven men listed on the June 19 roll are not on the mustering-out roll above:

Lycan, "appointed Ostler to Capt Mayo June 4th 1832"; and John S. McConkey, "elected 2nd Lieutenant 16th June 1832."

The noncommissioned officers as given on the June 19 roll were Sgts. Leonard B. Parker, 1st; David Crozier, 2d; James Buchanan, 3d; Daniel Spencer, 4th; and Corps. James Bailey, 1st; Simon Camarer, 2d; Tracey Wheeler, 3d; and Joseph C. Barclay, 4th.

Names of privates spelled differently on the June 19 roll: Newel Burch, Thomas H. Dougherty, John Summerville, and Patrick Wheelan.

The mustering-in roll shows that all but two of the men enrolled at Paris, Edgar County, on May 10. John Dill enrolled June 4 and Washington Alexander, June 16.

According to the above roll, eight men were supposed to have been discharged earlier. One, Abraham Sumpter, or Sumter, was mustered out Aug. 2 in Adj. Isaac Parmen-

Nott's Company in the first Reg't second Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this fifteenth day of August 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the 1st. Reg't 2nd. Brigade by order of Brig. Genl. Atkinson.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

CD, IHi. The entire roll, including Nott's "signature" is in William B. Archer's handwriting. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The fourth column gives the date of enrollment in U.S. service as June 9, and the eighth column lists those present at the muster-out. Absentees can be determined from the remarks. The other columns are blank. The Recapitulation shows that 40 company members were present at the muster-out, 3 were on furlough, and 15 had been discharged. The Recapitulation is in error; actually, only 14 had been discharged. (See the roll of Capt. Samuel Brimbery's detachment.) The total company strength was 57 men.

IHi has three earlier rolls of this company, described below:

I. The earliest roll in IHi (in Clark County MSS) is a statement signed by fifty-five men who volunteered their services for Black Hawk War duty. The heading of the statement and the concluding paragraph, both in the handwriting of William B. Archer, read as follows:

Where as the Executive of the State of Illinois in consequence of certain outrages committed on the frontiers of the State has required of the County of Clark one hundred mounte[d] men as their ration agreeably to population we the undersigned Citizens of the County of Clark feeling it beneath the dignity of us as Citizens that compulsory measures should be used for the raising of men for the defence of our contry do subscribe our names as volunteers May 1832.

Those who subscribe this writing and volunteer to go will meet at Darwin on Thursday the 31st. day of May 1832 for the purpose of electing officers and making necessary arrangements to March &c.

Ten of the men who signed this statement were not mustered out with the company, although some of them did march to the rendezvous at Hennepin in June. They were William B. Archer (promoted to the staff), Isaac Craig (transferred), Lovay Cory, William White, James Porter (his substitute, C. K. Archer, left with the company for the rendezvous), Ferdinand Van derburg (his substitute, Will. Flippo, also left for the rendezvous), Joshua [last name illegible], James Welsh, James Robinson, and Eli Cline.

Twelve men, later members of the company, did not sign this original statement of intention to serve. They were John Fears, Thomas F. Bennett, Theophilus Cooper, Chalkley J. Cooper, John B. Grant, Moses Kenny, William McCabe, Benjamin Ogden, Nehemiah Ogden, Lyman R. Squires, Elon Sharp, and John Vanwinkle.

The following men were signators whose substitutes were mustered out with the company:

Thomas T. Weathers
(Daniel Boone, substitute)
Jonathan Ingram
(Samuel Burk, substitute)
Bateman Ross
(Jeremiah Criss, substitute)
James Megeath
(Samuel Dolson, substitute)
J. B. Anderson
(Alexander H. DeHart, substitute)
Jacob Shetles (Shetler?)
(Thomas Wade, substitute)
Jacob Crawley
(Lorenzo Dow Dehart, so spelled, substitute)
Bushrod Martin
(J. K. Archer, substitute)
Rezen Beall
(Daniel Davis, substitute)
Medrt. Lafferty (?)
(Marshall Lafferty, substitute)

Archer added the last name in the following manner: "Lafferty goes as sub. for Son. Medrt." Some of the above substitutes are named on this roll, others on the May 31 (?) roll. Probably not more than half of the names on this statement are actually signatures.

Spellings differing from those on the mustering-out roll are as follows: Corps. Noah Beauchamp, Jun., and Wm. G. McClure and Pvts. 14, Alhanan Davidson; 18, Wakelas Fannen; 20, Martin Groves; 24, Sanford Johnson; 36, Samuel Prevo, Jr.; and 38, Ebenezer Pain.

II. The next roll (in the Ricks Coll.), also written by Archer but with a few additions and corrections in another hand, is undated and unsigned but was probably made out May 31. At that time the commissioned and noncommissioned officers were as follows:

W. B. Archer, captain.
Royall A. Nott, 1st lieutenant.
Daniel Poorman, 2d lieutenant.
George W. Young, 1st sergeant.
James Welsh, 2d sergeant.
John Fears, 3d sergeant.
James Lockard, 4th sergeant.

Oliver C. Lawwill, 1st corporal.
William T. McLuer, 2d corporal.
James Dunlap, 3d corporal.

Stephen Archer and John Thompson, later noncommissioned officers, are listed as privates.

The May 31 roll lists sixty-four men. The last name of one man, either Thomas F. Bennett or Thomas White, is illegible; one of the two had not yet joined the company. Eight men on this roll were not on the mustering-out roll: W. B. Archer, James Welsh, Isaac Craig, James Robinson, Eli Clyne, Lovay Cory, C. K. Archer, substitute for James Porter, and William Flippo, substitute for Ferdinand Vanderburgh. Four of the eight—Welsh, Craig, Robinson, and Clyne—were not on the company's mustering-in roll.

Other names spelled differently on this roll: Pvts. 2, Daniel Boon; 12, Alexander H. De Hartt; 13, Lorenzo Dow De Hartt; 18, Wakilas Fannen; 25, Moses Kinney; and 36, Samuel Prevo, Jr.

III. The company's mustering-in roll, dated June 18, 1832, has E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection and is also signed "W. B. Archer Major 2 Bat. 1 Regt. 2 Brig. Ill. M. & late Captain of said Company" and "Royal. A. Nott Capt commanding Company." The roll is in Archer's handwriting.

Four of the sixty-one company members on June 18 are not on the mustering-out roll. They are W. B. Archer, "Promoted to the office of Major 15 June 1832"; and Pvts. Charles K. Archer, "Lost his horse on the way June 7, 1832, and permitted to search and return without delay not arrived"; Lovay Corey, "L. Corey lost his horse June 7, 1832 on his way ordered to join again without delay after searching & not arrived in camp"; and William Flippo, "Lost his horse June 10, 1832 on the way ordered to search and join the company again without delay—not arrived in camp."

Other remarks on the roll follow the names of 1st Lt. Royal A. Nott, "promoted to office of Captain 16 June 1832"; 2d Lt. Daniel Poorman, "promoted to 1st. Lieut. June 16 June 1832"; 1st Sgt. George W. Young, "promoted to 2nd Lieut. June 16, 1832"; and Pvt. Stephen Archer, "Elected & made 1st. Sergeant June 16, 1832."

Names with variations from spellings on the mustering-out roll are those of Corp. Noah Beauchamp and Pvts. 2, Daniel Boon; 7, Theophilus Cooper; 12, Alexander H. DeHartt; 13, Lorenzo Dow DeHartt; 18, Akilas Fannen; 25, Moses Kenney; and 36, Samuel Prevo, Jr.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Ross's Company First Reg't Second Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Thos. B. Ross Capt. Commanding the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this fifteenth day of August 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the 1st. Reg't 2nd. Brigade by order of Brig. Genl Atkinson.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

The Recapitulation has not been completed by the Capn.

ADS, IHI. The Recapitulation, which is incomplete, and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 have been omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 18, 1832, for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists those men present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

IHI also has the company mustering-in roll, signed "James P Jones Capt Commanding" and countersigned by "E. C. Berry, adjt & Inspector Genl" on June 18. The Berry certificate of inspection is in the handwriting of Joshua T. Bradley.

The June 18 roll includes the following seven men not on the mustering-out roll:

James P. Jones, captain, "Elected Major 19th June."

Billings Starkwether, 3d corporal.

David Hanson, private, "Hanson was elected to the office of Adjutant of the 16th of June & his horse run off on the 17th Inst."

Martin L. Ashmore, private, "Ashmores horse run off on the 17th of June 1832."

He transferred to Richardson's company of the 2d Brigade Spy Battalion.

G. B. Fancher, private. He apparently transferred to Jacob M. Early's spy company.

John D. Johnston, private, "Absent." He also joined Early's spy company.

David Riddle, private, "Absent his horse the property of Thos Stovall was drowned in crossing the Ills. River. With the loss of his equipage the property of James Shaw he returned home on the 16th of June 1832."

Thomas B. Ross, 1st sergeant on June 18, was "Elected Capt June 19th"; James Shaw, a private, "Elected 1st Sergt June 19th." Thomas Sconce, who later became 2d lieutenant, and Thomas Barker, later 3d sergeant, were also privates at this time.

All company members are said to have been enrolled at Charleston on June 4, except John Gateley, whose enrollment date is given as June 16. He is marked "Absent." Additional remarks on the roll follow the names of William Frazier, "Fraziers horse the prop of C S Morton run off on the 17th of June"; Thomas G. M. Shin, "Shin's horse the property of Abnor Johnston run off on the 17th of June"; James H. Stone, "Stones horse run off and lost 17th June and not found"; Green L. Van Winkle, "Van winkle's horse run off on the 17th of June"; and Davio (so spelled) Woodall, "Woodalls horse run off 17th June and not found."

<sup>3</sup> Barker was appointed 3d sergeant July 25, not August 25. His name was also entered on the roll as a private but was crossed out. The remark there gives the correct date.

<sup>4</sup> Waldrope was one of five men separately discharged by Capt. Z. C. Palmer at Dixon. A copy of the detachment roll (in IHI: Stevens Coll.) states that the five men were discharged Aug. 11. The other men in the detachment—Samuel Shaw of Alexander Houston's company, and Benjamin Hunsaker and Isaac and Martin Ray of Isaac Sandford's company—are said on their company rolls to have been furloughed at Dodgeville on Aug. 9. The detachment roll remarks that all five men were "Reported on furlough."

The names of Pvts. 60, 61, and 63 are given as Isaac Vanhoutan, William Vanhoutan, and Reason Wilson in this column. The sixth and tenth columns, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

IHi has two other rolls of this company, a duplicate mustering-out roll (photostat from DNA), and the company's mustering-in roll, signed by Sandford, with Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection of June 19. The June 19 roll includes two men not on the roll above: James M. Blackburn, captain, "promoted to colonel 15 June 1832," and Thomas W. Dawson, private, "appointed waggoner."

The original officers of the company, as given on the June 19 roll, were Blackburn, captain; Isaac Sandford, 1st lieutenant; Aloysius Brown, 2d lieutenant; William Runyan, 1st sergeant; T. J. Buntain, 2d sergeant; Charles Bodine, 3d sergeant; Alfred Vanhoutan, 4th sergeant; Winson Robertson, 1st corporal; and John Smith, 2d corporal. Others who became noncommissioned officers are listed as privates.

Names of privates spelled differently on the June 19 roll: 17, Arthur Forster; 20, James L. Gillispie; 30, Henry McCully; 39, David Morrison; 43, G. C. Pownal; 60, Isaac Vanhoutan; 61, William Vanhoutan; 62, Larking Wilson; and 63, Reason Wilson.

The DNA mustering-out roll is endorsed: "approved H. Atkinson Br Ge. U. S ay."

There are a few minor name variations on the DNA roll: 4th Sgt. Alfred Vanhoutan and Pvts. 17, Authur Foster; 29, Young Kohoe ("Koho" in the eighth column); 55, Micheal Ripple ("Michael" in the eighth column); 60, Isaac Vanhoutan; 61, William Vanhoutan; and 63, Reason Wilson.

Three men from this company, as well as William Waldrope of Thomas B. Ross's company and Samuel Shaw of Alexander Houston's company, were discharged by Capt. Z. C. Palmer at Dixon on Aug. 11. A copy of the five-man detachment roll is in IHi: Stevens Coll. The "Remarks" column of the roll states that all five were "Reported on furlough." The three men from Sandford's company, as listed on the detachment roll, were Benjamin Hunsacker, Martin Ray, and Isaac Ray, Pvts. 24, 46, and 47 on the mustering-out roll above.

The twenty-three men stated in the Recapitulation to have been ordered to Dixon's Ferry and discharged were mustered out Aug. 2 and Aug. 3. One man was discharged in Adj. Isaac Parmenter's detachment, and twenty-two others were discharged in Capt. Samuel Brimbery's detachment.

2 Davis was mustered out of service at Dixon's Ferry on Aug. 2 in the detachment commanded by Isaac Parmenter.

3 The bracketed remark is substituted for "Do's" on the original roll.

HH also has two mustering-in rolls, one made out and signed by Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry and the other made out by Joshua T. Bradley and signed by Berry. The rolls, dated merely June, 1832, have only minor punctuation variations. C. L. Danforth, not Wilson, is given as quartermaster sergeant, and Flanagan, Hunter, Hackett, and Dunlap are not included. The date of commission is given as June 15 and the place of rendezvous as Fort Wilbourn. There are no remarks.

the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

John Arnold Capt Commanding the Company

Traveling rations, 12 days for 16 men from fort Dickson to Wabash Co.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

CD, IHi. The body of the roll and the signature are in the same handwriting, which is probably not Arnold's. The Recapitulation, which is incomplete, and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service June 19 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out, and the tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank. In the eighth column the name of Pvt. 28 is given as Jeremiah Wood.

IHi also has a photostat of a duplicate mustering-out roll in DNA, which bears Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. Three names are spelled differently on the DNA roll, those of 4th Corp. Wesley Woods and Privs. 1 and 18, James Besly and Isaac Parmeter.

The company mustering-in roll, dated June 18, is also in IHi. The signature "John Arnold" on this roll is an actual signature. The roll also has the usual certificate of inspection signed "E. C. Berry, Adj't. & Inspector Genl." The name of Pvt. Isaac Parmenter does not appear.

The following names have variant spellings on the June 18 roll: Capt. John Arnolds; 3d Sgt. Mathias Netherland; 1st Corp. Solomon Frier; 2d Corp. John Goulden; 3d Corp. Ira Keene; 4th Corp. Wesley Wood; and Privs. 1, James Besly; 3, John W. Buckhanon; 4, Joseph O. Buckhanon; 5, Henry R. Buckhanon; 6, Jefferson Bryants; 8, John Gaddy; 10, William Goulden; 12, Jonathan S. Hoyt; 14, Dennis Keene; 16, James McMillen; 17, John Ockeltree; 19, Isaac Pixly; 28, Jeremiah Wood; and 30, Harvey Wear.

The company receipt roll in DNA (IHi has photostat) has the Kirby voucher number 17653. Lt. Jacob Brown, U.S.A., and William B. Archer certified that they witnessed payment of all company members. The captain received $288.37; privates in Jordan's detachment received $71.92; the others, $81.55.

E. C. Berry, Adj. & Inspector Genl

DS, III. The sixth and seventh columns are omitted here. The sixth column gives the time of service for which the company enrolled as 90 days. The seventh column, headed "Names Present," is blank.

This company was mustered out of service in two groups, one under the command of Lt. Daniel Morris and the other under Captain Barns as a part of Capt. William Highsmith's detachment.

IHI has an original mustering-out roll for the Morris detachment and photostats from DNA of mustering-out rolls for both groups. Morris's roll lists twenty-five men, although actually Daniel Organ was mustered out with the other part of the company. Samuel Adams and James M. McLean were mustered out with the 2d Regiment staff. The men under Morris's command were mustered out of U.S. service at Dixon Aug. 15 by Lt. Robert Anderson, and the men under Captain Barns in Highsmith's detachment were mustered out by Capt. Zalmon C. Palmer on Aug. 2, also at Dixon. Listed below are the names of the men in Morris's detachment, with the remarks that follow their names on the mustering-out roll. The spellings are those of the original roll.

The "Names Present" column of this roll shows that five men were absent at the muster-out on Aug. 15. They were Thompson McDonald (probably the correct spelling), Joseph R. Christy, Samuel Dunlap, Peyton Moaler, and Daniel Organ. One name is spelled differently in this column, that of "Boneparte Gallaher."

The "Record of Events" at the end of the roll includes the following statements: "This Company was organised in Lawrence County Illinois on the 5th. day of May 1832 Marched from thence on the 2nd. day of June arrive at Springfield on the 9th May drew 5 days rations flower & bacon & Marched arive at fort Wilbourn 12th. May [June] mustered into U S Service 19th [June.] 15th. Augt.

drew at Dixons 12 days rations from the 16th."

E. C. Berry, Adj't & Inspector Genl

DS (?), IHI. Columns 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. Column 6, which provides space for the name of the mustering officer, is blank, and Column 7 gives the time of service for which the company enrolled as 90 days. Column 8 lists those men present on June 18. Absentees were Nos. 5, William Camplain; 17, Brazel Barshar (this name, later struck out, was incompletely entered in the "Names Present" column as "Brazel Brash—"); 48, John D. Richards; 49, Morris Gurley; and 50, Squire H. Gordon.

Other names spelled differently in the "Names Present" column are those of Nos. 3, John H. McMickle; 6, Wm. McCoy; 7, John A. Christey; 16, John W. Barloe; 30, George W. Kinney; 32, William Levett; and 46, Jacob Vanwincele.

Of the 45 members present when the company was mustered into U.S. service, 16 were mustered out in a detachment under Lt. James Kennerly of Elias Jordan's company, and 25 in a detachment under Captain Highsmith. The four men present June 18 who were not discharged with either group were 1st Sgt. Benjamin S. Bole, 3d Corp. Henry D. Hager, Pvt. Hiram Hager, and Pvt. John W. Barlow, who was mustered out with the 2d Regiment staff.

The roll of Captain Highsmith's detachment is printed in the last chapter of 3d Army rolls.

The Kennerly detachment was mustered out of U.S. service on Aug. 15 by Lt. Robert Anderson. IHI has both an original mustering-out roll and a photostat of a duplicate roll from DNA (see the source note on the roll of Elias Jordan's company). The "Record of Events" at the end of the rolls has the following statement regarding the service of men from Highsmith's company:

This Company was organised in Crawford County the 12th Day of May 1832 ordered to march to Henipen on June the 2nd 1832 mustered into service on the 19th. Day of June 1832. This Company furnished 9 Day Provisions when ordered to march. this company has only Reievd [received] one half Bushel of Corn as forage Each man During the whole campaign . . . Detachment of Capt Wm. Highsmiths Company [received for traveling] 10 Days Rations

The above statement and the following list of men from Highsmith's company are copied from the Kennerly detachment roll in IHI:

Beverly B Piper 1st Serj

COMPANY OF CAPTAIN ALEXANDER M. HOUSTON

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

Organised 12th. May 1832, Marched from home on the 2nd. June 1832 by order,

Mustered into Service 19th. June 1832

Forage Drawn during Service one half bushel corn for each horse

Officers Drawn one Ration Each

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Alexander. M. Houstons Company Second Reg't Second Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Alex. M. Houston Commanding the Company.

Robt Anderson Lt & Asst Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted. The sixth and tenth columns, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. The fourth and fifth columns state that the company was enrolled June 19, 1832, for a period of 90 days. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out.

The Recapitulation shows that of the 47 men on the roll, 21 were present Aug. 15. The absentees included one man who was sick, 2 on detached service on command, 5 on furlough, 2 absent with leave, 2 absent without leave, 2 who had been promoted, and 12 who had been discharged in Capt. William Highsmith's detachment.

IHi also has a photostat of the duplicate mustering-out roll in DNA, which bears Gen.

Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. Two names are spelled differently on the DNA roll (Bugler Francis Waldrop and Pvt. 33, John T. Vandeventer), and the remark following the name of 1st Sgt. Hampton adds the phrase, "supposed furloughed."

The twelve men in Highsmith's detachment were discharged Aug. 2 by Capt. Z. C. Palmer.

IHi also has the company's mustering-in roll, signed by Captain Houston on June 19 and countersigned, "E. C. Berry, Adj't. & Inspector Genl." The following three men not on the mustering-out roll are listed as members of the company on June 19: 4th Sgt. Richard H. Mauzy, "Promoted on the 16th June to Assistant Surgeon"; Pvt. John C. Alexander, "Promoted on the 16th June to 1st Surgeon"; and Pvt. Michael Harness, "Taken Sick on the 7th of June & returned home from Sangamon River."

Other remarks on the roll follow the names of 4th Corp. Renick Heath, marked "Sick"; Pvt. Cyrus L. Danforth, "Promoted the 18th June to Quarter Master Sergeant"; and Pvt. James Christy, "appointed Sergt. on the 16th June." Bugler Francis Waldrop is listed as a private on the June 19 roll.

The following spellings vary from those on the Aug. 15 roll: 1st Sgt. Oscar F. D. Hampton; 1st Corp. Cornelius Dougherty; 4th Corp. Renick Heath; Bugler Francis Waldrop; and Privts. 2, Blanton Brashears; 6, Samuel Crews; 7, Cyrus L. Danforth; 11, Jehu Goodwin; 15, Joseph Hacket; 16, John Hacket; 20, James Kuykendall; 22, Matthew Lecky; 24, Johnson Neiley; 29, Edward (not Edwin) Pearson; 30, Zilman Phelps; 33, John T. Vandeventer; and 34, Vastine J. Wilson.

<sup>2</sup> Shaw was discharged by Capt. Z. C. Palmer at Dixon on Aug. 11 as a member of a five-man detachment. A copy of the detachment roll is in IHI: Stevens Coll. The other four men discharged at that time were Isaac and Martin Ray and Benjamin Hunsaker from Isaac Sandford's company and William Waldrope from Thomas B. Ross's company. The "Remarks" column states that all five were "Reported on furlough."

Regt. 2d Brig. for the period herein mentioned; that the remarks set opposite the name of each officer and soldier are accurate and just, and that it exhibits in every particular the true state of the company.

Dated June 19th. A.D. 1832.

Elias Jordan Capt Comding

[ANS] I certify on honor that I have carefully examined this muster Roll, and that I have this 19th. June 1832 mustered and minutely inspected the above named company of the 2d Regt and 2d Brigade of mounted Volunteers

E. C. Berry, Adjt & Inspector Genl.

DS, IHi. The roll is in the handwriting of William B. Archer. Columns 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. The sixth and seventh columns are blank, and the eighth gives the term of service for which the company enrolled as 90 days.

Fifteen men from this company, with Lt. James Kennerly as their commanding officer, were mustered out of service by Lt. Robert Anderson on Aug. 15. Attached to Kennerly's command were sixteen men from William Highsmith's company. IHi has an original mustering-out roll for this detachment as well as a photostat of a duplicate roll from DNA. Both rolls are signed by Kennerly and have Anderson's certificate of inspection. The DNA roll bears Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval and the following note signed by Jordan and Bowers:

I certify that Jason D. Jones was mustered into the service of the U. States as a private in my company on the 19th. day of June [188]2 & was honorably discharged from the service by General Atkinson on the 20t. or 21st. day of June. His name was omitted [on] this muster roll by oversight—& I consider him fully entitled to pay according to his service.

Mt. Carmel May 1, 1833.

Elias Jordan Capt

I am ac[quai]nted with the above circumstances & concur in cert[ifying] to the [facts ?] stated.

GEO W BOWERS Majr. 2d R[eg.]

The "Record of Events" at the end of the roll, also signed "James Kennerly 1t Leut.," includes the following statement on the service of the men from Jordan's company: "this Company was organized in Wabash County on the 12th Day of May 1832—ordered to march to henipin on the 2sd. Day of June 1832—mustered into Service on the 19th June 1832 this Company furnished themselves with 6 Days Rations when ordered to march—the officers have Drawen only one Ration per Day During the Campaign this Company has only Received one half Bushel of Corn as forage each man During the whole Campaign. . . . Detachment of Capt. Elias Jordans Co 12 Days Rashion [for traveling home.]"

At the end of his mustering certificate, Anderson added the note that "the remainder of these companies [Jordan's and Highsmith's] are believed to have been mustered out of service by Capn. Parmer—by order of Brig Genl. Atkinson."

Wabash County (1911), 641, prints a roll purporting to be that of Kennerly's detachment. It includes three men not on the IHI detachment roll, James Major, Isaac Major, and Thomas Danford. Isaac Major and Danford do not appear on any of the extant original rolls.

In addition to the three men promoted to the staff—Thrall, Bowers, and Ficklin—two other men on the mustering-in roll were not mustered out on the rolls of either Kennerly's detachment or Jordan's. They were James Majors and David Majors.

ADS, IHI. Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the staff was enrolled June 19 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The seventh column lists those present at the muster-out: Pierce, Jones, Roberts, Mayo and Anderson. The ninth column, headed "Number of Traveling Rations," shows that Pierce, Roberts, and Anderson drew rations for 11 days and Jones and Mayo, for 12 days.

Iti also has two mustering-in rolls, both signed at the foot of the Lower Rapids, Illinois River. One, dated June 19, was made out and signed by E. C. Berry. The other, dated merely June, was made out by Joshua T. Bradley but also has Berry's signature on the usual certificate of inspection. Both of these rolls give the date of commission as June 17 and the place of rendezvous as Fort Wilbourn.

Names spelled differently on the Berry ADS: Aron Thrall, Alexander Stewart, and Henry P. Aderson (correctly given as "Anderson" in the "Names Present" column). The other roll has these differences from the Aug. 14 roll: Aaron Thrall and Alexander Stewart. Both rolls give merely a middle initial for Anderson.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This company was organized in the county of White on the 12th day of May 1832. Marched according to the order of the Governor on the 29th day of May 1832. Mustered into the service of the United States on the 19th day of June 1832 each man in this company furnished eight days rations for himself & forage for his horse the same number of days. Officers have only drawn one ration per day during the whole term of service each man was furnished with one half bushel corn at fort Wilburn as forage.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. John Haynes' Company of Mounted Volunteers 3rd Reg't 2nd Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the company.

Twelve days rations drawn for the use of my company home Augt 15th 1832

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

CD, IHI. The body of the roll and the "signature" are in the same handwriting, which is evidently not Haynes's. Haynes probably did sign the company mustering-in roll, which is also in IHI.

The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The Recapitulation states that 22 men were present at the muster-out, 4 were on furlough, and 16 had had been discharged under Capt. Elias Jordan. The fourth and fifth columns show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service June 19 for a period of three months. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

IHI also has a photostat of a duplicate mustering-out roll from DNA which has Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. There is only one significant variation on the roll: James Aud (or Odd), Pvt. 19 above, is listed as one of those discharged under Capt. Jordan.

The company mustering-in roll, dated June 16, was signed by Haynes and has Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's usual certificate of inspection. The company was originally enrolled May 12 at Carmi and included four men not listed on the Aug. 15 roll. They were Henry P. Anderson, 2d sergeant, "Appointed Qr. Mr. Sergt. June 18" 1832"; Alex S. Roberts, 2d corporal, "Appointed Sergt Major June 18"; Henry Towell, a private, "Appointed Pay Master 16" day June 1832"; and Sidney McNutt, a private, who was marked "absent."

Towell is also listed as a private on the mustering-in roll of Capt. Daniel Powell's company, and McNutt was enrolled in U.S. service as a member of that company.

Listed as privates on the June 16 roll were Pliny G. (so given) Goudy, "Elected 2nd. Sergt. June 19," and John Herin, who succeeded Roberts as 2d corporal.

Other names with spelling variations on the June 16 roll are those of Pvts. 2, Harry Barnett; 9, John W. Land; 14, Robert H. McLarney; 19, John S. Aud; 23, James M. Porter; 27, Ebon Renshaw; and 28, Thadeus R. Teachner.

The name of the 1st corporal is given as "John" Perryman. Written in pencil above the "o" in "John" was the capital letter "E"—an attempt to correct "John" to "Jehu."

1 Although Aud (or Odd) is not listed present on the IHI roll, there is no remark to explain his absence. The roll in DNA supplies the information that he was discharged under Captain Jordan.

IHi also has a photostat of the mustering-out roll in DNA which has Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. The roll is in a different handwriting from that on the IH*i* roster. See the spelling variations listed below. Both the IH*i* and DNA mustering-out rolls list Walter L. Mayo as a private in the company, with the notation that he was promoted to quartermaster June 18, and on both rolls the entry has been crossed out.

IHi has, in addition, the company's mustering-in roll, dated June 19. It was signed by Hunter and has Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection. On this roll the remark opposite Mayo's name gives the date of his appointment as June 17. ## RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This company was ordered to Randavouse at Henipin on the 10th June 1832 & arrived there the 11 & was mustered in 19 at Fort Wibourn

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Champion S Mading Company of the 3 Reg't & Second Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

C. S. Mading Capt. Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHI. Most of the remarks on the first half of the roll, the note below the name of John Waldrip, all of the second half of the roll, and the "Record of Events" are in Mading's handwriting.

The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 19, 1832, for 90 days. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. Column 8 lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Names with spelling variations in the eighth column are those of Samuel Edmondson, D. Bogart, Starlen Hill, William Mitchil, Stephen Mounts, Robert Rusel, Josiah Reather, and L. B. Sames.

IHI also has a mustering-in roll, dated June 19, 1832, with the captain's signature "Champion S. Mading" and Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection. Cadwallader Jones, later lieutenant colonel of the regiment, is entered as a private on this roll with the remark, "Elected Major May [June] 15th 1832." The only other remark on the roll states that six days' rations were found by each man.

The following names on the June 19 roll have spelling variations from those printed above:

Group I:

Capt. Champion S. Mading
3d Sgt. James Ellison
Pvts. 1. David Bagwarde
4. David Greathouse
6. William Mitchell
7. Stephen Mounts
8. Lewis Pixley
9. Robert Russell
10. Josiah Retherford
12. Evin Shelby
13. Littleberry Sames
14. Thomas Shors
15. Henry Spring
16. John Stinnett
17. John Waldriss

Group II:

6. Alford McKinny
7. Harrison Moore
8. Mathew Mays
10. Jonathan Shelby
11. Robert Theorid
12. James Theroid

The June 19 roll shows that the company was originally enrolled at Albion on May 5.

Daniel Powell Commanding the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this 15th. day of August 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the 3rd. Reg't 2nd. Brigade by order of Brigr. Genl. Atkinson

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 19, 1832, for three months. Column 6, headed "Pay," states, "No payment Made." The eighth column lists those men present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from remarks.

Column 10, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The eighth column and the "Remarks" column are in a different handwriting from that of the first seven columns, and there are, as a result, numerous spelling variations in names: Pvts. 3, James Burnett; 21, Eneas Lasiter; 24, Moses Pearce; 25, James Pearce; 28, Woody Tucker; 32, Eli Vickers; 34, James Williss; and 36, Alfred Williss. A few of the remarks were added by the captain.

The Recapitulation gives the number of company members present on Aug. 15 as 27; 9 were on furlough; and 19 had been discharged earlier.

A separate roll for the eighteen noncommissioned officers and privates under Lt. James Eubanks, who were mustered out Aug. 2 at Dixon by Capt. Zalmon C. Palmer, is in DNA; IHI has photostat. This detachment roll gives the enrollment date as June 16 instead of June 19. A note at the head of the "Remarks" column, probably written by a U.S. paymaster, reads: "Detached from the Company 15 July according to testimony of Lt Eubanks."

The number of rations drawn by each man for traveling home is either ten or eighteen. The figure is unclear. Seven of the men owed the sutler amounts ranging from $1.00 to $5.00. The only remarks on the roll concern property losses.

The following names have spelling variations on the detachment roll: 3d Sgt. Thomas Joiner; 3d Corp. Benj. Ranney; Musician Thomas Terry; and Privts. 1, Elisha Askey; 7, Asa L. Bennet; 16, William Grose; 18, John Haskins; 19, Heseekiah Holland; 22, Sidney McNut (McNutt in the "Names Present" column); 23, James Netsor; 39, John Evolet; and 41, Reuben Rogers.

IHI also has a company mustering-in roll, dated June 19, signed by the captain, and bearing Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection. The following three men, not on the Aug. 2 or Aug. 15 rolls, were members of the company at that time: John Eubanks, 1st sergeant, "Appointed Adjutant June 18th"; Henry Towell, a private, "Appointed Pay Master June 18th" (he is also listed as a private on the mustering-in roll of John Haynes's company); and William Eubanks, a private, "Elected Major June 15th. 1832."

The only other remark on the roll follows the name of William Taylor, then a private, "Elected 1st Sergeant June 18th."

Names with spelling variations on the June 19 roll are those of 1st Corp. Alexander McKinzy; 2d Corp. John Augburn; 3d Corp. Benjamin Rany; Musician Thomas Terry; and Privts. 2, Henry Bryant; 3, James Barnett; 12, John Delapp; 13, Isaac Davis; 14, William Davis; 16, William Grose; 18, John Haskins; 19, Hezekiah Hollon; 21, Enas A. Lasiter; 22, Sidney McNut; 26, Thomas Poole; 27, Abner L. Troussel; 31, William H. Vaughn; 32, Eli Vickers; 33, Thomas Walters; 37, David P. Burnet; 39, John Evelett; and 41, Reuben Rogers.

DS. IHi. Columns 4, 5, and 7, omitted here, state that the staff was enrolled June 18 for 90 days and list those present at the muster-out. Only Harlan and Flanagan were absent.

IHi also has two mustering-in rolls for this staff, both dated at the foot of the Lower Rapids of Illinois River, June 18, 1832. Both rolls have E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection. One entire roll is in Berry's handwriting, and the other is in Joshua T. Bradley's. On the Berry ADS, the paymaster's name is given "Justin Martin" (his full name was Justin Martin Harlan) and the surgeon's name, "George Flannagan." On the other roll, the adjutant's name is given "Niniveh Shaw"; the paymaster's, "Justin Harlin"; and the surgeon's, "Geo. Flannagan."

tailed no duties as such during the campaign. Harlan continued to serve as 2d lieutenant of Capt. John F. Richardson's company of the 2d Brigade Spy Battalion until he was furloughed at Prairie du Chien on Aug. 4. See the company roll and Atkinson to Harlan, July 20.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Abner Greer's Company Spy Battalion 2nd Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Capt. A. Greer Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The statement regarding lost equipment in the "Record of Events" is in the captain's handwriting. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The Recapitulation shows the total company strength at the time of the muster-out as forty-seven. Two men on the above roll, Pvts. 15 and 25, Alfred H. Grass and Albert G. Rucker, were mustered out on staff rolls and not with the company.

Columns 4, 5, and 6 state that the company was enrolled May 5, 1832, for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 10, "Inspection Remarks," is blank. Column 8 lists twenty men present Aug. 15. The following four names have spelling variations in this column: 3d Corp. Jeremiah Cauthorn and Pvts. 14, Harvy Gibens; 16, Joseph Jenedy; and 27, William Seeds.

IHi also has a photostat from DNA of a duplicate mustering-out roll. The DNA roll has General Atkinson's AES of approval and the following NS about the service of a company private:

Thomas Spencer, a private of this company was mustered into the service of the U. States as a private of the company mounted, armed & equipped, on the 19t. of June 1832 at Ft Wilburn. He served through the campaign & left the company in charge of a disabled man (T. B. Spencer) on the 10t. or 11t. of August, four or five days before the company was mustered out of service & his name was omitted upon this muster roll by oversight. He should have been mustered out of service upon this roll—and is fully entitled to pay during the full term with the company—To the truth of which I hereby certify upon honor

Saml. Adams Col. 2nd. Regt.

J M McLean [Pay] M[as]t 2 Regt

Albt G Rucker Surgeons Mate Spy Battalion 2nd. Brigade

Variations in remarks on the two rolls are noted in the "Remarks" column above or in later footnotes. The DNA roll shows twenty-one men present at the muster-out. Abner Johnston, Pvt. 17, on furlough according to the IHi roll, is listed present on the DNA roll. The following five names are given more fully or with spelling differences: 1st Sgt. Ebenezer Z. Ryan; 4th Sgt. Alexr. H. Gilmore; and Pvts. 12, Edw. P. Fyffe; 34, Gideon Kellams; and 37, Loami Pumfrey.

IHi also has a company mustering-in roll dated June 18. Except for the certificates the entire roll is in Greer's handwriting. The certificate which Greer signed as captain was made out by William B. Archer, and the certificate of inspection signed by Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry was made out by Joshua T. Bradley. The captain's certificate states that the company was then part of the 2d Regiment, 2d Brigade.

The June 18 roll lists fifty company members, including Pvts. Thomas Spencer, Alfred H. Grass, and Albert G. Rucker. The two remarks follow the names of Grass, "appointed Qr. M. sergeant [of the 2d Regiment] 17th. June 1832," and William "Ivens" ("Evans" above), "For John C. Reiley." Apparently Evans, Pvt. 9 above, was a substitute.

The following spellings from the June 18 roll differ from those on the IHi mustering-out roll: 2d Lt. Aaron Wells; 1st Corp. James Gad; 3d Corp. Jeremiah Cothorn; and Pvts. 9, William Ivens; 13, William Gillasp; 14, Harvy Gibbens; 16, Joseph Jeneday ("Jeneday" in the "Names Present" column); 17, Abner Johnson; 18, Robert Johnson; 20, John O. Lacky; 21, Thomas Lacky; 22, James Neal; 27, William Seeds; 30, Thomas Purkins; 34, Gideon Kellams; 35, Williamson Kirklin; 36, Josiah Silby; and 37, Lowanmi Pumphrey.

Ten of the absentees on Aug. 15 had been discharged at Dixon on Aug. 2 by Capt. Z. C. Palmer in a detachment under the command of Capt. William Highsmith; see the detachment roll in the last chapter of 3d Army rolls.

2 The mustering-out roll in DNA states that he was "left on duty 7 July."

3 The date he was left sick is given as July 9 on the mustering-out roll in DNA.

4 Johnston is listed present on the DNA mustering-out roll. The remark following his name on that roll reads simply, "Lost horse."

5 The date of his furlough is given as Aug. 12 on the DNA roll.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

this company was organized & enrolled under command of William Mchenry capt. on the 12th. day of may 1832 and took up a line of march for fort Wilburn on the 31st. day of may 1832 and arrived at fort Wilburn and was mustered into the Service of the united States on the 19th. want 12 days traveling Rations

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. John McCowns Company in the Spy Battalion 2nd. Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

John McCown Commanding the Company.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this 15th. day of August 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the Spy Battalion 2nd. Brigade by order of Brigr. Genl Atkinson

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled May 12 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 8 lists those men present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. One name is spelled differently in the eighth column: Pvt. 7 is listed as "Willis Council." The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The mustering-out roll printed in Elliott,

48-49, includes one man not listed above: Pvt. Nicholas A. Robinson, who was furloughed at Prairie du Chien on Aug. 7. His name was inadvertently omitted from the IHi roll, for he was included in the Recapitulation figures. They show a total company strength of 52, of whom 34 were present, 7 were on furlough, and 11 were supposed to have been discharged earlier at Dixon.

The roll in Elliott also includes the following statement not on the IHi roster:

John C. Slocumb, of White county, volunteered, armed and equipped himself, and marched with the company from Carmi, took sick and was left at Fairfield, Wayne county. I am credibly informed, and believe, that said Slocumb afterwards reported himself for duty at Fort Wilbourn, and served there and as Wagon Guard between Fort Wilbourn and Dixon's Ferry, when he was discharged early in August and returned home.

(Signed.) Wm. McHenry,
Major Spy Battalion.

Slocumb enrolled in Capt. James Arnett's company of the 1st Regiment, 3d Brigade, on July 14 and was mustered out of service with that company on Aug. 1 at Fort Wilbourn.

IHI also has a June 18 mustering-in roll, with certificates signed "Wm. McHenry Capt" and "E. C. Berry, Adjt & Inspector Genl." The captain's certificate states that the company was then part of the 3d Regiment, 2d Brigade. McHenry, "Elected Major (Spy Battalion) June 18th," was succeeded by Pvt. John McCown, who was elected captain the same day. In addition to McHenry, the June 18 roll includes six other men, all privates, not on the IHI mustering-out roll. They are (1) Nicholas A. Robinson, who served in the company but whose name was omitted from the IHI Aug. 15 roll; (2) Samuel A. Boseman, "Appointed Qr. Master Sergt 18th June"; (3) James Grimes, "Appointed Sergt Major June 18th"; (4) Joseph T. Eccles, "Appointed Qr. Master (Battalion Spies)

June 18th 1832"; (5) Alexander Stewart, "Appointed Surgeons Mate June 19th"; and (6) James Barnett. Barnett (or Barnet) apparently transferred to Daniel Powell's company of the 3d Regiment, for he is included on the June 19 roll of that company. Boseman, Grimes, and Eccles served on the staff of the Spy Battalion and Stewart, on that of the 3d Regiment.

The mustering-in roll gives the place of enrollment as Carmi. Names spelled differently on that roll: Capt. John McCown; 1st Lt. Samuel Slocumb; 2d Lt. Walter Burris; 4th Sgt. James Canada; 4th Corp. Henry McCown; and Privs. 3, Joseph Britten; 4, John Blackleach; 6, James Con; 7, Willis Council; 10, Thomas Countz; 12, Jonathan Ivans; 21, Demsey Holeby; 22, Daniel Hasty; 23, John Husk; 24, William S. Hamilton; 25, Thomas J. Lindsay; 27, Wilkinson McMullin; 28, William G. Nevit; 29, James Nesler; 32, Burris Rippeto; 37, Rodolphus Sutor; 39, Christopher Wilson; and 40, Hardy Williams.

John F Richardson Capt.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Richardson Company of Mounted Volunteers of the Spy Battalion 2nd. Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company. Dixons Ferry Rock River 15th. August 1832

John F. Richardson Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The "Record of Events" is in the captain's handwriting. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 state that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 19 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the day of enrollment. Column 8 lists those present at the muster-out, and Column 10, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The Recapitulation gives a total company strength of 41, of whom 20 were present at the muster-out. The absentees consisted of 5 who transferred to Nott's company, 12 who were supposed to have been discharged earlier at Dixon's Ferry, one who was mustered out with the staff, 2 on furlough, and one deserter.

Four of the men discharged at Dixon's were mustered out of service in Adj. Isaac Parmenter's detachment on Aug. 2, and eight others were mustered out in Capt. Samuel Brimberly's detachment on Aug. 3.

Another mustering-out roll in DNA (IHi has photostat) has Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. About half of the DNA roll is in Richardson's handwriting. Four names are spelled differently, those of 2d Corp. Nathan Hollenbeck and Pvts. 4, Martin L. Chinoweth; 5, Theopolas Cooper; and 14, Coonrod F. Locker. Several remarks give more details about the time and value of property losses; these are noted in footnotes below.

IHi also has a June 18 mustering-in roll, signed by Richardson, with a certificate of inspection made out and signed by Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry. The heading of the roll states that the company was "attached to 2nd. Brig Odd Bat. Spies 1 Regt." The date of enrollment is given as May 5 and the place as Darwin. On June 18 the company had only thirty-six members, four of whom are not on the mustering-out roll. They are Pvts. William Hallenbeck (so spelled), John Salmon, George W. Catron, and James W. Hogue.

Nine men on the Aug. 15 roll are not included on the mustering-in roll. They are Pvts. Martin L. Chinoweth, Theophilus Cooper, Aspatio Elliott, George Johnson, Samuel Prevo, Ira Prevo, Cyrus Sharp, John Waters, and Alexander Yocum.

Names spelled differently on the June 18 roll: 1st Lt. Woodford Dulany; 2d Corp. Nathan Hallenbeck; and Pvts. 8, Andrew Haddan; 9, Samuel Haddan; 13, Abel Lanham; and 14, Conrad F. Locher.

CD, IHi. The roll is unsigned and in an unfamiliar handwriting.

originally a member of Jacob Feaman's (later James Conner's) company.

<sup>5</sup> The brigade included twenty-seven companies, all but one of which is represented in the list of captains. Capt. David Smith of the 1st Regiment is not included. In addition to the captains listed, the company rolls show that the following men also served as captains for varying periods of time:

- (1) Samuel T. Mathews, later colonel of the 1st Regiment, was the original captain of James Arnett's company.
- (2) Gabriel Jones, later colonel of the 3d Regiment, was the original captain of James Thompson's company.
- (3) James Conner, listed above as a 1st lieutenant, succeeded Jacob Feaman as captain of a company in the 3d Regiment.
- (4) Powell H. Sharp, later lieutenant colonel of the 4th Regiment, was the original captain of Bennet Nowlen's company.
- (5) William Lee D. Ewing, later major of the Spy Battalion, was the original captain of Samuel Houston's company.

- (1) John Lee, David Smith's company, 1st Regiment.

(2) Nelson H. Johnston, Samuel T. Mathews' (later Arnett's) company, 1st Regiment, who was appointed to the staff of the brigade.

(3) Matthew Gray, who succeeded James Conner, when the latter advanced to the captaincy of Feaman's company, 3d Regiment.

(4) James Baker, Reuben Brown's company, 4th Regiment, who resigned to serve as assistant quartermaster on the brigade staff and was succeeded by William Baker.

(5) Bennet Nowlen, later captain of Powell H. Sharp's company, 4th Regiment.

(6) John Yowell, Sharp's (later Nowlen's) company, 4th Regiment, elected to succeed Jesse Scott, who resigned July 10.

(7) Shadrack J. Campbell, who became 1st lieutenant of Thomas Moffett's company, 4th Regiment, when David Black resigned.

DS, DNA. Endorsed; "112 Wright 18178."

Columns 1, 6, 7, 8, and 9 are omitted here. Columns 1 and 7, headed "No" and "Period of time," are blank. Column 6 states that the company was enrolled by William Gillham; Column 8 gives the distance (presumably, from Fort Wilbourn to the place of enrollment in Morgan County) as 200 miles; and Column 9 lists those present at the muster-out. Absentees can be determined from the remarks, except in the cases of Alexander Beall and James Gillham, who were listed as present despite the fact that they held staff positions. The following names are spelled differently in the ninth column: James Moris, Seebert C. Shelton, Robert McCulom, Hancel W. House (since he was absent, the entry was marked out but is legible), Ammanuel Kemp, William L. Campbell, and Hiram H. Lemmon.

IHI also has photostat from DNA of the company mustering-in roll of June 20, with the certificate of inspection signed "E. C. Berry, Adj't & Inspector Genl." The "signature" on the captain's certificate is not Gillham's. The June 20 roll has the Wright endorsement and General Atkinson's AES of approval.

Corp. Isaac Graton was listed as a private on June 20, and Washington Olney, whom Graton succeeded, was 4th corporal on that date. Olney is the last private on the roll above.

Columns 5, 6, and 7 are omitted here. Columns 5 and 6 give the dates of service as June 2 to July 29, inclusive. [I certifi]y on Honor that the company under command of Capt William Gordon of which this is a Muster Roll, was attached to the Regiment under my command. I have Examined this Muster Roll, and being personally acquainted with every person whose name appears thereon, and having been present when the company was mustered out of service by Capt Gordon, I am satisfied that the Roll is correct, the time of service correctly stated, and the remarks true    Given under my hand this 25th. day of Febuary 1833.

(Signed) Cyrus Matthews Capt.

Mustered into the Service of the United States, the 22d. Day of June 1832

(Signed) Robt. Anderson Asst. Insr. Genl.

Anderson Muster Book, IHi. The last two columns, "Names Present" and "Remarks," are omitted here. With three exceptions all company members were present and the only remarks on the roll follow the names of absentees: Pvts. 8, Joseph Rodes, "Sick"; 18, L. B. Ragen, "Sick"; and 32, William Carter, "absent with leave Detached by the Quarter Master of the third Brige." In the "Names Present" column the name of Pvt. 7 is given "George W. Row" and that of Pvt. 23 as "T. Loflin."

IHi also has a photostat from DNA of the mustering-out roll signed by William Hunter at Fort Wilbourn, Aug. 1, with Lt. N. J. Eaton's mustering certificate. The Aug. 1 roll is endorsed, "119 Wright 18178," and has H. Atkinson's AES of approval. The mustering-out roll omits three men listed above—Pvts. 24, Thomas Bucy; 32, William Carter; and 35, P. W. January—but includes five not on the above roll—M. L. Stinson, Wm. S. Hamilton, Isaac Moss, R. M. Patterson (whose name is scratched through with the notation, "Gon Home"), and Frances (sic) George, whose residence is given as White County. Hamilton was also from White County, although this roll does not so indicate.

Spelling variations and remarks on the Aug. 1 roll are as follows: Capt. Cyrus Mathews, "On furlough since the 23d July 1832"; 2d Lt. W. K. Lindsay, "Resigned 23d June 1832"; 1st Corp. A. B. Shepherd; 3d Corp. Wiley Scribner, "Elected 2 Lieut 23 June 1832"; and Pvts. 6, Fielding Grimsley, "Absent driving a team hauling provisions for the Army"; 7, G. W. Row, "Elected 2nd. Corporal June 23d 1832"; 9, J. Kurkendall; 14, J. C. Huston; 15, J. L. Haymes; 18, L. B. Ragen, "On furlough"; 23, Thomas Loflin; 25, Wm. Taylor, "On furlough"; 27, W. W. Myres; 29, Wm. (probably a copyist's error) Webb; and 34, John A. Reed.

<sup>1</sup> A Berry Holland is also listed as a private in Capt. Samuel T. Mathews' company. If the rolls are correct, there were then two men by this name in Morgan County, since both men are listed as present at the company musters and the companies were in service during the same period.

DS, IHI. Columns 4, 5, and 7 are omitted here. They show that the staff was enrolled June 16 for 90 days and list those present at the muster-out. The only absentees were James and Boone.

IHI also has a staff mustering-in roll, made out by Joshua T. Bradley, with Adj. Gen. E. C. Berry's certificate of inspection dated June 20 at the foot of the Lower Rapids of Illinois River. The June 20 roll gives the date of commission as June 18 and the place of rendezvous as Fort Wilbourn. The following two names are spelled differently: Samuel Bennett and Henry Batmon. The June 20 roll calls Shepherd surgeon's mate, not assistant surgeon.

to act as regimental adjutant from July 6 until July 25.

DS. IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service June 19, 1832, for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank.

The Recapitulation gives a total company strength of 46, of whom 32 were present Aug. 16. The roster of Isaac Parmenter's detachment, mustered out of service Aug. 2, includes names of 3 men from this company: Richard Rattan, Daniel Rattan, and John C. Jordan; see the last chapter of 3d Army rolls.

The name of Price Trovillo was entered on the mustering-out roll as a private, with the remark "Promoted June 19th," but the entire entry was crossed out. Trovillo became an assistant quartermaster general on the Governor's staff; see the June 23 staff roll.

DS (?), IHi. In most cases when the captain's name affixed to the certificate is in a different handwriting from that of the rest of the roll, the name is a signature. That is the assumption made here. However, if Patterson did sign the roll, he misspelled his own name as "Pattershom" when he inserted it in the certificate. A few of the remarks and the sentence dealing with traveling rations in the "Record of Events" are in the same handwriting as the captain's signature.

The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 19 for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 8 lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Two names are spelled differently in the eighth column: Pvts. 3 and 12 are given "Robert Chewning" and "Philoman Higgins." Pvt. 8, Isaac Darnielle (the preferred spelling), was marked present Aug. 16 despite the fact that the remark following his name states that he was detached as color bearer. Samuel Bowman's name was lined out on the original, though he was included in the Recapitulation figures.

The Recapitulation gives the total company strength as 36 men, of whom 26 were present at the muster-out, 9 were on furlough, and one had been killed.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This company was enrolled & volunteered in Adams County on the fifth day of June 1832 and ordered to March forthwith to head Quarters at which place we arrived at Fort Wilbourn on the Sixteenth day of June 1832 and Mustered into Service of the United States on the Eighteenth day of June 1832 as Mounted Volunteers under command of General Atkinson

This company furnished its own rations to the place of rendezvous also horse forage.

During the whole time of Service the officers of this Company drew only the Rations Issued to the privates

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Earl Peirces Company Mounted Volunteers second Reg't third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

this Company Drew Eight days traveling Rations to Return home from Aug 15th 1832

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 show that, with one exception, company members were enrolled in U.S. service on June 18 for 90 days. The last private on the roll, Lowery Shaw, did not enroll until July 3. Columns 8 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out. There were twenty-one absentees: 1st Lieutenant Morris, 2d Lieutenant Ames, Sergeant Smith, Corporals Morris and Hanks, Adjutant Holmes, and the last fifteen privates on the roll.

Two names have spelling variations in the eighth column: 2d Lt. "Beauford" Morris and Pvt. 20, George "Whittell."

Originally entered on the roll were the names of the following three men who served on the 2d Regiment staff: James W. Whitney, promoted to sergeant major June 18; William M. Shepherd, promoted to surgeon's mate June 18; and Henry Baitman (so spelled), promoted to quartermaster sergeant June 18. The entries giving this information were completely crossed out. It was probably inadvertence on the part of the person making out the roll that Adjutant Holmes's name was not also marked out.

The five men left at Dixon's Ferry, Privates Brawdy, Clark, Harris, McCarta, and Shinn, were mustered out in Isaac Parmenter's detachment on Aug. 2.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

the Said Company was organized at pinckneyville perry County on the 4th. day of June under William Adair Captain & Marched on the 7th was Mustered into Service on the 21st.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. William Adairs Company of Third Reg't Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Wm. Adair Commanding the Company.

the Said Company has drawn twelve days rations officers single rations

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IHI. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled on June 4 for 90 days. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Two names have spelling variations in the eighth column: Pvts. 10 and 30 are listed as "Hawkins Ausborn" and "Resin Keath." Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation states that 33 men were present at the muster-out, 8 were on furlough, 2 were absent with leave, 5 had been discharged, and one had been killed.

The roster in Elliott, 67-68, copied from an original in DNA, includes one man not on the IHI original. He was Pvt. William Hutching, "Dead; left sick at Salt River June 14." The Elliott roster also says that Adair was "Promoted Captain June 26, from the ranks." Neither roll indicates who the original 1st Lieutenant of the company was.

There are several other differences in the two rolls. The IHI roll shows that James S. Brown, Pvt. 2, was furloughed Aug. 8, whereas the Elliott roster shows that James C. Brown was the one furloughed. The "lost horse" attributed above to Pvt. 28, Josiah Wells, is attributed to Abner Pyle on the Elliott roster. No remark follows Wells's name in Elliott. Also, Elliott does not show that James Huggins, Pvt. 14, was on furlough. Elliott does give Aug. 8 as the date of furlough for Thomas Wolf, Pvt. 28. The information given in Elliott about the discharge of Joseph Wells is surely incorrect: there he is said to have been dis-

Significant spelling variations on the two rolls are pointed out in later notes.

1 Unfortunately, all of the names preceding this one are given in their natural order and all of the names following have been transposed so that the last names are given first. Which group this name belongs with has not been conclusively determined. No contemporary record of either a Bartley Anderson or an Anderson Bartley has been found in I-A. However, since Berry Anderson, also a member of this company, had a son named Bartley C. Anderson, it seems not unreasonable to assume that the son was a namesake of a relative of his father's. See Randolph, Monroe, and Perry Counties (1883), 351.

2 Elliott, 67, gives this man's name as "Albert B. Murphy."

3 Elliott, 67, gives this name as "James M. Hogue."

4 Elliott, 68, gives this name as "Hawkins, Ausborn." Hawkins S. Osburn, or Osburn, was an early settler of Perry County and at one time a state representative. Although available biographical information does not mention that he served in the Black Hawk War, it seems likely that he was the "Hawkins Ausborn" of Adair's company. See Randolph, Monroe, and Perry Counties (1883), 178, 338, 345.

5 Elliott, 68, gives this name as "France." On the IHI roll the first letter of the surname is Adair's very distinctive "S," clearly different from his "F's" and "T's."

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

The Clinton men started from Carlyle with 6 days provisions and forage for their horses at their own expense—and the officers have not drawn any extra rations of any kind during the Campaign—having only drawn one single Ration for each day.

The company only drew three Rations of corn for their horses.

The company was organized the 23d of may commenced their march the 28th and was mustered into service the 21st of June

The company draw twelve days Rations on being discharged

The Officers draw Single Rations

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Andrew Bankson's Company of the Third Reg't Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Godfrey Ammons Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The body of the roll and a portion of the "Record of Events" are in the handwriting of Joshua T. Bradley.

The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 give the date of enrollment as May 23 for all but two men and the period of enrollment as 90 days. James Rutledge and Isaac Taulby ("Talbee" above), Pvts. 36 and 48, were enrolled on June 21. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absences can be determined from the remarks. Names spelled differently in the eighth column are those of 1st Lt. Godfrey Amons and Pvts. 8, Levi Edmunds; 31, William Petty; and 42, William Segraves. Columns 6 and 10, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation shows a total company strength of 66 men, of whom 39 were present—38 fit for duty and one sick. The absentees included 21 on furlough and 6 who had been discharged for disability.

A roll of this company printed in Marion and Clinton Counties (1881), 120, was probably transcribed from a roll made at the rendezvous about June 21. It includes 68 men, listing 5 not on the Aug. 17 roll but omitting 3 who were company members at that time. Those omitted were Pvts. George Mitchell, James Rutledge, and Benjamin Smith, Nos. 21, 36, and 44 above. The five men not mustered out with the company were William H. Terrel (so spelled) and C. N. Halstead—both of whom transferred to the 3d Regiment staff, Elijah Blevins, James Downing, and P. W. January.

A James Downing whose residence was given as Bond County had served earlier in Benjamin James's two companies. James Downing of Bond County also served in Thomas Stout's company of the 2d Regiment, 3d Brigade. It is possible, of course, that he enrolled in Bankson's company before joining Stout's. It is also possible that there was a James Downing from Clinton County who enrolled in the company only to drop out before being mustered into U.S. service.

P. W. January was mustered into U.S. service in Cyrus Mathews' infantry company of the 1st Regiment, 3d Brigade. He was also absent when that company was mustered out. Mathews' company was from Morgan County, and nothing on the mustering-in roll suggests that January was not regularly enrolled in that county. Since the mustering officers and clerks were often lax about identifying transfers, it is quite possible that the January listed on both the mustering-in rolls of Bankson's and Mathews' companies was the same man. No information about him has been found either in county histories or in I-A records.

Names given more fully or with spelling variations in Marion and Clinton Counties (1881), 120, are as follows: 3d Corp. Merideth Nichols and Pvts. 2, John Barkus; 6, Lewis Cole; 8, Levi Edmunds; 17, John Ring; 18, Emanuel Ring; 19, James Lawson; 22, Samuel McCullough; 26, Henry H. Neely; 28, John Omelveney; 31, William Petty; 32, Jesse Philips; 33, John B. Roper; 38, Jabal Ray; 41, Henry Segraves; 42, Wm. Segraves; 45, Isaac Settle; 47, William Tolbert; 48, Isaac D. Tolbee; 51, Ambrose Yarbrough; and No. 1 of those previously discharged, James Alton.

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled May 24 for 90 days. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation gives a total company strength of 54, of whom 37 were present at the muster-out. The absentees included 6 who were sick, 6 assigned to care for the sick, one discharged, one "supposed" dis-

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This Company was Organized on the 4th of May. Recvd Orders and marched on the 29th. arived at Bards Town on the 3rd of June agreeable to the Orders of the Govenor there drew rations and marched to fort Wilburn and was mustered into the Service of the United States on the 21st of June

This Company furnished their own rations & forage for Six days. the Officers of the Company have drawn only one ration per day during the Campaign

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Company Third Reg't Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

James Burns      Commanding the Company.

Recvd 11 days Rations flour and meat salt this 17th of August 1832

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation, which is incomplete, and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled on May 4 for 90 days. Column 8 lists the names of the twenty-five men who were present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

A list of members of this company based on reminiscences of two of its members was published in Washington County (1879), 29. The list included three men not on the above roll—A. J. Morgan, William Talbott, and Craig Mitchell (Samuel C. Mitchell ?)—but omitted the following six who did serve: George W. Lee, Samuel C. Mitchell, Benajah Morgan, George W. Pate, George Terril, and Edward Kinyon.

The roll of this company published in Elliott, 71-72, lists William Tate as "Absent: lost his horse & tent on forced m'ch." The IHi roll lists him present and has no remark after his name. The only other difference in remarks is that the IHi roll shows that George W. Pate lost a horse and tent on a forced march. There is no remark after Pate's name in Elliott. The names of Privates 11 and 37 are given more fully in Elliott as Anthony M. House and Charles H. Wood, and that of the 3d corporal is given as Marquis G. Faulkner. Other spelling variations, except those due to faulty transcription, are minor.

<sup>2</sup> The clerk who made out this roll wrote "sergeant" consistently when he meant "surgeon." In all cases the error was corrected in a different handwriting. Apparently this second "surgeon" was added to make sure that the correction would be understood.

COMPANY OF CAPTAIN JACOB FEAMAN (Later James Conner's)

DS, IHI. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. The fourth and fifth columns state that the company was enrolled May 25 for 90 days. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Names spelled differently in the eighth column are those of 2d Corp. James Whalen; 4th Corp. Willy Paschall; and Privts. 8, Michl Davis; 9, Joseph Daza; 15, Baptist Keemansa; 17, Henry Lachapell; 25, Ferdinand Onger; and 27, Baptiste Pernicawa. The fifth and tenth columns, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation shows a total company strength of 55 men, of whom 37 were present at the muster-out. The absentees included 8 absent with leave, 2 "supposed to be discharged," 5 discharged for disability, one who had resigned, and 2 who had been promoted.

1 Photostats of two documents relative to Seymour's service are in IHI. One, signed by Jacob Feaman before James Hughes, J. P., on June 11, 1833, states that Seymour served as a teamster "for the purpose of Transporting [the company's] baggage from KasKasKia to Fort Wilburn" and affirms the truth of an affidavit sworn to presumably by Seymour. The second document, unsigned and undated, is apparently a duplicate of an affidavit drawn up by Seymour to support his claim for payment for two horses. The document states that after Seymour's arrival at Fort Wilbourn, he "entered into the service of the united States with a Waggon & two horses, & was employed in transporting amunition, that in consequence of the government not furnishing forage for said horses . . . in returning home near Springfield about the day of August 1832, a certain bay horse having been so much reduce for want of forage gave out & died. Also a dun horse, although I got him home, was so much reduced . . . that he became useless & of no value." This second document also includes an affidavit prepared for the signature of the company's appraisers. Each horse was valued at $90.

The officers have got but one ration per day & that not complete

On the 15th Inst. the company drew twelve days rations of flour & bacon, & eight & one half quarts salt to be divided among 40 men. as traveling rations home<sup>1</sup>

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. James Thompson's Company Third Reg't Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IHI. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled June 4 for 90 days. Column 8 lists the names of the thirty-nine men who were present at the muster-out. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation gives the total company strength as 50 men, of whom 39 were present—2 of these were marked sick. The remarks on the IHI roll do not indicate that any of those present were sick, but the roll published in Elliott, 69-70, gives their names as Benjamin Overton, Jr., and William Parks, Pvts. 24 and 26 above. The absentees included 3 sick, one on furlough, 4 on detached duty to care for the sick, and 3 who had been previously discharged for disability.

Rutledge, Baxton B. Berry, and Rivedious Blanchard.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

The Co. was Organized in Sangamon County Springfield 6 June 1832 Arrived at Ft. Wilbourne 15 June 1832 Mustered into Service 20 June 32

The Comdg. Officers of the Co. drew One Ration during the above period

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Ruben Brown's Company Fourth Reg't Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Rewben Broun Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

This Company drew rations to return home to Include the 22d of August 1832

DS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 20, 1832, for three months, and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 8 lists those present at the muster-out, and Column 10, "Inspection Remarks," is blank. Two names have spelling variations in the eighth column; those of Pvts. 17 and 24 are given as Jas. H. Poore and Iseah B. Williams.

The Recapitulation gives the total company strength as 39, of whom 26 were present. The absentees included 9 who were absent on furlough, one who had transferred to another company, and 3 who had deserted.

<sup>1</sup> Baker's name was inserted both in the "Names" and "Names Present" columns after the other names had been entered. A remark following his name was marked out but is still legible. It reads: "Resigned from 1st. Liut. 19th. June 1832." He was probably the James Baker who became assistant quartermaster for the 3d Brigade. He was also listed present on the brigade staff roll.

<sup>2</sup> Frank E. Stevens wrote that this man was the famed pioneer Methodist circuit-rider, Peter Cartwright, who then lived in Sangamon County; see The Black Hawk War, 195n. The Stevens Coll. in IHi does not have any correspondence supporting Stevens's contention; and no evidence to support his statement has been found either by the editor or by Cartwright biographer Theodore L. Agnew.

It seems far likelier that this man was Peter Cutright, Jr., whose family lived near Waynesville in present De Witt County, then near the Macon-McLean County line. Peter Cutright, Jr., was the husband of Temperance Hall Kindle, eldest daughter of William Hall, who was killed in the Indian Creek Massacre of May 21, 1832. See Milo Custer, A Few Family Records (Bloomington, Ill., 1922, 1925), Nos. 7 and 9.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

Capt Jesse Claywell's Company was organised 5th June took up line of March on the 10th day of the Same Month for the place of Rendezvous arrived there on the 14th of the Same, was Mustered into the Service of the United States 20 June 1832 the Company drew at the time they were mustered out of Service 6 days traveling rations the officers whilst in Service drew one days Rations as each Soldier did.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt Jesse Claywell's Company, in the 4th Reg't 3rd Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IIIi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that the company was enrolled June 5, 1832, for 90 days and had received no pay. The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," is blank. Column 8 lists 47 men present at the muster-out. Nathan Hussey, who served as wagon master for the 3d Brigade and was marked present on the brigade staff roll, was also listed present on the roll of this company. The absentees included 5 on furlough, 3 attending the sick, 2 sick, one who had resigned, one who had been discharged, and 2 who had transferred. The figures given in the Recapitulation on the roll do not agree with the remarks.

The roll of this company printed in Elliott, 75-76, includes one man not on the IHi roll. He is Pvt. Hugh McGary, "Transferred to Capt. Earley's Co. June 20." The Elliott roll also has several minor variations in remarks which are pointed out in footnotes below.

1 "Elected 1st Sergeant July 11"—Elliott, 75.

2 A remark following his name in Elliott, 75, states: "At Fort Crawford." Since he is listed present on the IHi roll, it seems far likelier that the Elliott roll was miscopied and that the phrase "at Fort Crawford" was inserted above the remark following William Hussey's name and should be read with that remark.

3 At Fort Crawford?—see n. 2.

4 The Elliott roll, 75, adds the phrase, "at Hamilton "

5 There is no remark after his name on the roll in Elliott, 75.

6 The Elliott roll, 76, adds the phrase, "at Ft. Crawford."

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This Company Mustered into the Service on the 20 June 1832 at Fort Wilburn

Was enrolled & Mustered preparatory to starting from home at Springfield Ill. June 4th 1832

Started from home on the 8th June 1832

Arrived at Fort Wilburn on the 13th June 1832

Furnished our own rations to the 13th June 1832

The Officers have never drawn individually but Single rations, that is one ration each day during the campaign

The Cartridge Boxes drawn for the use of this Company at Fort Wilburn were old & much worn & Genl Atkinson permitted them to be paired down so as to be of convenient size for Cavalry under the assurance that we would not have to account for them

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Thomas Moffetts Company fourth Reg't third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company. & That the company drew 6 days traveling Rations

Thomas Moffett Capt Commanding the Company.

Robt Anderson Lt & Asst Inr Genl

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 state that the company was enrolled on June 4 for 90 days. The sixth column has the entry, "nothing Paid." The tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," has a few entries added by Lieutenant Anderson, which have been included in the remarks above. See nn. 2, 3, 5, and 6.

The eighth column lists the names of the thirty-seven company members who were present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Names spelled differently or given more fully in the eighth column are those of 1st Corp. John Humphrey; 4th Corp. Jarret McKinnie; and Pvt. 7, Zebulon P. Cabaniss.

The original figures of the Recapitulation were juggled around by Anderson so that they are not only difficult to read but also incomplete and inaccurate. As shown above, the company contained fifty-six members just before it was mustered into U.S. service. Four of the men actually left the company prior to the official mustering-in on June 20: Pvts. 11, Garrett ("Garret" above) Elkin; 18, John Latham; 33, John Smith; and 34, Adam Smith.

1 The numbering of the roll was changed several times and was never properly corrected for the last few names. It has been corrected on this transcript.

2 The phrase "Before being mustered, etc." was added by Anderson in the "Inspection Remarks" column.

3 The phrase beginning "Before being mustered" was added by Anderson in the "Inspection Remarks" column.

4 Theophilus W. Smith had left the army by this time. Jeremiah Smith was lieutenant colonel of the 2d Regiment, 3d Brigade, and Samuel Smith was paymaster of the same unit. Henry G. Smith was quartermaster of Alexander's 2d Brigade. Neither the muster rolls nor the MSS in the BHW Coll. indicate which of these three was in charge of the volunteers remaining at Helena.

5 The statement regarding his having been furloughed before the mustering-in was added by Anderson in the "Inspection Remarks" column.

6 The statement that his name should not have been included in the company count was added by Anderson in the "Inspection Remarks" column.

7 The words in brackets are represented by ditto marks on the original.

8 Epperson was mustered out of service with this company as a private. He is listed as Pvt. 12 above.

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 show that the company was enrolled in U.S. service on June 19 for 90 days. Columns 6 and 10, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. Column 8 lists the thirty-seven company members who were present at the muster-out; absentees can be determined from the remarks. Names of the following three privates are spelled differently in the eighth column: 6, Thomas Cummings; 10, John England; and 19, Edward McKinly. The Recapitulation figures are inaccurate.

IHi also has a photostat of a duplicate mustering-out roll from DNA. The DNA roll has Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval. The same three names are spelled differently in the "Names" column of the DNA roll; there they are given as Thomas Cummings, John England, and Edward McKindley.

RECORD OF EVENTS, WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO BE NOTICED.

This Company was organized June the 7th 1832 and Reed Marching orders on the Same Day and marched on the 9th and Arived at fort Wibbourn on the 16th June and mustered into Serv[ic]e June the 19th this Company found their own Rations in full from the 8th of June [to] the 17th of June. Since the 17th of June till the present time August the 15th the Company have found Nearly all the Small Rations for themselves This Company Receivd Eight Days travling Rations for fifty six men on the 15th of June 1832 the officers have never Reed but one Ration per Day During the whole term of Service

This Company was organized under the Command of Wm. L D Ewing at its first organization

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Saml Houstons Company of the Spy Battalion Reg't 3rd Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Eight Days Rations Reed for travling for fifty six men officers Reed one Ration O[n]ley During the term of service

Saml Houston Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, IHi. The "Names Present" and "Remarks" columns and the "Record of Events" are in Houston's handwriting. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 show that the company was enrolled June 7 for 90 days. Columns 6 and 10, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. Column 8, headed "Names Present," has the following variations in names:

- 1st Sgt. Payton R. Bankson
- 2d Sgt. Richard Auston
- 2d Corp. Andrew J. Hickison
- 3d Corp. Alexander Fancher
- 4th Corp. Thomas Ausbrooks
- Pvts. 2. Phillip L. Auston
- 4. Richard Brazell
- 10. Henry P. Bailey
- 13. Eldridge Cole
- 15. John W. Coventry
- 26. Washington Hickison
- 33. Henry Lorton
- 34. William Lindley (name crossed out, but still legible)
- 35. Gidion Lowder
- 43. Payton J. Pilcher
- 47. Semore R. Powel
- 48. Alexander Prator.

The Recapitulation gives a total company strength of 73 men and states that 56 were present for duty at the muster-out. The IHi roll lists 74 members, if both Lindley (Pvt. 34) and his substitute are counted, and shows only 15 absentees. They were 1st Lieutenant Watwood, 1st Corporal Seals, and Privates Austin, Blundel, Davis, Hinton, Hankins, Z.

Harris, Kirkindall, Lindley, Lee, Micks, Moore, Reamon [Remann], and Wakefield. The company roll printed in Elliott, 80-81, shows no additional absences as such but has two remarks, indicating that Joseph Carter and A. P. H. Doyle, Pvts. 14 and 17 above, were "sick in camp." Presumably, then, they did not draw traveling rations to march home with the company. One "absentee" is still unaccounted for, since John Harrington, Lindley's replacement, was present at the muster-out.

1 July, not August—Elliott, 81.

2 The remark in Elliott, 81, states, "Furloughed at Helena on the 27th [July]."

3 Elliott, 81, says the loss occurred on Aug. 10.

4 "27th of July"—Elliott, 81.

5 John Harrington took Lindley's place in the company on July 10; see the last name on the roll.

6 The Elliott roster, 81, supplies the preposition "in." He was in service until Aug. 3, when he was mustered out at Dixon with Capt. Samuel Brimbery's detachment.

7 The Elliott roster, 81, states that McWhorter (the correct spelling) was furloughed July 15 and has no remark after the name of Benjamin D. Moore. It is not known whether the Elliott roster was mis-copied or whether the IHi roll is in error.

The "Names Present" column on the IHI roll lists McWhorter present and does not list Moore.

Allen F. Lindsey

The Officers of This company have drawn one Ration per day only during the campaign

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Allen F Lindseys Company Spy Battalion Third Brigade, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Allen. F. Lindsey Commanding the Company.

Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Inr. Genl.

ADS, IHi. The Recapitulation and Columns 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Column 4 gives the date of enrollment as June 19 for all but three company members. They were Pvts. 12, 17, and 19, Daniel King, Usel [Usil] Meeker, and Frederick McDonald, all of whom are said to have "Entered service 22d June 1832."

Column 5 gives the period of enrollment as 90 days. Column 6 has the single entry "No payment made." Column 8 lists the names of the thirty-five men who were present at the muster-out. Absentees can be determined from the remarks except in the case of Pvt.

4. John P. Dick; see n. 2. The only name spelled differently in the eighth column is that of Pvt. 23, given as Samuel Paschal.

Column 10, headed "Inspection Remarks," has five entries opposite the names of the following men: 3d Sgt. George W. Beggs, "1 Bayonett s[c]abbard lost in ser[v]ice"; 1st Corp. John Caldwell, "1 Bayonett lost in service"; 3d Corp. John A. Creed, "1 Bayonett Belt and scabbard"; Pvt. 10, Philip Hash, "1 Bayonet lost in service"; and Pvt. 29, James H. Walker, "1 Bayonet scabard lost in service."

The Recapitulation gives a total company strength of 43, of whom 35 were present, 33 fit for duty, and 2 sick. The absentees included 2 on detached service, 4 on furlough, one absent with leave, and one who had been discharged for disability.

<sup>1</sup> The three Sangamon County men in this company, Cummins, Daniel King, and Usel (or Usil) Meeker, had come to the rendezvous as members of a company commanded by Capt. Charles R. Pierce. That company was not required for service and was directed to return home on June 22. Several of its members then joined other units.

have been clearly and completely marked out, since Dick was present and since the Recapitulation shows that only two men were absent on detached service: Frederick McDonald and Thomas Plaster, Pvts. 19 and 22.

<sup>3</sup> Two men by this name, both from Morgan County, served in the 1831 campaign. One was a member of Alexander Wells's company of the 1st Regiment, and the other served in William Weatherford's company, also in the 1st Regiment. It is not known whether the member of Lindsey's company was either of these men or a third William Mathews from Morgan County.

ADS, DNA. Columns 4 through 9, omitted here, are headed "Date of Enrolment," "Period," "Names Present," "Pay," "County," and "No of travelling Rations drawn."

With the exception of James D. Morris, who was enrolled as 2d lieutenant on June 16, the company was enrolled in Alexander County on May 19 for 90 days. At the time of the muster-out, Samuel F. Price, David H. Moore, and Alanson Powell were absent; see the remarks above. John E. Jeffers, though marked "absent with leave," was listed present, no doubt in error. The entry, "No pay Received," is indicated true for each man. Twenty days' rations of flour and 15 (?) of pork (?) were drawn by each man.

Dixons Ferry August 12th. 1832

Mustered out of Service by me by order of Maj: Genl. Scott comg. N. W. Army

Z. C. Palmer capt. 6 U. S. Infy Comg post

DS, DNA. Except for the entries listing No. 1 and Nos. 3-12 of Captain Holliday's company, the rest of the roll is in Bays's handwriting. Presumably Bays had command of the detachment since neither of the above groups contained a commissioned officer.

Omitted from this transcript are Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that both units were enrolled June 16, 1832, for 90 days and were due pay from the time of enrollment. Column 9 states that all detachment members drew eight traveling rations. Column 7 shows that all were present at the muster-out. Names with spelling variations in the seventh column are as follows: from Bowman's company—3, Hezekiah B. Newby, and 7, William Thomison; from Holliday's company—5, William Healston; 10, Thomas Sharwood; and 13, Samuel Westbrook.

DS, DNA. Omitted from this transcript are Columns 4, 5, and 6, which give enrollment information; Column 8, which gives the county (see bracketed heading); and Column 10, which gives the number of traveling rations drawn by each man. All detachment members are said to have been enrolled "by officer of U.S." on June 16 for 90 days, and all were entitled to pay from the time of enrollment.

Men from Edgar County drew 14 traveling rations; those from Coles County drew 11; from Clark, 10; from Montgomery and Bond, 10; and from Fayette, 9.

*Lieut Corder's roll
Men placed under his command about a week after the battle at Kelloggs Grove and continued under it till the time of discharge. The men were chiefly those who had lost their horses*

This information was given verbally to T.G. [?] by Maj. Dement who commanded the Spy battalion

Battle at Kellogg's grove 25 June 1832

See papers as to Awards No 117 & 118

Omitted from this transcript are Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9. Columns 4, 5, and 6 show that all detachment members were enrolled June 16 for 90 days and were entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. Column 7 gives the names of all men present at the muster-out; the only absentee was William Bayliss of Diarman's company, on furlough. There are three minor variations in names in this column. On Dunn's company roster, the name of Pvt. 5 is given in its logical order, Abraham S. Barger. The name of the 2d corporal in West's company is given as Martin Asbridge, and the name of the corporal in Bowyer's detachment is given as John Suliven.

<sup>2</sup> The roll of Dunn's detachment, as printed in Elliott, 25, has several spelling variations. It is not known whether the variations resulted from errors in transcription or whether the spelling changes were made by the editor of the volume. They are as follows: 2d sergeant, William T. Walters; 3d sergeant, James Modglin; and Pvts. 6, 7, and 8, Thomas Walters, Jr., William H. Walters, and William Whiteside.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: "Recd. Augst. 30th. 1832." Omitted here are Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9. Columns 5 and 6 show that the detachment members were all enrolled on June 16, 1832, for 90 days and were entitled to pay from the time of enrollment.

Column 7 lists those men present at the muster-out. All were present except the last man on the roll, James Tompkins of Capt. John Onstott's company. Three names are given more fully or with spelling variations in this column: from Bowman's company—Pvts. 4 and 10, Philip C. Bufington and David Kit-rell, and the last man in the group from Dobbins's company, David R. Chance.

Column 9, headed "No. of Travelling rations drawn," shows that men from Jefferson County drew four rations. Only five men from Marion County drew rations, also four each. They were Pvts. 4, Green Fields; 5 Nathan Fields; 8, Samuel H. Hays; 9, Wiley King; and 10, William King. All of the men from Wayne and Hamilton counties drew four rations except Frederick A. Riley, who was sick in the hospital and did not leave Dixon with the rest of the detachment. The

William Highsmith Capt. 2 Regt. 2 Brig:

[ANS]

Dixons Ferry Aug: 2nd. 1832

Mustered out of Service by me by order of Maj: Genl. Scott comg. N. W. Army

Z C Palmer Capt. 6. Infy comg post

DS, DNA, AES: "approved, H. Atkinson Br Ge. u. S ay." Other endorsements, if any, are illegible. A filing note listing the detachments included on the roll is in the handwriting of Paymaster Edmund P. Kirby.

Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9 are omitted from this transcript. Columns 4, 5, and 6 state that the detachment was enrolled June 16, 1832, for 90 days and was entitled to pay from the time of enrollment. (The enrollment date for all of the companies with detached members under Captain Highsmith is given as June 19 on the company rolls.) Column 7 lists the men present at the muster-out. The only absentees were five men from the detachment of Barns's company, all of whom were on furlough; see the remarks. Names with spelling variations in the seventh column: from Highsmith's company—Pvt. 12, Ainos Phelps; from Houston's company—Pvt. 1, George Baugher; and from Barns's company—Pvt. 12, Tilford More or Moore (a paper fold may cover the second "o").

Column 9, headed "No. of traveling rations drawn," has the following entry after the names of Highsmith and McMickle: "8 of Flour & Salt & 4 of Bacon." Ditto marks indicate that each detachment member drew the same traveling rations.

1 This name was supplied from the "Names Present" column.

2 This name is out of order. Mays (the correct spelling) should have been listed as 3d sergeant in the detachment from Barns's company.

3 This remark has been corrected and interlined so that its proper reading and meaning are difficult to determine. James Thompson, a wounded man from Barns's company in this detachment, was left in the hospital at Dixon, when the group was mustered out. The remark may mean merely that Cooper was left at Dixon to attend Thompson. Or it may mean that since Cooper had lost his own horse, he was left another one to use in his attendance upon Thompson.

Columns 4, 5, 6, and part of 8 are omitted from this transcript. The fourth and fifth columns show that all men on this roll were enrolled June 16, 1832, and were entitled to pay from the date of enrollment. The sixth column, headed "Names Present," lists all detachment members present. The eighth column, headed "No. of Traveling Rations Drawn," shows that each man drew eleven rations. The entries showing indebtedness to the sutler were inserted on the right side of the eighth column.

Names given more fully or with spelling variations under "Names Present": Nos. 2, Jonat[han] Gilkinson; 6, Robert R. Wil[liamson]; 7, Hen[ry] Utter; 12, William Eastwood; 13, Richard Fortner; 18, Isaak

Major David Bailey's Odd Battalion of Cook County Volunteers

Historical Note

Muster rolls of the companies composing the Cook County battalion commanded by Major David Bailey have not been located in the files of the National Archives. It is not known if the members of these companies were paid for their service or even if the four companies of Hogan, Boardman, Sisson, and Walker make up the complete roster of the battalion. None of these companies, which served from May 24 until some time early in June, was mustered into service by an official representative of Governor Reynolds or of the United States Army. The only rolls thus far located are copies made out in connection with the distribution of bounty land warrants to war veterans under the Act of March 3, 1855 (United States Statutes at Large, X: 701-2). The Chicago Historical Society has copies of rolls for the four companies made out in the same handwriting, and one of these is endorsed, "Act 3d Mch 1855." Copies of similar rolls for two of the companies have been found in the files of the Adjutant General's Office in the Archives in Washington.

Actually, the companies of Bailey's Battalion were voluntary militia units organized for the defense of Fort Dearborn and the surrounding settlements. Major David Bailey of Tazewell County, who also commanded a battalion which became part of Johnson's Fifth Regiment of Whiteside's Brigade, reached Chicago on May 24 with a small party of Chicago horsemen who were returning from Ottawa, where they had gone to get news about the location of the Indians and the operations of the army. According to Richmond and Vallette's history of Du Page County, published in 1857 (pages 21-22), the Chicago men requested the commanding officer at Ottawa, Colonel James Johnson, to furnish an escort for their trip back home. "Col. Johnson refused . . . but paraded his . . . [men] and called for volunteers. Maj. Bailey and twelve privates volunteered to go." Bailey apparently was chosen to command the Chicago companies organized the day he arrived there. He went back to Ottawa on June 13 or 14, a few days after the general disbandment of his Cook County battalion. The necessity for the service of the Cook County unit was removed by the arrival on June 11 of Major General John R. Williams of Michigan Territory, who brought with him some one hundred territorial militiamen.

Hogan's company and the Chicago members of Boardman's company maintained their organizations for at least a week after Williams's arrival, although the settlers from the Naperville, Plainfield, and Joliet areas—constituting the companies of Sisson, Walker, and a part of Boardman's company—had returned home by this time (Owen to Atkinson, June 13; Williams to Porter, June 15-19; C. M. Burton, comp., "The Black Hawk War: Papers of Gen. John R. Williams," Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society Historical Collections, XXXI (1902): 442, 444).

Will County (1878), 517-18, gives an incomplete list of the Will County men who served in the Black Hawk War under Holder Sisson, later captain of a company in Buckmaster's Odd Battalion as well. No service record has been found for two of these men, James Cox and James Ritchie. The John Glover listed in the county history is probably the man whose name is given on this roll as John Graver. Although he has not been positively identified, it is likely that his name was actually Grover; see ibid., 495-96. The soldier listed merely as McGahon does not appear on either of Sisson's rolls; the John McMachan of this company may have been the man meant.

Major Samuel Bogart's Odd Battalion of Mounted Rangers

Notes on Field and Staff Officers

No muster rolls for the staff of this battalion can be found. Besides Bogart, the only staff officers known to have served are Samuel Hackleton, commissary (Bogart to Reynolds, June 24, 1832), Anable Whiting, extra surgeon (Reynolds to Bogart, Aug. 16, 1832, Reynolds to Cass, June 17, 1833), and possibly Stephen Sumner Phelps. The latter is frequently said to have been a major in the Black Hawk War (see, for example, Mercer and Henderson Counties [1882], pages 970-74), but no record of his service has been found.

Governor John Reynolds gives the places of mustering (in his letter of February 9, 1833, to United States Army Paymaster Thomas Wright).

I CERTIFY, [on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Ball's Company of the Odd Battalion of Rangers, Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

Asel F Ball      Commanding the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this fourth day of Sept. 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the Odd Battalion of Mounted Rangers.

E. C. Berry, Adj. & Inspector Genl.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) "Recd. from War Office 6th. Novr. 1832." (2) "Wright 18178." (3) AES—"This Company was in Servi[ce] appd. H. Atkins[on] Br. Ge. u s [army]."

Columns 4, 5, and 7 of the original roll note that the company was enrolled in Fulton County for 90 days. The enrollment date is given as July 27, but this is probably an error and should have been June 27. There are no entries in Columns 6 and 10, headed, respectively, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks." Column 8 lists company members

DS, DNA. Only a fragment of Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES, approving pay for the company, is legible.

Columns 5, 6, 8, and 10 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days. The sixth and tenth columns, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. The eighth column lists all company members who were present at the muster-out; absentees are indicated by the remarks. Names spelled differently in the eighth column: Pvts. 16, Orsemus Ferrington; 22, Samuel L. Hogus; 28, Zachariah Kirkland; 36, John Quism; 40, John L. Russell; and 45, Wm. Lackett.

The Recapitulation is for the most part illegible.

Record of Events which may be useful to be noticed

Note, I have particulary inspected the Officers and men, down to No. 14 Inclusive, & the ballance have been inspected by the Captain Commanding the Company, who at the time of my inspection, were detailed on extra duty as appears from his Certificate

E. C. Berry, adjt Genl.

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. J. W. Kinney's Company of the odd Battalion of mounted Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

J. W. Kenney    Captain    Commanding the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this fourth day of Sept 4th 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, a part of the above mentioned Company of the odd Battalion of mounted Volunteer Rangers

E. C. Berry, Adj. & Inspector Genl

DS, DNA. Endorsed; (1) The first sentence of Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES is covered by tape; the second reads: "It was subsisted from Fort Armstrong, I believe. H. Atkins[on] Br Ge. U[. S. Army] Approved. H.

Atkinson Br. Ge. u.S. a[rmey]." (2) "Reed from War Office 6th Novr. 1832." (3) "Wright 18178."

Columns 5, 6, 8, and 10 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days, and the eighth lists all company members present at the muster-out except Thomas Kenney. Names spelled differently in the eighth column: Nos. 6, Esaph Wells; 9, Manley Danforth; 10, Rannah Wells; and 20, James Haskal.

The sixth and tenth columns, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank.

The Recapitulation shows twenty-two men present and one on furlough.

was not raised under the authority of a governor's proclamation but was organized independently. Some time after its organization, company officers volunteered their services to Governor John Reynolds. See n. 2.

<sup>2</sup> See Rock Island County Mounted Rangers to Governor Reynolds, May 31, 1832. In that document the original members of the company, who organized on May 20 and elected officers May 31, offered their services to the Governor. Wells, listed above as Pvt. 15 as well as Pvt. 3, was elected 2d lieutenant May 31, according to the Rangers' letter. The second listing of his name was ruled out, but the numbering was left unchanged.

[Large portions of the certificates of the captain and the mustering officer are covered by mending tape, although the signatures, "Wm. McMurtry" and "E. C. Berry, adjt. Genl.," are legible. Berry's certificate of inspection is dated Sept. 4, 1832.]

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) "Recd from War Office, 6th. Novr. 1832." (2) AES—"This company served on [the] frontier by order of Govr. Reynolds [and] is I presume entitled pay H. Atkinson Br Gn. u.S [Army]." (3) "Wright 18178."

Columns 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 of the original roll are omitted here. Column 5 gives the period of enrollment as 90 days, Column 7 gives the county as Knox, and Column 8 lists all company members present at the muster-out except Pvt. 36, Elisha Miles. Columns 6 and 10, "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. The Recapitulation, also omitted, is largely illegible.

able biographical material supply him with a middle initial.

Columns 4, 5, and 7 of the original roll, omitted in this transcript, give the date of enrollment as June 7, the period as 90 days, and the county as Fulton. Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," also omitted, are blank on the original. Column 8 lists those company members who were present at the muster-out. Absentees are indictated by the "Remarks" above. Two names are spelled differently in the eighth column: 3d Corp. Dector Eccles and Pvt. 39, Minard Vandyke. The Recapitulation, also omitted, is for the most part illegible.

The roll of this company printed in Elliott, 155-56, bears the following statement not on the DNA roll: "It appears from certificates accompanying muster-roll that Jesse B. Wilcoxson volunteered as a Mounted Ranger . . . and served as a private in the company commanded by Capt. John Sain. . . ."

I CERTIFY, on honor, that this muster roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Stinnett's Company of the odd Battalion of mounted Illinois Volunteers in the service of the United States, for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the name of each officer and soldier, are accurate and just; and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company.

John Stinnett [Stennett ?] Commanding the Company.

[NS] I CERTIFY, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this fourth day of Sept. 1832, mustered out of the service of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the odd Battalion of mounted Rangers.

E. C. Berry, Adj. & Inspector Genl.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) "You 89 Wright 18178." (2) "Recd. from War Office 6th. Novr. 1832." (3) AES—"Approved H. Atkinson Br G. u S ar[m]y This company served on the frontier by order of Govr. Reynol[ds] I presumed entitled to pay H. Atkinson B Ge u S [army.]"

Columns 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 are omitted here. Columns 5 and 7 give the period of enrollment as 90 days and the county as Schuyler.

At least five, and possibly more, of the company members were from Knox County, although the roll does not so state. They were Riggs Pennington, Stephen O. Pennington, Wesley Pennington, Peter Peckinpaw, and Nicholas Rice.

Columns 6 and 10, headed "Pay" and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. The eighth column lists company members present at the muster-out. All were present except those with remarks following their names. Names with spelling variations in the eighth column are as follows: Capt. John Stennett and Pmts. 5, Eli S. Briggs; 17, Isaac Allen; and 41, Joel Tallas.

I Certify on honor, that this Muster Roll exhibits the true state of Capt. Whites Company of the odd Bat of Rangers, Illinois Volunteers, in the service of the United States for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each Officer & Soldier, are accurate & Just and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the Company

James White Commanding the Company

[NS] I Certify, on honor, that I have carefully examined this Muster roll and that I have the 5th September 1832, mustered out of the s[ervice] of the United States, the above mentioned Company of the odd Battalion of mounted Rangers

E. C. Berry, adjt. & Inspector Genl.

CD, DNA. Although E. C. Berry signed the roll, White's name was added by the man who made out the roll—in the same handwriting as that of most of the other companies in this battalion. Illegible names on the original roll have been supplied from the roster in Elliott, 160-61.

Column 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 and the Recapitulation are omitted from this transcript. The fifth column gives the period of enrollment as 90 days, and the seventh gives the county as Hancock. The sixth and eighth columns, headed "Pay" and "Names Present," and the Recapitulation form are blank. There is one entry in the tenth column, headed "Inspection Remarks": Richard Cheney, No. 21, is there marked "musician."

White's company enrolled April 30 and joined Whiteside's Brigade about May 1. It accompanied the army to Rock Island and Dixon and then, on May 19, went back to Fort Armstrong, where it was stationed for only a few days before receiving orders to return to the Des Moines Rapids. Most of the company members were from the neighborhood of present Nauvoo at the head of the Rapids. Apparently the original company members were paid for service from April 30 until Sept. 5, although it is questionable that they remained effectively organized during the entire period. Another Hancock County company, that of Alexander White, was authorized to serve from May 26 through June 15. Many of the men who enrolled in James White's company on July 16 had previously served in the 20-day company of Alexander White.

James Semple's rank roll of Whiteside's Brigade lists James White as a captain in Thomas James's Odd Battalion.

<sup>1</sup>This man, whose service is dated from April 30, could have been the captain of the 20-day company despite the fact that his absence from this company is not shown. Without additional evidence, however, it is safer to assume that Capt. Alexander White and Pvt. Alexander White of this company were two men.

[Here follow two additional certificates on the service of the company, one signed by "N Buckmaster" Aug. 19, 1833, and the other by John Reynolds on Aug. 20, 1833. The certificates are almost identical with those at the end of Naper's roster, but have not been transcribed because so many words are covered by mending tape.]

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) "Wright 18178." (2) General Atkinson presumably gave the roll his usual endorsement of approval, but all that is legible is the title following his signature, "Br Ge. u.S. ary." There is no indication anywhere on the roll that this company was mustered out of service by a U.S.A. officer.

The last two columns, omitted here, list all company members present at the muster-out and provide space for remarks, though none is entered. The "Names Present" column has two names spelled differently, those of Nos. 11 and 30, Cornelius C. Van Horn and Abraham Van Horn, and supplies the first names of Nos. 37 and 48.

I certify that the above muster roll exhibits a true statement of Captain James Walker's company of Illinois Mounted Volunteers called into the service of the United States by the governor of the State. Given at Fort Walker on the DuPage river, this 12th of August 1832.

DS, DNA. The roll is about half in Walker's handwriting and half in Eaton's. Endorsed: AES—"approved [H.] Atkinson Br. Gn uS ar." Columns 5, 7, and 8 are omitted from this transcript. Column 5 states that the company was enrolled for 90 days, and Column 7 lists those men present at the muster-out. The only absentee was Anson

C. Ament, who was marked "absent on furlough till Expiration." Two names are spelled differently in the seventh column: 2d Lt. George Hollinback and No. 17, Pvt. Samuel Fountain. The only remark in the eighth column is the one explaining Ament's absence.

FIELD AND STAFF OFFICERS

Muster Roll of the Field and Staff officers of the Battalion of Infantry Stationed at Fort Wilborn, commanded by Major Reddick Horn of the Illinois Militia

Names	Rank	Period of Service	Remarks
Reddick Horn	Major	From 30th. May to 15th. June Inclusive.	Discharged at Fort Wilborn 160 miles from place of Residence
Lemuel Plasters	Asst Comss of Subs.	Same to 15th. August.	continued in Service to the time Stated by order of Gnl Atkinson. Discharged 160 miles from place of Residence.
Thomas Long	Asst Surgeon	Same to 15th. June	Discharged 160 miles from place of Residence

H. Atkinson Br Ge. u. S ay

DS, DNA. The body of the roll is in the handwriting of William Thomas.

During the time Horn was in command at Fort Wilbourn, two volunteer infantry companies were stationed there: Capt. Alexander D. Cox's, in U.S. service May 28 to June 15, and Capt. John S. Wilbourn's, in U.S. service May 22 to June 9, 1832. Although there are no remarks on the company muster rolls to indicate that they were formally organized into a battalion, there is evidence in the BHW Coll. that Horn was actually the commanding officer at Fort Wilbourn during the time shown on the above roll; see Atkinson to Horn, June 1, and two letters of June 2, and Atkinson General Order No. 34 of June 15; and Horn to Reynolds, June 15.

Horn, Plasters, and Long were probably called "battalion" staff officers to enable the paymaster to pay them at rates that General Atkinson must have promised them.

Isaac, R Moores, Col      Commandt.

[NS]

State of Illinois, Executive Department
Vandalia      January 25, 1833.

I John Reynolds Governor and commander in chief of the militia of the State of Illinois do hereby certify and make known that pursuant to a requisition of Brigadier General Atkinson of the United S[tates] army: I made a requisition on Vermilion county for a certain number of troops, [to be raised ? ] from that county; that Colonel

Moore immediately raised the regiment of mounted volunteers above stated; that he was ordered to move out and guard the frontiers toward Chicago in case he considered aid necessary; that he with his regiment ranged that country in May and June last and built a fort on Deplane river again under ? ] the order of General Atkinson; that said regiment was recognized as in th[e service] of the United States; and General Atkinson about the 17th. of June ordered Colon[el Moores] to return home with his regiment to Danville in [the] county of Vermillion and that he discharge his officers and men there, which was done as I verily believe. This regiment rendered important services to the government in guarding the frontier settlers, from Indian murders and depredations until the troops rendezvoused at fort Wilbourn in June last.

ADS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) AES—"Approved. H. Atkinson Br Gn u S. ary." (2) "Part of Vou 69—Kirby, 17653—B[ox] 610." Columns 5, 6, 7, and 8 have been omitted here. Columns 5 and 6 give the number of days in service and the number of rations received as 44, except for Patterson, Gaines, and Beezley, who were in service 32 days and received 32 rations. Column 7, "No. of Horses in Service," shows that Moores, Beckwith, and Murphy each had two horses in service; the other staff members, one each. Column 8, "Forage," is blank.

In addition to the companies of Captains Ashton, Bailey, Gillespie, Gregory, Hutt, Parmer, and Thomas, the regiment originally included Capt. Morgan L. Payne's company as well. That company was detached from the regiment and mustered out of service on July 25 by Maj. Nathaniel Buckmaster, under whose command it had been placed. The company roll is printed with those of Buckmaster's Odd Battalion.

Columns 6 and 8 are omitted here. The sixth column gives the name of the enrolling officers. Colonel Strawn enrolled those men numbered 1-17, 29-39, and 49-52; Captain Willis enrolled Nos. 18-28 and 40-48. The eighth column lists those present at the muster-out. Absentees were 1st Corp. Elisha G. Powers and Privates 5, Solomon Roth; 10, James Harper; 11, Charles Leeper; 16, Elijah Phillips; 24, George P. Wilmouth; 34, John Janess; 45, Joel Doolittle; 50, Alexander Davis; 51, Claudius L. Tompkins.

Anderson Muster Book, IHi. The last column of the roll, omitted here, has four entries under the heading "Remarks": Addison Philco, "On command"; John Bevins, "Appointed May 22nd. resigned June 12th. 1832"; William Hempstead, "Appd. &c"; and Samuel Smoker, "Appointed June 12th. to supply the place of W. Hempstead—Reported Sick."

The mustering-out roll in DNA (IHi has photostat) was made out by James M Strode, who signed the only certificate on the face of the roll as "Col. Commidg & Mustering officer" at Galena, Sept. 6, 1832. The Sept 6 roll gives merely the officers' names, rank, period of enrollment, and remarks, as follows:

James M. Strode Colonel 3 Mo. 19 days, from 15th. May till Sept 6.

William Campbell Lieutenant Colonel [Campbell and the following five men served the same period]

N Proctor [Princpl.] Musician [from 18th May till Sept. 6]

On the back of the roll are two certificates made out and signed by Governor Reynolds. The first, dated Oct. 4, 1832, merely certifies that Strode was colonel of the 27th Regiment of Illinois Militia, regularly commissioned, at the time he signed the Sept. 6 certificate.

The second, dated April 12, 1833, states that Governor Reynolds ordered Strode into service and instructed him to organize the 27th Regiment. The Governor further certified that the service of all staff officers was "necessary for the defence of the country for the time [of] their Service."

The roll has Gen. Henry Atkinson's AES of approval and the endorsement, "Wright 18178."

Strode was colonel of the 27th (or Jo Daviess County) Regiment of the regular Illinois Militia. Under Governor Reynolds's order of May 15, 1832, Strode was authorized to organize the county militia to be held in readiness to march and was further empowered to raise one company of mounted volunteers to range on the frontier. The members of the staff as here organized were specially chosen for service during the emergency.

The companies constituting the 27th Regiment were never called to service by General Atkinson, who, in fact, disapproved their immediate organization on an "active" basis. (See Strode to Atkinson, May 23 and May 29, and Atkinson to Strode, May 26.) The companies of the regiment were not formally mustered until Governor Reynolds visited Galena on his return home from the war front. There, on July 14 he authorized James Craig to muster the companies into "the service of the U.S." Despite the Governor's order, Generals Scott and Atkinson did not officially recognize the regiment's service. On Aug. 25 General Scott directed that since the companies had not been mustered into the service of the United States, "it will be for the Governor of Illinois to prescribe the time of their discharge" (Galt to Strode, Aug. 25). Detachments from the regiment's two mounted companies which joined Henry Dodge's command early in July and took part in the military campaign were mustered out of service by a U.S. officer and were therefore recognized by the authorities [Galena [Galena, Ill.], July 4, 1832].

There is no doubt that the representatives of the army were justified in their reluctance to pay the Jo Daviess County companies, for throughout the summer many of the alleged soldiers continued to mine lead and operate their farms with few, if any, interruptions for military duty. William Boxley, for example, who is listed on a company muster roll as "killed in action," was killed while working in a field (Strode to Atkinson or Brady, June 30). On May 28 James W. Stephenson, captain of a company of mounted men, refused to obey an order of U.S. Maj. John Bliss on the grounds that he had not "reported [his] . . . command to any of the officers of the United States . . . [and could not therefore] acknowledge . . . [himself] subject to their orders." (See Bliss's report of May 28 activities.) Despite this action, Stephenson's company, later commanded by Enoch Duncan, was paid for U.S. service dating from May 19.

The company muster rolls are vague and inaccurate, with men given credit for service in as many as three companies at the same time. Such mistakes were probably not intentional; it seems likelier that the captains simply had no idea where their privates were.

Because of the absence of an official call by General Atkinson and the unorthodox mustering procedures, payment for Jo Daviess County troops was obtained by Governor Reynolds with the greatest difficulty. (See Reynolds to Cass, Oct. 4, 1832; Wright to Reynolds, Jan. 25, 1833; Reynolds to Wright, Jan. 31, 1833; Wright to Reynolds, Feb. 6, 1833; and Reynolds to Wright, Feb. 9, 1833.)

<sup>2</sup>The list of captains was added in pencil. Immediately following the staff roll in the Muster Book are Anderson's copies of recapitulations from the rolls of companies commanded by the ten captains listed above. In addition to the usual information, they give the names of company officers and abstracts of the certificates of the captains and mustering officer. James Craig mustered all of the companies. His certificates, as well as those of the captains, are dated July 16, and all but two of the captains' certificates are said to have been signed at Galena. Stone's was given at "Apple River fort," and Scales's at "Fort Charles, in the vicinity of Galena." At the end of this section is the following ANS: "Recapitulations copied from Muster Rolls forwarded to Washington Oct. 4th. 1832 Robt. Anderson Lt. & Asst. Insp. Genl."

In addition to the ten captains listed above, the regiment also included Enoch Duncan's company of mounted men until July 2. On that date, a detachment from Duncan's company, and one from James Craig's company as well, left Galena to join Henry Dodge's command of Michigan Territory Volunteers. The entire Galena detachment was reported to have totaled sixty men (Galena, July 4, 1832); the recapitulation for Craig's company, in the Anderson Muster Book, shows that twenty-four men were "on detachment" on July 16.

Craig himself was left in command of the mounted men from the two companies that remained at Galena. He and his Galena company are said to have joined Dodge on July 30, and the Aug. 9 list of officers who participated in the Battle of Bad Axe on Aug. 2 includes Craig's name. See Frank E. Stevens, ed., Wakefield's History of the Black Hawk War . . . (Chicago, 1908), 123, and Charles Bracken, "Further Strictures on Gov. Ford's History of the Black Hawk War," Collections of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, II (1856): 406.

Columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 9 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. Columns 5, 6, and 9, headed "Pay," "County," and "Inspection Remarks," are blank; Column 4 has seven entries under the heading "Period of Enrollment." The original captain, Gardiner, served one month, 25 days; Nicholas Dowling served one month, 26 days as sergeant; T. T. Davis served as a private one month, 26 days, George Ferguson and S. Gridley served as privates and corporals for one month, 26 days, before they became sergeants; and C. P. Sharp and Robert Taylor served one month, 12 days, before they were discharged.

The seventh, or "Names Present," column, shows the following absentees: Leonard Goss, William Hempstead, Ezekiel Lockwood, J. Roberts (see n. 2), C. P. Sharp, Robert Taylor, and J. Vanbuskirk. J. Mitchel, said to have been furloughed, is nevertheless listed present. The following names as given in the seventh column vary from their first-column spellings: Capt. J. R. B. Gardinea[r], 1st Lt. George W. Cambell, 2d Lt. Charles Gratiott, Sgts. Daniel Argent and George Furguson, and Pvts. Michail Byrne, S. Gridly, Josiah Nuting, S. L. Lyre, F. Stauhl, and Daniel Wann.

<sup>2</sup> Although the remark "Furloughed" follows Reed's name, he is listed as present at the muster-out: J. Roberts, whose name is just below Reed's, is not listed present, and there is no explanation for his absence.

[ANS]

State of Illinois

I certify: that James M. Strode, whose name appears to the above certificate was on said date Colonel of said 27th. Regt. of Ill. mil. regularly commissioned.

4th. Oct. 1832

John Reynolds Gov. and Com. in Chief Ill. mil.

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) AES—"I certify, that this company was mustered into service by my order and that their services for the time they served were necessary for the public defence John Reynolds Gov. 12 April 1833." (2) AES—"approved. H. Atkinson Br Ge. u S y." (3) "139 Wright 18178."

Columns 4, 5, 6, and 7 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. The fourth column gives the period of enrollment in months and days for each man; the figuring in many instances is inaccurate and about half of the figures are illegible. The sixth column gives the county as "Jo Davis." In the fifth column, headed "Pay," is the subhead "Paid by Danl. Wann Suttler." The following men were indebted either to Wann or the captain (the first figure is the amount owed Wann): John W. Foster, $30; Zelo Corey, $5.00, and to H. H. Gear, $6.75; Timothy Lovell, $10.37, and to Gear, $1.50; George Bass, $3.00; Joseph Bias, $10, and to Gear, $1.00; Parrish Cardinale, $15, and to Gear, $2.00; Eustace Cardinale, $13.13; Charles Carrigan, to Gear, $1.87; John Dodge, $12; Samuel Guest, to Gear, $4.62; William Gorton, to Gear, $1.00; M. W. Hudson, $1.50—it is not clear whether Hudson was indebted to Wann for this amount (the $1.50 following his name may merely have been a correction of the amount owed by Hollman whose name follows); Jesse Hollman, to Gear, $1.50; Peter Hughs, to Gear, $1.75; Toulouse Laport, to Gear, $1.50; Jacob Means, $9.75, and to Gear, $3.25; J. Marstin, $4.00; Edmund Nigh, $5.25; Peter Othis (?), $13.25; Michael Sincere (St. Cyr ?), $25.50; Silas G. Simmons, to Gear, $2.00; Charles T. Saunderson, to Gear, $8.75; J. Toulouse, to Gear, $4.25; Amos Vaughn, $1.50; John Williams, $1.50.

The seventh column lists those present at the muster-out. Missing portions of names in the first column have been supplied from this column. Absentees are indicated by the remarks. Names spelled differently here are Hezekiah H. Gear, John W. Foster, Alesworth Baker, William Dement, and John B. Primmer.

Columns 6, 7, 8, and 10 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. The sixth and eighth columns, "Pay" and "County," are blank. The seventh column lists those present at the muster-out; absentees are indicated by the remarks. Names given more fully or with different spellings in this column are Nos. 4, Mathew Johnson; 7, Thomas Spragans; 16, [Abel ?] Proctor; 22, Jacob Beninger; 24, Rufus Birdsill; 35, Equila Brock; 61, E[lsbr]ey Henley; 74, Clemment LaParge (?); 83, Leml. 98, James B. Stuart; 116, Nicholas Smith; 117, Philip Shermer; and 131, Lewis Young. The only entry in the tenth column, "Inspection Remarks," follows the name of Musician Greenleaf Warren, and reads, "without leave." Missing portions of names in the "Names" column have been supplied from the seventh column or from Elliott, 136-38.

[ANS] I Certify, on honor, that I have carefully examined this muster roll, and that I have this 6th. day of Sept. 1832, mustered out of the Service of the United States, the above Mentioned Company of the 27th. Regt. Ills. Militi[a]

I ertify [sic] to the War Department of the U. S. that James M. Strode was on the 6th. Sept. last Colonel of the said 2[7]th. Regt. of the Illinois militia regularly commissioned, and acting in said office, that said company of Infa[n]try was called into the service by my ord[er] and that their services were necessary in the de[fe]nce] of the country during the last summer's Indian disturbance in said Jo Davies county.

(4) "138[?] Wright 18178."

Columns 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 and the Recapitulation are omitted here. Columns 1, 6, and 10, headed "No.," "Pay," and "Inspection Remarks," are blank. Column 5 gives the enrollment period as 2 months, 23 days for those men who served the full time from June 16 to Sept. 6. Benjamin Frost, who enrolled July 22, served one month, 16 days. The seventh column gives the county as Jo Daviess, and the eighth lists those present at the muster-out; absentees are indicated by the remarks. Names spelled differently in the eighth column are as follows: 1st Lt. John L. Seals, 1st Corp. Richard Wells, 4th Corp. Emerson Chep-man, and Pvt. C. Lichtenbarger, William Wadams, C. Lytchenbarger (his name was struck out, since he was absent, but is legible), and Benjamin Frost.

1 John B. Woodson, John Neville ("Nevil" above), Elijah Charles, Conrad Lichtenberger ("Lichtenbarger" above), James S. Woodcock, and James L. Hawkins ("Howkins" above), who are shown as having quit this company, actually did not leave at all. They were all mounted men and officially transferred to James Craig's mounted company—presumably to expedite receipt of payment for the use of their horses. See the "Record of Events" on the roll of Craig's company.

The Recapitulation made at the time the company was mustered on July 16 (copy in Anderson Muster Book, IHi) bears the following notation: "Compr. of 'Infany.' with Six mounted men as Spies." The Recapitulation also shows that the captain's certificate was given "at Fort Charles, in the Vicinity of Galena."

Columns 1, 6, 8, and 10, headed "No.," "County," "Pay," and "Inspection Remarks," are blank in the original and are omitted here. The seventh column, "Names Present," also omitted, lists those men present at the muster-out; absentees are shown by the remarks. Names spelled differently in the seventh column are those of Pvt. Wesley Crane, Thomas Kilyon, David Milligin, and Hezekh. Milligin. Much of the

The Recapitulation from the July 16 muster roll, as copied in the Anderson Muster Book in IHI, states that the captain's certificate was given at "Apple River fort, State of Illinois."

<sup>2</sup> The "May" was penciled in here, above ditto marks which were not marked out. Although the period of service seems to have been computed on the basis of a June 25 enrollment date, the remarks following the names of Bean, Clark, and Cook indicate that these men and the three preceding privates must have joined the company May 25.

[The captain's certificate, dated Galena, Sept. 6, 1832, follows here. Most of the certificate is covered by mending tape, but the signature, "L. P. Vosburgh," and the date are clear.]

J. M. Strode Col. Commdg 27th. Regt
Ills. Mila And Mustering Officer.

[ANS]

State of Illinois Nov. 10th. 1832.

I certify that James M. Strode was on the 6th. Sept. 1832 Colonel of said 27[th] Regt.

of Illinois Militia acting in that office; said company was in service under my order, and their services were necessary in the defence of the country last Summer

DS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) AES—"Recd. from War Office 23d. Novr. 1832 N[athan]. T[owson]." (2) AES—"I certify that this company was mustered into service by my order and that their services for the time they served were necessary for the public defence John Reynolds Gov [12 ?] April 1833." (3) AES—"approved H. Atkinson Br G. u.S ay." (4) "[Vou. ?] 138 Wright 18178."

Columns 5, 6, 7, and 9, headed "Pay," "County," "Names present," and "Inspection remarks," are omitted here. Columns 5, 6, and 9 are blank, and Column 7 lists company members present at the muster-out; absentees are shown in the remarks. Names of the following three men are spelled differently in the seventh column: 3d Sgt. Alexr. M. Nevill and Pvts. Danl. McKraney and Alexr. Orne.

The Recapitulation at the end of the roll, also omitted, is the only one for companies of this regiment which is both complete and accurate. It shows a total company strength of 73 men, only 27 of whom were present and fit for duty on Sept. 26. Of the absentees, 17 had joined the mounted volunteers, 3 were sick, 4 furloughed, 3 discharged, and 19 were marked "absent" with no further explanation.

<sup>2</sup>Hillyard's name was also entered as a private, with the information that he enrolled May 18 and served one month, 2 days before his June 20 election to 2d lieutenant. However, the entry was marked out—probably inadvertently, since the single entry as 2d lieutenant does not credit him with the full period of service.

Column 8 lists men present at the muster-out; absentees are indicated by the remarks. Names of two men are spelled differently in this column: Pvts. 28 and 31 are given as Hervey Mann and John Nevill.

IHi also has a photostat of another original DS roll from DNA, in much poorer condition than the one transcribed above. A few spellings and remarks vary: 3d Corp. Benjamin Sutton is marked "absent without leave"; Pvt. 7, Thomas Crane, is marked "absent with leave"; Pvt. 18, F. C. Kirkpatrick, "Rode Ketters Horse till July 1st then his own"; there is no remark of any kind after the name of Pvt. 21, William M. Kirkpatrick; Pvt. 22, J. S. Kirkpatrick, "not able to attend Kept his Gun & powder"; Pvt. 30, C. McKinny (so spelled), is marked "absent since Aug 1st with gun & Blankets"; the name of Pvt. 31 is given as John Nevill. Among those discharged, 1st Sgt. Hargis (so spelled) Whitesides, is marked "discharged for dishonesty Jun 1st keeps Gun"; Pvt. 2, Azel Avery, "July [1]3 dischd to go to relatives"; the name of Pvt. 6 is given as Bazel Delorem or Delorein; Pvt. 12, John Montgomery, "disch Ju[ly] 5 driving Team"; Pvt. 15, Eustark Parishon, "29th Jun gone to sellkirks"; Pvt. 20, Orlando Smith, "rode public Horse" The owners of the horses ridden by Elias Avery, Enoch Enloe, and N. T. Head are given on this roll as David Avery, John Furlong, and Garey White.

The receipt roll in DNA (IHi has photostat) is endorsed "Wright 18178" and was made out by Joshua T. Bradley, one of the Illinois men appointed to assist the U.S. paymasters—in this case Thomas Wright. Most of the "signatures" on the receipt roll were written by Bradley. George W. Harkleroad's name was written by his brother Isaac, who signed as witness. A separate receipt roll was made for owners of horses; thirty-five men rode horses belonging to someone else.

<sup>1</sup> Both the heading and the captain's certificate give the date of the muster-out as Sept. 14, but the inspection certificate of Lt. J. R. B. Gardénier states that the company was mustered out Sept. 13. Either the company was discharged a day sooner than had been anticipated when the roll was prepared, or Lt. Gardénier misdated his certificate. Sept. 13 was the date used in figuring pay for company members, according to the receipt roll in DNA (photostat in IHI).

Columns 5, 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. There are six entries in Column 5 under "Period of Enrolment"; the first captain, James W. Stephenson, served one month, 7 days; Pvts. Benjamin Burbridge, Thomas Chichester, and James Hays served 2 months; and Pvts. Samuel and William Vance served one month. Column 6 lists men present at the muster-out; all absentees except one are indicated by the remarks. Frederick Dixon was not listed present, although the remark explaining his absence, "transferred to Capt. J. Craig's compy.," was struck out. The clerk may simply have forgotten to insert his name in the "Names Present" column. The seventh and eighth columns, both blank, provide space for "Stopages of Pay," with a column allowed for the name of the creditor and one for the amount due.

Also added at the bottom of the page, as if it were a memo of some sort, is the name "P. Bell." A Peter Bell later served in William McMurtry's Knox County company, but the entry of his name here as a random notation is insufficient proof that he served in this company.

I certify On Honour that this muster Roll Exhibits the true State of the company of Mounted Volunteer Rangers under my command of Illinois Militia On this day and that the remarks set opposite the names of the men are accurate and Just

Signed this 3d day of August 1832

M. L. Covell Capt. Comd'g Company

This certifies that I have this day inspected and mustered the McLean County Company of Mounted Volunteer Rangers Out of the Service of the United States having been authorized to do so by the Commander in Chief of the Illinois Militia

Given under my hand this 3d day of August 1832

M. L. Covell Col. Comd'g 39h. Regt. Ills. Militia McLean County

[ANS]

State of Illinois Belleville 1st. October 1832

I certify and State to the Hon. the Secretary of War of the United States: that McLean County was in the war of this present year, an exposed and frontier county in this State, and th[at] it was necessary for a company of mounted men to be organised for the defence of said county, and that I did order said above mentioned company to be raised; that said M. L. Coville was regularly and legally the Captain thereof, and the above muster Roll certified by said Capt. Coville appears to be just and correct.

ADS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) AES—"approved. H. Atkinson Br Gen. u S. [Army]." (2) "Wright 18178."

Columns 6, 7, and 8 are omitted here. Columns 6 and 7 show that the company was enrolled by M. L. Covell and that the term for men serving the full time was 60 days. Column 8 lists men present at the muster-out. Absentees were William Dimmet, John Toliver, Henry Cox, Martin Scott, L. M. Wyatt, and Clement Oatman.

IHI also has a photostat (from DNA) of the officers' certificate on the service of their servants and horses. The certificate—usually, though not in this case, filed with the receipt roll—has the signatures of Covell and Edwards; Dimmet's "signature" was probably written by Covell. The servants of the captain, 1st lieutenant, and 2d lieutenant, respectively, are named on the certificate as Samuel Gilpin, Josiah Sandford, and Matthew Harbert.

According to McLean County (1879), 323, this company of rangers was commanded by Capt. John H. S. Rhodes, "though Capt. Covell is given by some authorities as the chief officer." Asahel Gridley, a private in the company, also remembered that Rhodes had been company commander; ibid., 342. Since no muster roll for a company commanded by Rhodes has been located and since Gridley himself served in this company of rangers, presumably these statements were based on Gridley's faulty reminiscences.

Illinois Volunteer Infantry under my Command—Given at the depot of Provisions at the foot of the Illinois Rapids this 1st. day of June 1832.

Mustered into the service of the U. States by order of Genl. Atkinson this 1st. day of June 1832.

Anderson Muster Book, IHI. The sixth column, "Names Present," lists the names of all company members not shown to be absent on command.

Of the twenty-six men on the company mustering-out roll, the following fifteen had served earlier in Ball's Sangamon County company: A. D. Cox, Duncan, Clark, Day, W. F. Cox, Richard Cox, Patton, Graham, Barnes, McCormack, Waters, Atwood, Hutton (given "Hutter" above), Massie, and Wright. Stephen Hedrick and Frederick A. Hamilton had served earlier in Ebey's Sangamon County company; Solomon K. Snyder, in James's (later Harrison's) Monroe County company; William Foster had enrolled in Lincoln's Sangamon County company and transferred to Summers's (later Pratt's) Morgan County company. James D. Byus had also served in Summers's company, as had Jesse Byus. Jesse Byus transferred to Ebey's company, and may have served in Wilbourn's Morgan County company before joining Cox's command. James Hays had also served earlier in Wilbourn's company. No record of previous service has been found for Harrison Hays, John Hays, Johnathan Hays, or Alfred Tompkins. John, Harrison, and perhaps Johnathan, Hays of this company were probably members of the Hays family which operated the ferry at the site of Peru. The muster roll of Wilbourn's company indicates that James Hays was enrolled with the remainder of the company at Beardstown, although a James Hays was also a member of the Peru family. See Baldwin, La Salle County (1877), 361; Bureau County (1885), 137.

Matthew Duncan Capt. Com

ADS, DNA. Endorsed: (1) AES—"approved. H. Atkinson Br Ge. u. S. ary." (2) "Wright 18178."

Omitted from this transcript are two columns which state that pay was due each man from the commencement of service and list all company members present at the muster-out.

All but six or, possibly, seven of the members of this company had served earlier in Capt. Seth Pratt's company of Maj. Thomas Long's Odd Battalion of Infantry, attached to Whiteside's Brigade. That company was mustered out at Rock Island the day this company was enrolled.

Duncan himself had originally joined John Dement's company of spies in Fayette County, but he later transferred to Long's Battalion. Benjamin Goble was a resident of Rock Island County, and it seems likely that Ephraim Goble also lived in the area. John Brumfield had served earlier in Capt. Japhet Ball's infantry company, and William Harper was probably the William Hopper of Pratt's company. David Rankin was a private in Capt. Abraham Lincoln's company of the 4th Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade, until May 19, when he transferred to a "foot company." His name does not appear on any of the company rolls for Long's Battalion, but since he was at Rock Island on June 3, it must have been Pratt's company to which he transferred. No prior service record for a John G. Lang has been found unless he was the John Lang who had been furloughed from David Crow's Adams County company some time before May 28; see the roll of Crow's company, 2d Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade.

[ANS] I Certify that the within muster Roll exhibits a true statement of a company of Illinois mounted volunteer under my command

Given at head quarter on White watter of Rock riv[er]

J M Early Capt

[ANS] Mustered out of the service of the U. States by order of Brig Genl. Atkinson this 10th day of July 1832.

Robt. Anderson. Asst. Inr. Genl.

DS, DNA: AGO, RG 94. The heading and body of the roll are in the handwriting of Abraham Lincoln, Pvt. 4 in the company. Both of the certificates are in the handwriting of the signators, and Captain Early added some of the remarks in the last column.

Columns 4, 5, 7, 8, and 9 of the original roll are omitted here. Columns 4 and 5 give the date of enrollment as June 16 and the period as 30 days for all but eight men, Pvts. 26-33, who enrolled June 21 for 25 days. Column 7 gives the value of the arms of company members; Column 8 gives the value of members' horses; and Column 9 lists those present at the musterout. All men with remarks following their names were absent. In Column 9 the name of Pvt. 15 is given "L. D. Matheney" and that of Pvt. 23, "G. S. Hubbard."

This company was mustered into U.S. service on June 20 by Anderson at the "Rapids of the Illinois." A copy of the June 20 roll is in the Anderson Muster Book in IHI. The mustering-in roll omits the eight men, Pvts. 26-33 above, who joined the company

June 21 and lists the following seven company members as absent on June 20: 2d Sgt. Noah Mason, "Absent on Duty," and Pvts. 1, James D. Henry, "Promoted from the ranks 19 June"; 6, John Paul, "Absent without leave"; 8, Hugh McJenkins, "Absent without leave"; 15, Joseph McCoy, "Absent with leave"; and 19 and 20, Hugh and Harrison McGary, both "Absent with leave." Other remarks on the June 20 roll follow the names of Pvts. 5, James F. Reed, "Horse belonging to J. D. Henry"; and 18, Adam Smith, "Horse valued in Capt. Moffets. Com."

In addition to copying the June 20 roll, Anderson copied into his Muster Book all of the remarks on the mustering-out roll and noted all the differences in the two rosters. Names spelled differently on the June 20 roll: Capt. Jacob M. Early; 1st Sgt. Zaccariah Muligien (Zachh. Muligin in one column); 4th Sgt. W. M. Neal; and Pvts. 9, John T. Stewart; 14, L. D. Matheney (Matheney in one column); 17, G. B. Fanchien; 21, Montgomery Worrie; and 22, John C. Worrie.

States for the period herein mentioned; that the "Remarks" set opposite the names of each Officer and soldier, are accurate and just, and that the Recapitulation exhibits, in every particular, the true state of the company.

Columns 4 through 8, omitted here, show that the company was enrolled June 16, 1832, for 90 days, with pay due each man from the date of organization. The seventh column, "Names present," lists all company members on duty at the muster-out except the last four on the roll above; see the bracketed comments in the "Remarks." In the eighth column all are marked from Jackson County, except John Delaplain, Pvt. 9, from Randolph. The Recapitulation, also omitted, gives the total company strength as fifty-two and shows four absentees.

The following names are given as they appear in the seventh column: 1st Corp. Benninger Boon and Privts. 1, David Burkley; 32, Hezekiah Teague; and 34, Gilbert Vote. No other variations were noted.

Original not located; this copy is from John Wentworth, "Fort Dearborn. . . . [Appendix] H., Chicago's Early Defenders," Fergus' Historical Series, No. 16 (Chicago, 1881), 64-65.

In a brief introductory paragraph dated Oct. 17, 1879, Wentworth stated that a copy of this roll, made from the original, had been presented to him by a friend. He went on to explain that he believed "the paper was drawn up by Colonel Richard J. Hamilton," but he did not identify the paper. Presumably he meant the original roll, although he may have been referring merely to the copy.

Other temporary companies organized at Chicago are frequently mentioned by Chicago historians. For example, the group of volunteer horsemen under Jesse B. Browne and Richard J. Hamilton, which included men from Kercheval's company as well as Du Page County men, is referred to as Captain Browne's company. Similarly, two other scouting parties led by Jean Baptiste Beaubien and Robert A. Kinzie are called "companies." On the service of these groups, see Alfred T. Andreas, History of Chicago . . . (Chicago, 1884-1886), I: 268-71. The National Archives has been unable to locate rosters for any of these four so-called companies—Kercheval's, Browne's, Beaubien's, and Kinzie's.

Special legislation by Congress would have been necessary to pay these soldiers since they were neither called into service by Governor Reynolds nor regularly enrolled and discharged by an officer of the U.S. Army. The four companies (from the area then in Cook County) that were known as Bailey's Battalion are in the same category, but they, at least, did serve long enough to qualify for bounty land warrants under the Act of March 3, 1855. Although no official rolls have been located, it seems likely that some of the men who served only in the units commanded by Kercheval, Browne, Beaubien, or Kinzie also received bounty land warrants. See the note on the roll of Captain Hogan's company, Bailey's Battalion, for a list of ten Cook County men not in Hogan's company to whom warrants were issued. Of these, Christopher Shadaker (or Shedaker) and George W. Dole served in Kercheval's company. Robert A. Kinzie and Jean Baptiste (or John B.) Beaubien were "captains" of two other Chicago companies. Presumably the other six men—Robert Robinson, Mark Beaubien, Joseph Meesham (?), Timothy Smith, Thomas H. Allinson, and Shabbona (or Shabnay)—served with Kinzie, Beaubien, or Browne. Shabbona also served later with the Potawatomi company under General Atkinson's command, but no service record except that postulated here has been found for any of the other nine.

I Certify on honor that the above Muster roll exhibits a true Statement of the Company of Illinois Mounted Volenteer rangers under my command, mustered out of the Service of the United States at bellville St Clair County Illinois this 2nd day of August 1832

Given from under my hand this 2nd day of August 1832

Solomon Miller Captain Commanding Company

[ANS] I do hereby certify and state on honor; that said company commanded by capt. Miller was organized under my order, called into Service by my order, founded on the requisition made on me by Brigadier Genl. Atkinson of the date of 29th. May last, and that they were discharged as stated.

6th. Augt. 1832. John Reynolds Gov. & Com in Chief Ill mil.

P.S. This is one of those companies that ranged on the frontier as you may see such companies we[re] required by reference to the requisition on me for the militia.

6th. Augt. 1832. John Reynolds Gov. and Com. in Chief Ill. mli.

ADS, DNA, AES: "This company was in service for time stated. The terms of service is incorrectly stated on the roll. I presume it is entitled to pay for the time it served. H. Atkinson B G U.S. a[rm]y." The roll also bears the following endorsement signed "Paymaster Generals Office August the 16th. 1832": "Note—There is a discrepancy in dates relative to the service of this company which requires correction before it can be paid. The date of enrollment appears generally to have been the 27th. of April 1832, whilst Governor Reynolds' certificate above says that it was called out by him under General Atkinson's requisition of the 29th. of May last." Other endorsements include the notations: "Wright 18178," and "Reed. from War Office 16th. Augt. 1832."

The roll was addressed to "The Hon. the Secretary of the Depart. of War of U.S. Washington City" by Governor Reynolds.

The last four columns of the original roll are omitted here. They list the valuation of horses and arms of company members, the names of those present at the muster-out, and "Remarks." The only remark on the roll follows the name of No. 30, Vital Jarrot, "In service of Gov. [as] Adj Genl." All company members, including Jarrot, are marked present. The fifth column, also omitted in this transcript, gives the period of service as 98 days for those men who enrolled April 27, 66 days for those who enrolled May 30, and 59 days for Vital Jarrot, who enrolled June 5.

I certify the above Muster Roll—contains a true Statement of the Company of Illinois Mounted Volunteers Under My Command and Mustered out of the Service of the United States at Fort Horn Illinois. Given under my hand this 22d. day of June 1832

(Signed) Charles. R. Pierce Capt.

The within enrolled Company was ordered to this place by the Governor of Illinois; their Service not being required for the U. States, they are now directed to proceed to their respective Residences by order of Brig. Genl. Atkinson—Where they will be discharged

June 22d. 1832.

(Signed) Robt. Anderson Asst. Insr. Genl.

Anderson Muster Book, IHi. The "Names Present" column is omitted here; the only absentees on June 22 were Baxter B. Berry and the three men marked "absent with leave."

Ten of the above company members had served earlier in Capt. Abraham Lincoln's company of the 4th Regiment, Whiteside's Brigade: Capt. Charles R. Pierce, William Cummins, Elijah Pierce, Tavener (or Tavner) B. Anderson, Thomas Long. Vordry (or Bordry) Matthews, James Simmons, Thomas Pierce, William F. Berry, and Daniel King.

An original muster roll of Captain Pierce's company was sent to the Adjutant General's Office in Washington by Lt. Robert Anderson and was forwarded on March 25, 1833, to the Paymaster General's Office (see undated memo in DNA: AGO, microfilm copy in IHi). Presumably this roll was transferred, with the other muster rolls, to the office of the Second Auditor of the Treasury Department and thence to the General Accounting Office. In 1954 the muster rolls of this period were placed in the custody of the National Archives, which reports that no roll of this company can be found on file.

George M. Harrison, a member of Pierce's company, later described his arrival at the rendezvous in a letter to William H. Herndon (n.d., photostat in Herndon MSS in IHi). He wrote:

During the war many companies went to the Army and voluntarily offered their services, but were rejected because they were not needed: they bore their own expenses to and from, but were well supplied while there with Uncle Sam's bread and meat. The company I went with, found the army at Dixon's [Fort Wilbourn]; remained there about a week, disbanded and returned home.

This statement implies that Pierce's company was not paid even for its travel to and from the rendezvous. After the discharge of Pierce's company, Harrison joined Capt. Jacob M. Early's spy company.

Anderson Muster Book, IHi. The last column, "Remarks," is omitted here. The only two entries in that column follow the names of Pmts. 1, M. S. Trent, "Present Sick"; and 6, E. Stuart, "On duty." Column 5, also omitted, gives the period of enrollment as 20 days.

This company was raised at Beardstown. See Holmes to Atkinson, May 22, 1832, and the unsigned letter (from Enoch March ?) to the editors of the Missouri Republican [St. Louis], May 23, 1832.

The only remark on the company roll printed in Elliott, 172-73, is the entry "Sick" opposite the name of M. S. Trent. Names given more fully or with spelling variations in Elliott are as follows: Sgt. P. J. O'Connor and Pmts. 1, Martin S. Trent; 4, Joseph B. Anderson Muster Book, IHi. The first two pages of the Muster Book consist of a foreword in which Lt. Robert Anderson lists the rolls copied therein as well as most of the original rolls then (March 4, 1869) in his possession. About this "company" he makes the following statement: "Chas. B. Caldwell, Principal Chief of the Pottawatamie Indians was in the service under him were A. Robinson 2nd Chief—Wau bon e see 1st. war chief with Thirteen (13) Chiefs and Seventy eight Braves." Actually, the roll shows sixteen chiefs besides Caldwell and Robinson and the two war chiefs, "Shaw-we-nesse" and "Wau bon E see." The total "company" strength was 95. Two men on the roll may have been listed twice; see nn. 2 and 3.

<sup>1</sup> Anderson did not always clearly differentiate the Indian name and the translation. In this case the roll does not show whether the name is "Mas go—sun reflections" or "Mas go sun—reflections." A Potawatomi named Masco signed the Treaty of Oct. 20, 1832, in which he was granted $40 for a horse stolen during the Black Hawk War. He was probably this man. See Charles J. Kappler, ed., Indian Affairs: Laws and Treaties (Washington, 1904), II: 354, 355.

R. Anderson

Anderson Muster Book, III. This is by no means a complete list of the Menominee who were in U.S. service in 1832. The force raised early in June in the Prairie du Chien area by Hamilton and representatives of the Prairie du Chien Indian Agency totaled some 225 Indians, 80 or 90 Sioux, 40 Menominee, and the remainder Winnebago (Street to Clark, June 7). On June 13 Hamilton reported the size of his Indian command as 170. Some of the original force had already defected, and a party of Winnebago did not join him until after the June 16 Battle of Horseshoe Bend on the Pecatonica. All of the Indians returned home shortly after that battle except for about 25 Menominee, who served as scouts around Hamilton's home at present Wiota, Wisconsin. The Indians on the above roll—except for “Os-kash” and “Po-we-kanny”—were the remnants of Hamilton's original force. (See Hamilton to Atkinson, June 13; Dodge to Atkinson, June 18; Hamilton to Atkinson, June 24.)

On July 12 Hamilton left General Atkinson's headquarters for Green Bay, Wisconsin, with instructions to raise another force of Menominee from that area (Atkinson to Boyd, July 12). The force ultimately enrolled totaled about two hundred and was commanded by Samuel C. Stambaugh. “Os-kash” and “Po-we-kanny,” whom Anderson called war chiefs, did join Stambaugh's expedition. Oshkosh was the principal chief of the Menominee, and Po-we-kanny or “Big Soldier,” whose Indian name is variously given Poegonah, Pawakonem, Penowegonna, Pegahkenah, and Poegona, was called first war chief of the nation by the Green Bay Indian agent. See Boyd to Porter, July 23-24; Stambaugh to Boyd, Aug. 2; Reuben Gold Thwaites, “Oshkosh, Menominee Sachem,” Proceedings of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin . . . 1911 (Madison, 1912), 170-76; “William Powell's Recollections, in an Interview with Lyman C. Draper,” Proceedings of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin . . . 1912 (Madison, 1913), 146-79; Collections of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, XXI (Index to Volumes I-XX): 40, 406.

In addition to these two Menominee forces, another large group served as a guard company for the Green Bay settlement (Stambaugh to Porter, June 7).

AD, III: Stevens Coll. The entire return is in the handwriting of James Semple. Two blank columns, headed "Wagon master" and "Waggoners," have been omitted from this transcript.

White's company, later attached to the Odd Battalion, joined the brigade about May 1; see n. 6 of the May 5 rank roll of Whiteside's Brigade. However, the column totals giving the number of captains and 1st and 2d lieutenants should read "34."

talion was originally entered as 120 but was changed to 100. This total should be 1,185.

<sup>3</sup> If the individual figures as entered had been correctly added, the grand total would have been 1,631.

2 The infantry battalion of Maj. Thomas Long, attached to Whiteside's Brigade included only the companies of Capts. Seth Pratt, Jacob Ebey, and Japhet A. Ball. Pratt's company was detached from the brigade and ordered on May 18 to return to Rock Island. Thus, only two volunteer infantry companies were with the brigade after May 19 (General Orders 18 and 19, May 18 and 19). There were, however, ten companies of U.S. Infantry under Gen. Henry Atkinson's command that accompanied Whiteside's Brigade until May 22 (Atkinson to Whistler, May 18; Atkinson to Macomb and Gaines, May 23). Perhaps this figure of seven infantry captains included the Regular Army captains present with their companies.

accompanied the brigade on its march up the Rock and Kishwaukee rivers but had been detached on May 18 to remain at Dixon (General Order 17, May 18). Three days later four of the companies went from Dixon directly to Ottawa for the protection of the settlers there and were at that place when the rest of the brigade arrived (General Order 20, May 10; Stillman to Reynolds, May 21).

1 If this figure is correct in showing the number of captains of the Odd Battalion present for duty, the roll must have been made out late on May 18 or early on May 19. James's Odd Battalion included the companies of Capts. Thomas Harrison, Daniel Price, Peter Warren, and, for a time, James White. White's company received orders on May 18 to return to Rock Island the next day (General Orders 18 and 19, May 18 and 19). Some of the officers of other units shown as absent were present at least until May 18, according to company rolls. The re-

CC, 1H1. This return was filled out on the regular printed form for army post returns. More than half of the columns were left blank on the original, and only those sections with entries have been copied in this transcript. In the last column of the original return under the heading "Remarks" is the following statement added by Lt. Albert Sidney Johnston in pencil: "Disbanded by the Governor of Illinois at Ottaway mouth of Fox River of the Illinois on the 28th May 1832."

It is impossible to reconcile many of the figures given here with information supplied by the company rolls. Although some of the officers were absent, the total number of companies of the brigade mustered out at Ottawa on May 27 and 28 was 37—7 of the 1st Regiment, 8 of the 2d, 6 of the 3d, 4 of the 4th, 3 of the Odd Battalion, 3 of the Spy Battalion, 2 of the Odd Battalion of Infantry, and 4 of the 5th Regiment.

The 5th Regiment companies had not ac-

CC, IHI. This return was made out on the printed form used for army post returns. Only those sections which contain entries have been copied in this transcript.

2 The remarks begun in this column are continued at the foot of the return on the original as well as on this transcript.

3 Changes were made in the number of privates in the 1st and 2d Brigades, and

Notes on the Index

All names on the muster rolls in this volume are included in the index. Variant spellings found on the rolls and in secondary sources are enclosed in parentheses after the main entry, which is the preferred spelling.

The index also includes names of the counties in which the companies were enrolled as well as most of the substantive information on the rolls. Since notations about rations and the loss of horses appear on almost every roll, that kind of information has not been indexed. Other property losses are itemized under the entry "Property loss reports." References to men wounded or killed are listed under "Casualties," but no attempt has been made to include those mentioned as sick.

Commissioned and noncommissioned ranks of the line (such as generals, colonels, captains, and sergeants) do not appear as subject listings, but staff positions (paymasters, quartermasters, and surgeons, for example) and archaic positions (saddlers, farriers, wagoners, etc.) do appear.

Both in 1831 and 1832, commanding officers of Regular Militia units were ordered to raise volunteers for active duty, and those volunteers were then reorganized before being sworn into United States service. A few units of the Regular Militia did serve as home guards or rangers, however, and on certification by the governor were paid for active duty. The index distinguishes between militia and volunteer organizations. Militia units are indexed under the entry "Illinois Militia" and volunteer units under the names of their commanders (for a listing of those men, see the organization chart on pages xxi-xxvi).
